Unionites Assault a Free Workman.

Violence Occurs at Burnside Shops Near Chicago; Police Disperse Mob.

Railroad Officials and Laborites Disagree As to Number Out.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Oct. 2.—Shortly after the arrival of a train from New Orleans at midnight and the disembarkation of a number of strike-breakers, one of them was killed and another seriously wounded.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Statements issued tonight by railroad officials and union leaders who are directing the strike of shop employees on the Harriman railroads, including the Illinois Central, still showed a wide variance in estimates of the number of men involved.

According to Julius Kruttschnitt, director of operation of the Harriman lines, but 4000 men left their work on the Union Pacific lines.

J. A. Franklin, international president of boilermakers, was equally positive in his assertion that 20,000 or more are out.

There is a closer agreement between the estimates of the number of Illinois Central strikers. W. L. Parks, general manager, estimated that 65 per cent. struck. Union officials claim the total is close to 90 per cent.

"There were only 7000 shopmen who are members of the federation on the 13,000 miles of the Union Pacific," said Mr. Kruttschnitt. "Of this number at least 3000 remained at work and we have applications from others who are anxious to go back to work."

There was but one report of significant violence during the day. Police were called in to quell a disturbance at the Burnside shops here early today. Reports from other points indicate that the strikers are quiet and orderly.

There was no outbreak when the men quit work at Burnside tonight. A police line had been established 200 feet from the plant, and none of the union men attempted to go beyond it.

It is reported that 200 strike-breakers have been enlisted at the Burnside shops and that others will be brought in tomorrow. The railroad officials say they are receiving applications for every place left vacant and that many men laid off at various places shortly before the strike are willing to return to work.

The violence which broke out today among the striking employees of the Illinois Central Railroad shops at Burnside resulted in a riot call being sent to the Kensington police station. John Chomas, a carpenter who declined to walk out with the other men, was assaulted by four union pickets as he was going to work. He was struck on the head with a brick and immediately was surrounded by a crowd of nearly a hundred strikers.

Chomas was rescued by a patrol wagon filled with police, who arrived on the scene as another attack on the man was being made. He escaped with slight injuries. The union pickets fled when they saw the police coming.

Two hundred strike-breakers were smuggled into the car shops at Burnside under cover of darkness, according to Illinois Central officials. They also declare that 100 strikers have quietly returned to work since Saturday.

The statement was made that 800 of the 3000 shopmen employed at Burnside are at work today, and that this number is being augmented hourly. This statement was made by Special Agent Welch of the railroad, who is assisting the police in protecting property of the company.

A score or more of pickets were on duty early today. They worked industriously in their efforts to persuade non-union men to leave their posts, but with varying success.

The union labor leaders declared today that no strike-breakers had been sent to the shops and that none of their men had returned.

The gathering of former employees dispersed when the hour for beginning work had passed. Most of them went home, and, to all outside appearances, left the usual Monday morning condition within the stockades. The men declared that fewer than 300 men were at work, many of these former employees, old and infirm, and nearing the pension mark, who had been given permission by the unions to remain at work.

As a result of the attack on Chomas, a dead line was established at the Belt Line tracks, which almost entirely enclose the works at the distance of a city block. The line was guarded by city policemen.

Charges that a squad of nearly 100 city policemen were on guard at the stockade, prepared to remain there, were made by strikers. This was denied at police headquarters. Rev. M. Woulf, at an early meeting at St. Joachim's Church, warned the strikers against violence and advised them to seek mediation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MALTA, Oct. 2, 7 p.m.—Word just received from Tripoli says that Arabs and Turks are intrenched behind the city. Sixty thousand Arabs, said to be armed with Mauser rifles, held a strong position fifty miles behind the town in a country which is an excellent natural stronghold.

An advance guard is stationed twenty miles from Tripoli.

The Turkish garrison has left the forts.

Confusion occurred at the quarantine station here early today when the British steamer Castlegarth entered the harbor in the height of a severe gale, crowded with 1200 Maltese refugees from Tripoli. Nearly all the refugees were faint from hunger and thirst. Once ashore, they were promptly relieved.

The members of the Maltese colony in Tripoli went aboard the Castlegarth Friday morning, but the vessel did not leave Tripoli until 11 o'clock Saturday night. Up to that time Italians had not bombarded the city or landed troops.

The Italian Consul and other officials boarded the Italian flagship. The consuls of the other powers went on board an English vessel. Telegraph operators and a few Europeans remained in Tripoli, being accommodated at the British Consulate.

Seven refugees aboard the Castlegarth went insane from their sufferings. Most of the fugitives are penniless. Several of the Americans aboard the steamer report Arabs and Turks in Tripoli are on bad terms. The Arabs are suspicious of the Turks, fearing that the country is about to be sold. Both are ready to fight.

TURKS ARE AROUSED TO WARLIKE ACTIVITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Chronicle sends the following dispatch:

"The Sultan passes many hours praying at shrines. He grants frequent audiences to the German Ambassador. I am assured that at least the Ambassador has proposed, on the Emperor's advice, that Turkey cede Tripoli to Italy, the Emperor undertaking to see that Turkey shall receive adequate compensation.

"The United States, it is understood, is using its utmost influence to bring about a cessation of hostilities, and Russia gives repeated assurances that she will not allow complications to arise in the Balkans.

"A special commission has been formed to recruits volunteers for the country's defense. From all parts of Servia and Montenegro great military activity is reported. Turkish reinforcements have been sent to Janina.

"Turkey sent her final note to the powers last night, appealing for friendly intervention. If the response is unfavorable, orders will be given immediately to begin military operations. A high Turkish official declared that Turkey had not yet begun hostilities, in spite of Italy's aggression.

"A mob attacked the Italian Consulate at Salonika today. The Consulate was seriously damaged, although soldiers prevented it being wrecked. The men then surrounded the former Sultan's villa and fired revolvers at the windows.

"The authorities are taking a census of the Italians in Constantinople and an inventory of their property. If the war continues, Italian convents and all other property will be confiscated.

"The murder of a girl in a cafe last night caused rioting. That is the serious aspect here. Any untoward incident stirs the people to excitement. The police, however, are handling the crowds well.

"The Turkish warships in the Dardanelles are the battleships Hamidane, Habeross, Terguit, Heis, the cruiser Medjidieh and the destroyers Tir-I-Damu, Seguian, Mugbenti, Hidmet and Zadiguiar. The fleet has anchored off Nagara."

MOBILIZATION OF TURKISH TROOPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—Mobilization is being hurried. Turkish troops have been sent to Macedonia and along the Greek frontier. In spite of the government's pacific assurances, the fear persists that if the war with Italy is prolonged, a frontier incident will occur which will unavoidably precipitate a Turco-Greek war.

It might happen that public opinion will force the government to seek in a war with the Balkans, compensations for its humiliation in failing to resist the aggression of Italy in Tripoli.

Numerous telegrams reaching the Porte from the provinces describe feeling there as running high. The people are clamoring for resistance and reprisals against the Italians.

TURKEY MAY YIELD TO GERMAN MEDIATION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A correspondent at Malta telegraphs today:

"I am informed by one of the crew of the British cruiser Aboukir, which has arrived here, that the vessel received a wireless dispatch stating that Tripoli had been occupied by the Italians."

A dispatch to Lloyds from Corfu says two Turkish torpedo-boats were sunk and a third captured off Gumenitza, near Prevesa, by the patrolling Italian fleet.

A dispatch from Rome says a Turkish transport has been captured by Italian war boats, which arrived today at Taranto, with ten Turkish officers and 180 soldiers as prisoners.

The dispatch adds that two divisions of the Italian fleet have sailed, one for Salonikt and the other for Smyrna.

The strict Italian censorship is keeping the world in the dark in regard to the progress of events of the Mediterranean. From Italy itself, Tripoli, Turkey, and the seas where the Italian navy is operating, conflicting reports continue to come in.

One cablegram announced definitely that Tripoli had been bombarded and occupied. Another said that no attack on the city had been made. Only one thing is certain, and that is that the Italians had not attacked the town up to midnight Saturday, for had they done so their guns would have been heard on the steamer Castle Zarth, which left Tripoli shortly before that hour and arrived at Malta this morning.

Turkish officials here confirm the news dispatches that forts had been destroyed and 1400 troops landed, while Italy gives an emphatic denial of the report, saying the Italian government had no intention of resorting to acts against the territorial status of Turkey in Europe. It is believed that what actually happened was that the Turkish vessels in the vicinity were scattered and the forts destroyed to prevent raids on the Italian coast shipping. One cable says that the Turkish operators deserted the place as soon as the bombardment was begun.

SHORT AND BLOODLESS IS THE WAR OUTLOOK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 2.—From present appearances, the Turkish-Italian War promises to be the shortest and most bloodless war in history. Thus far its distinguishing characteristic has been the absence of fighting, and with Germany acting as peacemaker, it may end before fighting takes place.

It is concluded that no mediation will be accepted by Italy until she has accomplished the military occupation of the Tripolitan coast. After that, negotiations will be much easier, and are not unlikely to be successful if Turkey will accept a money indemnity, for Italy to establish herself in Tripoli as Great Britain did in Egypt.

The news filtering in is negative, finally that Tripoli has not been bombarded and is not likely to be, if the Turks do not oppose the landing. War like operations are confined to the blockade and the capture of either side of a few small vessels.

It is now admitted from the Turkish side that Prevesa, in European Turkey, is not occupied. Italy's announcement that she has no intention to carry the war into European Tur-

Son of the President of the Pennsylvania Railway Possesses Plenty of Money of His Own—Her Children Get What She Loses by the Step.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Beautiful Mrs. Archibald Montgomery McCrea, as she is now, who has just married the son of James McCrea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is poorer personally by $995,000 because of the wedding.

Mrs. McCrea was Mrs. David Dunlop, Sr., wife of a wealthy tobacco manufacturer of Petersburg, Va. Mr. Dunlop died three years ago, leaving a fortune of $3,000,000, one-third of which he bequeathed his widow on condition that she should not marry again. The will provided that should she remarry she should retain only $5000 of the $1,000,000, the forfeited portion going to her four little daughters in addition to the $1,000,000 that they had already inherited from their father.

As Mrs. McCrea, however, the formerly much-sought widow has only exchanged one million for more millions. Mr. McCrea is president of the Union Springs Manufacturing Company at Pittsburgh and is a man of wealth in his own right.

WRONG MAN, SIMILAR NAME.

Health Inspector at Home With His Family While Doctor Using His Card Is Arrested.

A curious confusion of names was brought to light at police headquarters yesterday morning when Dr. J. J. O'Brien a physician was taken to the Police Court to answer to the charge of running an automobile while in an intoxicated condition.

The doctor had been arrested early in the morning by Policeman Bonar after he had smashed an automobile belonging to E. H. Hareford of the Alhambra apartment-house.

When the case was ready for trial friends interceded in his behalf and upon offering to pay for all damage done, the doctor was allowed to go.

Later J. J. O'Brien, who is not a physician, but who is one of the trusted inspectors of the Health Department, declared that the man under arrest had wrongfully used the name of the inspector, and disclaimed all knowledge of either the physician or the disgraceful incident of the night previous.

After the real inspector with the same name had shown his innocence, he declared his intention of going after the man who had brought discredit to the name of O'Brien.

Inspector O'Brien was not away from his home at the time in question, and does not own or drive an automobile, and was therefore naturally anxious to be set right in the case. He was certainly the victim of an unfortunate confusion of names. The Times regrets that it, with other newspapers, referred to the doctor as a "health inspector."

It was given out at the Police Station that the doctor was a city health inspector and it was so printed in the newspapers

"GIVE US OUR DEAD" IS AUSTIN'S SOLE CRY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUSTIN (Pa.) Oct. 2.—Twenty-four known dead, eighty-six missing and believed to be buried beneath the debris, is the official census tonight of Austin's loss of life in the flood of Saturday. It is conceded, however, that several visitors were in town that day and undoubtedly perished. Including them and allowing for errors in compilation, the total dead probably will reach 150.

Twenty-one of the twenty-four bodies recovered have been indentified and of the missing hope is entertained that some may be accounted for.

TO RECOVER BODIES.

The problem is to recover the dead from the thousands of tons of debris choking the narrow valley. To do so before it becomes necessary to clear the ruins and save the living from an epidemic an army of laborers must reach the town within the next thirty-six hours, officials say. Otherwise the torch may transform the wreckage into a pyre.

The single wire between Austin and the outside world today carried an urgent plea for workmen to Buffalo, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Encouraging responses are hoped for early tomorrow.

"Give us our dead," is Austin's cry.

Austin stands to a man against the suggestion that it may be necessary to put the torch to her ruins. Feeling runs high and should the health authorities be forced to this extremity there is no foretelling the result. The Pennsylvania State constabulary holds the town, however, and the troopers will remain here until Health Commissioner Dixon gives the word to go.

FLOOD-SWEPT VALLEY.

The flood-swept valley offers no shelter for the laborers tomorrow and unless they come in bunk cars they cannot be cared for.

Food and clothing reached Austin in carload lots and there was enough to eat for all.

Across the street from the morgue life insurance companies nailed their shingles to a tree near a small shack today, topping them with a sign "Inquire within." A file of weeping women took turns at recording their claims.

A call for aid came from flood-swept Costello, three miles below. Conditions there parallel the situation here, the distinction being that that town is much smaller and less damaged than Austin, while the death list at Costello remains at two. It is believed that all others escaped.

Eight men, charged with looting the ruins, were arraigned tonight before Magistrate Johnson and committed to the Coundersport Jail for grand jury action.

A little girl entered a wrecked dwelling and left with jewelry valued at several hundred dollars. She was stopped and relieved of her loot by the police.

ITALY WOULD CHEER PEACE.

Government Denies Plan for European War.

Pope Worried But Finds the Struggle Justifiable.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Public interest here centers in the action of the powers looking to peace. Italy will welcome any steps directed toward clearing up its position in the Mediterranean, at the same time giving assurances as to the future of the Ottoman empire in Europe.

It is not true that the government in Rome has carried on, or intends to carry on, a war in Europe. No violation of Albanian soil has taken place. The Duke of the Abruzzi's acts at sea are aimed, it is declared, at saving the Italian coast shipping from the danger of Turkish onslaughts.

Wild rumors float on every wind. Such news as comes from Tripoli shows that Italy is disposed to hold off until all efforts to make peaceful arrangements have been made. Indignation over the comments of the British and American press is increasing. Feeling against the British is especially strong because of the fact that Italy, alone among the continental powers, stood by England through the dark days of the Boer war.

POPULAR ENTHUSIASM.

Some of the English correspondents here report that the war is unpopular. The fact is that extraordinary scenes of popular enthusiasm may be witnessed at any railway station or point of departure of troops, both here and in the provinces. Columns of soldiers passing in the streets are showered with roses. The politicians who have united with the Socialists in trying to make a diversion have met with complete failure.

Troops are arriving by the trainload from the north and tented cities are springing up in the parks. The newspapers issue frequent extras, but they contain next to no news. In spite of that, they are snapped up by the public.

Cardinal Cotti, prefect of the propaganda, says he has not received definite news from the Capuchin missionaries in Tripoli and Cyrenaica. Some have taken refuge on steamers, but others, especially those in Derna and Bengazi, are still at their posts. Their lives and the church property are safeguarded, he says, and he has no fear of massacres. Still, the lack of news causes a feeling of apprehension, which is shared by the Pope, who prays for the cessation of the war. He hopes that Turkey will realize the futility of resistance, which would be fatal to Turko-Vatican relations.

POPE FINDS WAR JUSTIFIED.

Mgr. Sordi, apostolic delegate in Constantinople, has cabled, assuring the Pope that the missionaries are protected by the European powers. No similar reassuring communication has reached the Vatican from the Turkish government. As Turkey has not been represented diplomatically at the Holy See since the rupture of Italo-Turkish relations by the declaration of war, the government in Constantinople indirectly suggested to the Vatican that it would accredit a resident diplomatic agent to the Holy See. The proposal was rejected by the Pope as likely to be misconstrued.

Moreover, the Pope, although he disapproves war for humanitarian reasons, considers the Italian occupation of Tripoli is fully justified. His personal sympathies are decidedly Italian and he is convinced that the step will benefit civilization and put a stop to slave dealing.

In referring to the Tripolitan crisis the Pope recalled the battle of Lepanto, the 340th anniversary of which occurs October 7. He hopes the modern Italians would cause history to repeat itself and contribute to the triumph of Christianity over the infidels. He instructed Cardinal Joseph Prisco to officiate at yesterday's traditional religious ceremony at Naples, where the sea was blessed in commemoration of Lepanto. Many bluejackets attended the services and knelt during the blessing, which ceremony was performed by four priests. The Cardinal delivered a sermon in which he exhorted the people to obedience and duty, saying that Italy was engaged in a holy war, like that at the time of the crusades.

LEPANTO SERVICES.

The Lepanto thanksgiving services held in the churches of Rome were practically changed into prayers for the victory of Italy. The Catholics of Italy are most favorably disposed toward the occupation of Tripoli, and their attitude has helped to overcome the isolated opposition of the radicals. For the first time since 1870 the Vatican approves an Italian policy.

The battle of Lepanto was fought October 7, 1571, in the Gulf of Lepanto, near its juncture with the Gulf of Patras, between the combined fleets of Venice, Spain and the Papal States, and a Turkish armada. There were about 300 vessels on each side, the allied forces being commanded by Don John of Austria and the Turks by Ali Pasha. The battle resulted in a victory for the Christians, of whom about 8000 were killed. The Turkish loss was estimated at 30,000. About 12,000 Christian galley slaves were liberated by the victory, which put an end to Turkish naval power in the Mediterranean. The cause of the war was the determination of Turkey to wrest Cyprus from Venice. To resist that effort Venice and other States formed what was known as the Holy League.

WAITING ON EUROPE.

United States Will Not Proclaim Neutrality Until Assured That a State of War Really Exists.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The State Department has decided to await the action of European nations more directly interested than the United States in the war between Italy and Turkey before issuing a neutrality proclamation.

The document has been prepared, but a restraining factor is found in the peculiar attitude of the Turkish government. It being understood that the Porte has decided not to offer any resistance to the Italian campaign against Tripoli, the department is not sure that a state of war actually exists.

The officials are in no hurry to issue this proclamation, for a neutrality proclamation does not affect the international status of the belligerents in any way, as there is no direct communication between the United States and Tripoli. It is intended solely as a warning and protection for merchants and shipmasters.

France, on September 30, issued the usual proclamation announcing France's intention to maintain strict neutrality. The belligerents are given notice that they cannot enter or sojourn in French ports and French citizens are warned that they must refrain from any act of hostility.

No action has been taken on suggestions that the United States offer mediation between Turkey and Italy under article No. 3 of The Hague treaty. It was felt that some European power or a concert of powers should make this move and it was suspected that Germany was actually taking soundings.

The Italian charge here is expected to communicate to the State Department the text of Italy's side of the war.

EGYPTIANS INDIGNANT.

Ottomans There Want the Turks to Fight to the Last Ditch and Defeat Italy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CAIRO (Egypt) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Italy's action in declaring war on Turkey has provoked great indignation among the Ottomans, who demand the continuation of hostilities without regard to consequences. Cooler heads recommend calmness and resignation, fearing that a general conflagration will lead to the dissolution of Turkey. The Tripolitans are determined to fight for every inch. They hope that the Senoussis from the South will join them.

Moslems here are upset, but are exercising self-restraint. Much fear is expressed for the Turkish fleet on the Syrian coast, lest it be waylaid by Italian cruisers.

TRIPOLI IS CALM BEFORE THE STORM.

ROME, Oct. 2.—The Greek police at Piraeus today seized a sixteen-ton vessel loaded with arms and ammunition destined for the Tripolitan coast.

A long special dispatch from Tripoli describes picturesquely the appearance of the city "on the eve of Italian occupation." The native population, it appears, is taking the course of events with stolid indifference, although the foreign population has largely fled and most of the business section of the city is closed up in view of the danger of serious damage from bombardment. The dispatch says:

"The landscape is serene. One sees a party of big Turks lolling on the ramparts half hidden by the shade of thick palms. They have hoisted a red flag, which flaunts with a half-hearted air of defiance over the red fortifications. Close by the flag is a guardian sentinel, while behind the parapets one sees a group of soldiers watching from the summit of the castle. They are not worried or nervous. Their air is one of profound indifference. Gendarmes stand idle in the doorways, observing with characteristic oriental carelessness the passing of little groups of frightened foreign traders, their arms filled with parcels. Women with infants in their arms are at the heels of the men. Patrols of soldiers pass gravely along the nearly deserted streets. The shops are closed and the windows barred. Hundreds of houses have been vacated. Terror has seized the inhabitants. All the terraces are empty except that at the Italian consulate, which is occupied by correspondents. Above the hospital conducted by Italian nurses waves a Red Cross flag. A bold monk, distinguished by his long flowing beard, has climbed to the top of the bell tower of the Italian monastery and hoisted the German flag.

"The few remaining Italians await impatiently the first firing. The local batteries are deserted. At sea a flock of frightened sailing boats is scurrying out of the harbor.

"This evening the coffee houses in the Arab quarter are opening, and the priests appearing on the small balconies of the minarets, invited the people to prayer. Crowds of Arabs gathered at different points and read the posted notice in Turkish, which says:

"'The Italian government made an unjust demand on Turkey, asking her to give up Tripoli. The Turkish Cabinet, together with the Parliament, is preparing a definite answer. Meanwhile, adjure the population to remain quiet and respect the Italians.'"

BOMBARDMENT OF TRIPOLI WILL BEGIN TOMORROW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ON BOARD ITALIAN WARSHIP OFF TRIPOLI, Sunday, Oct. 1, (1 P.M.) By way of Syracuse, Sicily, Oct. 2.—No bombardment of Tripoli has yet taken place. The Italian consul is authority for the statement that the bombardment will begin three days after the notification, which was given Saturday.

Correspondents are under the strictest censorship, and are not permitted to disclose the names of the blockading ships or the military movement.

Of all the Italian colony in Tripoli, there remains only two monks and two nuns who are caring for invalids in the hospitals. Turkish soldiers guard the Italian consulate and Italian business houses. When the last Italian colonists on Saturday left the consulate, where they had spent the night under protection of the German flag, the streets were strangely lined with Turkish troops. Crowds of natives had gathered and hooted and jeered angrily. There were evidences of violent rage on the part of the Arabs, and the soldiers prevented a possible massacre. The German consul escorted the refugees to the boats.

Immediately after the refugees left the shore, a boat from one of the cruisers took ashore an officer, who notified the authorities that the blockade would begin at noon and the bombardment three days later.

For Peace.

BRITAIN IS OPTIMISTIC ON SPEEDY END OF WAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Subdued optimism reigns at the Foreign Office as the result of the efforts of the neutral powers to bring the Italo-Turkish War to a quick end. Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Minister, is literally bombarded with advice, it appears, from pacific individuals and societies, while caustic comment is reaching him on the score of his failure to take steps to avert hostilities a month ago, when he was informed of the intention of the Italian government. Touching the whole situation Sir Edward maintains complete reserve.

"You may say, however," said an official at the Foreign Office today, "that England stands for peace, and has not lost hope even yet, that a serious war will be prevented.

"Certain developments suggest that Anglo-German antagonisms may be foregone long enough to dissipate the prevailing menace. Sir Edward Grey and Herr Kiderlen-Woechter, the German Foreign Secretary, have exchanged views. Both realize that if the powers can stop the war on terms that will satisfy Italy in Tripoli and guarantee the integrity of Turkey in Europe they will achieve a work of incalculable benefit to all the nations concerned."

Dispatches from British representatives in the Balkans indicate that not one Balkan State, with the possible exception of Montenegro, is inclined to extend the war. On the contrary, Bulgaria, Servia and Greece are strictly avoiding any action that might arouse the apprehensions of Turkey.

A telgram from King Ferdinand of Bulgaria to a leading member of the British Parliament declares that the Balkans are solidly in favor of peace.

ITALY UNCONCERNED BY FOREIGN CRITICISM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHIASSO (Switzerland) Oct. 2.—Advices emanating from official circles in Rome say reports that the powers are contemplating intervention in the war between Italy and Turkey are premature.

It is added that a majority of the powers, when advised that war had been declared, notified Italy they would observe neutrality.

It is said that Great Britain and Germany, through their ambassadors at Constantinople, are sounding the Turkish government on a compromise proposition, but that intervention by the powers will be impossible of accomplishment until the occupation of Tripoli by Italy has been announced.

From information received in Rome, doubt has arisen there as to the accuracy of the report that the entire Turkish fleet has entered the Dardanelles, and it is assumed the report was sent abroad to deceive the Italians, the idea of the Turks being to cause them to relax their vigilance and cease their chase not yet reached a warships that have not yet reached a zone of safety.

Other reports from Rome indicate that the Italian government circles are entirely indifferent as to what is termed "the hostile and perhaps interested adverse comment of certain newspapers" on Italy's movement in the Adriatic Sea against Turkey.

GUERRILLA WARFARE TO HARASS ITALIANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—It was stated at the Foreign office this evening that, although no offer of mediation had been made, the German Ambassador at Constantinople already was working actively at the Turkish capital trying to effect a peaceful settlement between Italy and Turkey.

The papers print columns of reports of Turco-Italian fighting, but without confirmation of any of them except that of the encounter between the Italian squadron and the Turkish torpedo boat destroyers off Prevesa. All others are believed to be incorrect.

According to official information, the Italian landing at Tripoli has been delayed by bad weather. The German Ambassador at Constantinople presented yesterday the Emperor's telegraphic answer to the Sultan's appeal for intervention. Beyond the statement that the Sultan was pleased no details can be ascertained.

The reports from Constantinople that the Ambassador also presented Italian proposals for peace are untrue, or rather, according to the Foreign Office, premature, indicating that such proposals are expected as soon as the occupation of the Tripolitan coast has been effected.

Enever Bey, the hero of the Young Turks revolution, who is the Turkish military attache here, before departing for Constantinople, told friends he expected to be sent to Tripoli by way of Egypt to organize resistance in the interior.

Enever Bey, who has Arab blood in his veins, counts on the moral support of the Arabs, but his chief reliance will be the Nomads, whose fanaticism and bravery fit them for guerrilla.

It is semi-officially announced Germany is not considering the dispatch of a warship to the Mediterranean and this is taken as a further indication the government expects the hostilities to be short.

HOLD WEBSTER FOR MURDER.

Revive and Give the News to the Correspondents.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DIXON (Ill.) Oct. 2.—A Coroner's jury at Polo, Ill., today ordered Dr. Harry Elgin Webster, held in the Ogle County Jail in Oregon, Ill., without bail on the charge of murdering his second wife, Bessie Kent Webster.

Webster did not appear at the inquest in Polo. Members of the Coroner's jury were taken in automobiles to the jail in Oregon, where Webster acknowledged his confession made in Chicago.

Mathias Meyers was the first witness, and told of finding the body on Friday when he and his wife were on a putting expedition. Mrs. Meyers corroborated the testimony of her husband.

Sheriff Delaney, who was present at the time of the confession, gave the history of the crime and confession and exhibited to the jurors an ordinary pocket knife, which he said Dr. Webster had given him with the information that it was the weapon with which he had killed the woman.

FOR THE TRIAL.

State's Attorney Emerson is rushing preparations for the trial and hopes to have an indictment returned by the regular grand jury which is now in session.

Hazel and Rilla Webster, sisters of Dr. Webster, went through a trying experience on Saturday night.

The girls are night operators in the local telephone office, and while attending to their duties, Hazel, the younger of the two, heard a message going over the wire from the Dixon authorities to the Chicago police:

"The body found here has been positively identified as that of Mrs. Webster," said a man's voice. "Arrest Webster and hold him."

"All right," answered the desk sergeant at the Chicago avenue Police Station.

STUNNED BY SHOCK.

Rilla, stunned by the shock, turned from the switchboard in time to catch her sister, who had collopsed. The elder sister called for help and sent her little sister home. Then she straightened out the tangle of wires and went back to her post.

Calls poured in from every direction. Newspaper correspondents were demanding connections with their offices in Chicago, and the residents of Dixon put in many calls.

Frequently the girl was asked for news of the murder. She replied courteously to all questions, and stuck to her work until 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

SEARCH FOR AUTOISTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—The police are searching for the occupants of a mysterious yellow automobile, which was occupied by two men and two women, said to be from Chicago, today, before the body of Mrs. Bessie Kent Webster was found near Dixon, stabbed to death by her husband, Dr. Henry E. Webster.

The day after the alleged murder, the automobile was seen in Dixon, but one of the women seen the day before, was missing.

One of the men in the machine was addressed as "Doctor," according to employees of a garage.

Police Capt. Beier had copies made of Dr. Webster's 10,000-word confession and forwarded them to the authorities at Oregon, Ill.

They had gone out to take charge of the outfit of Juan Moreno, who was found dead in his camp in that section. It is presumed he was poisoned with strychnine placed in his flour. Four died last night and the other two this morning. They were Teodoro Moreno, Pedro Maena, Mato Hueles, Pancho Moreno, Florien Guerra and Ignacio Bravo.

NEW YORKERS MARRIED.

Bride From San Diego and Groom in California a Few Months Wed in Woodland.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WOODLAND, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Albert Huntington Wells, aged 26, of New York, and Miss Margaret Strachan, aged 25, also of New York, were married by the Rev. C. M. Streetor here Saturday, and left on an afternoon train for San Francisco. They expect to return to New York, where their love affair began some time ago.

The bride has been visiting in San Diego for several months. The groom has been in the State for two or three months. Just why they came all the way to Woodland to get married was not disclosed during their brief conversation with the minister who performed the ceremony. They made every endeavor to keep the wedding secret and did so until today.

Capt. Hains Forced to Spend Another Night in Sing Sing Because of Delay in Mail.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Capt. Peter Hains, Jr., was still a prisoner in Sing Sing tonight. His pardon, it was said, had been mailed from Albany about noon, but it did not reach the prison by the last delivery. This failure cut off all chance of release in the night.

Gen. Hains, father of Capt. Hains, reached the prison at 5:30 this afternoon, having spent the day in Albany. He was disappointed at the non-arrival of the pardon and said he had expected to take his son home with him. When the last mail yielded nothing he went to the Wesoka Hotel, where he gave directions to be called in the morning at 5:30 o'clock.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY DIES IN STREET.

GALLANT SAILOR PASSES AWAY IN NEW YORK.

Acquaintance After Greeting Naval Hero Remarks on Apparent Excellent Health of Man Stricken Moment Afterward—Washington Is Shocked.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Unrecognized by a single person in the curious throng that rushed to his aid, Rear-Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, U.S.N., retired, fell dead in front of the Berkeley Lyceum on West Forty-fourth street today. The death of this notable figure in naval history of the nation was for the moment that of an unknown man in a strange crowd.

The admiral's sudden death is attributed to cerebral hemorrhage, which attacked him shortly after he, with Mrs. Schley, reached New York this morning from a visit to Mount Clako and had called at the New York Yacht Club for his mail.

As the admiral was walking through West Forty-fourth street, a passer-by who saw him stagger grasped his arm and tried to support him. Despite the stranger's service the admiral fell helpless to the street and a physician who pressed his way through the crowd that quickly gathered, pronounced him dead. There was a gash over his right eye, where his forehead struck the sidewalk.

SKULL FRACTURED.

A slight fracture of the frontal bone had ensued, but surgeons who examined the body, expressed disbelief that this injury in any way contributed to his death. His identity was quickly established by letters and papers found in his pockets, and some inscription in his gold watch, which had been presented to the admiral by his native State of Maryland, "For his heroism and memorable services in rescuing Lieut. A. W. Greeley, U.S.A., and six comrades from death at Cape Sabine, in the Arctic region on July 22, 1884."

The spot where Admiral Schley died is in the very center of New York's club district and members of organizations whose houses are thickly clustered there soon penetrated the throng and confirmed the identification of the famous commander who figured so prominently in the naval engagement of 1898 at Santiago.

The body was taken to the nearest police station and reverently covered while the family and friends were notified.

After the usual formalities had been observed, permission was given for the removal of the body to the Hotel Algonquin, where Admiral Schley made his home while here.

HEADS BARED.

As the body was borne forth to the waiting coveyance, the throng about the station stood with bare heads. Bluejackets from the Brooklyn navy yard, who had been summoned, furnished an escort, their commander being Recruiting Officer C. M. Devalen, who was with Admiral Schley on the cruiser Brooklyn at the battle of Santiago. One of the admiral's sons, Dr. Winfield Scott Schley, Jr., reached the scene before the body was removed. A message conveying the sad news to the admiral's other son, Capt. T. F. Schley, at Ft. Logan, Denver, was despatched.

Arrangements for the funeral were completed tonight. It was announced that the admiral's body would be taken tomorrow to Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad and that services would be held at his late home in the national capital. Burial will be in Arlington cemetery.

WASHINGTON IS SHOCKED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Navy Department will arrange for a naval funeral for Admiral Schley if his relatives indicate such a desire.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer will send official messages of condolence to the widow and to Capt. Thomas F. Schley, U.S.A., at Ft. Logan, Colo., Dr. Winfield Scott Schley, another son, is on the staff of the New York City Hospital.

Admiral and Mrs. Schley lived alone in Washington. At their home caretakers were preparing for their return this evening.

When the first shock of the news of Admiral Schley's death had passed there was a general expression of regret, sympathy and condolence from the large number of officials and persons of high standing who had enjoyed the acquaintance of the gallant sailor. In the event that the family of Admiral Schley desires a military funeral for him, six retired rear admirals will be selected to act as honorary pall bearers. The wishes of the family in this connection have not been communicated to the Navy Department.

If the funeral takes place here, the admiral will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery. His grave will be in front of the historical Lee Mansion, in close proximity to the lot assigned to Admiral Dewey and the members of the Asiatic fleet and overlooking the Potomac River and the city of Washington.

POSTPONE ATTACK; HINT OF INTERVENTION.

CHIASSO (Switzerland) Oct. 2.—It is reported that on Saturday Admiral Aubrey was suddenly ordered to postpone the bombardment of Tripoli as there were signs of a possibility of reaching an understanding with Turkey through the intervention of certain powers, thus avoiding a continuation of the war.

Today's reports from the division of torpedo-boats and torpedo-boat destroyers under Vice-Admiral the Duke of the Abruzzi, describe the latter as giving the impression of being able to go without sleep or rest. His orders fall like hail without interruption, day or night, while his cruiser, the Vetter Pisani, seems to have the gift of omnipresence.

Being asked how he managed to be always on the alert, the vice-admiral replied that he had trained himself to this during his explorations of Mt. St. Elias and his attempt to reach the North Pole

Counsel for Subsidiary Company Wants Court to Enjoin Parent Concern Before Dissolution.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Charles E. Carruth, counsel for R. D. Richardson, Jr., & Co., a subsidiary of the American Tobacco Company, has filed a petition with the United States Circuit Court, asking that the American company be enjoined from interfering with the business of the Richardson company.

Mr. Carruth states that the American Tobacco Company is to be divided into three corporations, each to have almost unlimited capital and resources, and that control of these companies will remain with the majority of voting stockholders of the American Tobacco Company. He alleges that the dissolution plan has no effectual safeguards to prevent the companies created out of the elements now united from being really though secretly controlled by the same interests as at present.

DIXON KILLED BY SLIGHT FALL.

Crosses Rockies by Aero, Meets Death at Fair.

Hundred Foot Drop Fatal to Remarkable Boy.

License Number Forty-three Legacy to Others.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPOKANE, Oct. 2.—Fresh from his triumph of last Saturday, when he topped the Rocky Mountains in a flight from Helena, Cromwell Dixon, 19 years old, aviator, fell to his death from a height of about 100 feet in his initial performance of the Spokane interstate fair grounds, late today. A mere handful of spectators witnessed the accident, and thousands, who were craning their necks for a glimpse of the aviator, did not know of the tragedy, enacted just out of their range of vision.

TO THE HOSPITAL.

Dixon was removed to the Emergency Hospital on the grounds, where he died forty-five minutes after the fall.

Witnesses saw Dixon sink his planes for a turn, and it was thought a sudden gust of wind coming up through a cut in the Northern Pacific tracks immediately below him caught the planes already at an angle. Before the operator could recover himself he was plunged head first to the track. When picked up from under his wrecked machine, it was apparent his injuries were fatal. He was rushed to the hospital, but nothing could be done to save him.

LICENSE NO. 43.

Death was due to concussion of the brain and hemorrhage. Dixon held pilot's license No. 43, granted by the Aero Club of America. He learned the art of flying at Nassau Boulevard, N. J. He was born in Columbus, O., 19 years old, but recently moved to New York City, where his mother lives. Although the youngest aviator with a license, Dixon had already done some great things, his crossing of the Rocky Mountains, last Saturday, being one of his most remarkable achievements.

Dixon's body was removed to local undertaking rooms, and will be shipped to New York.

MONTANA MOURNS FATE OF YOUNG DIXON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELENA (Mont.) Oct. 2.—Cromwell Dixon, the 19-year-old aviator who was killed at Spokane today, was last week the popular idol of the crowds attending the Montana State fair here. He gave exhibitions each day, concluding Saturday, when he won a prize of $10,000 for flying across the Rocky Mountains—a feat which had never been accomplished before—and then flew back again, arriving at the fair grounds to receive the greatest ovation ever accorded any person at the State fair. Gov. Norris led Dixon to the judges' stand and proclaimed him the greatest aviator in the world. At the close of Saturday's flight Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, announced he had arranged to have a special train accompany Dixon on a transcontinental flight, which was to start from Portland Oct. 10.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The eighth annual convention of the Arizona Bankers' Association and the Arizona Good Roads Association opened here today. Prominent bankers from all parts of the country are on hand, owing to the imminence of Statehood. Among the visitors are J. M. Elliott, W. W. Woods, Newman Essick and G. S. Pickerell of Los Angeles; A. E. Edwards of Pasadena, many from San Francisco, and James P. Roach of New York.

Gov. Sloan addressed both bodies and particularly urged the bankers not to permit the present antagonism of capital to keep them out of public life, as men of their caliber are most needed now, when Arizona is facing the Statehood project. The first transcontinental national highways was discussed. Efforts are being made to have this be the southern route through New Mexico, Arizona and Southern California to Los Angeles.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The selling of marriage certificates to disorderly women and the legalizing of marriages between white and negro men and women, is alleged to be the business of the Rev. C., who was charged in the examination today by Detectives Craddock and Ackerman and Federal authorities with marrying Theodore Moore, a negro, to May White, his white wife, and Mrs. Walter Jones, white, to a negro under arrest in Baker, Or.

Henderson, the two women told Detective Craddock, has made a practice of marrying whites and negroes. His home, they say, has become the recognized center of such marriages in the Northwest. More than twenty such marriages that have come under the cognizance of the Federal and immigration authorities in the past year have been performed by this preacher.

GEARY-STREET EXTENSION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The last obstruction placed by the United Railroads in the way of the extension of the Geary-street municipal railway to the ocean and ferry terminals was removed today when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals threw out the company's injunction suit in the United States Circuit Court for dismissal. Judge W. B. Gilbert joined with Judge W. W. Morrow in the concurring opinion. It was held that there was no Federal question involved, the only question at issue being one of breach of contract. According to City Attorney Long, this means that the city may settle for any damages incurred through parallelling the United Railroads' lines. Since the suit was filed in the Federal courts, a law passed by the Legislature has relieved the city of the prohibitory "five-block" clause which was the most serious obstruction to extending the city line to the ferry.

[A. P. NIGHT NEWS REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The right of an Alaskan Indian, who has "adopted the habits and manners of civilized life," to include whisky drinking among his newly acquired privileges, was left in the balance today by Judge C. W. Wolverton of the United States Court of Appeals when he granted a new trial to Thomas Nagle, convicted at Wrangel of having sold liquor to Billy Hooker, a native. Under the Alaskan purchase treaty with Russia, Indians living apart from their tribes were to be accepted as citizens. Hooker was held by Nagle's counsel to be of this class. The government contended that Indians were now treated individually and not as tribes in American territory. Judge Wolverton granted a new trial in order that the jury might determine the question of Hooker's citizenship.

HAIL IN SAN JOAQUIN.

Severe Electrical Storm Breaks Over a Fruit-growing District and Crops are Damaged.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just how much the grapes and late crops in the northwestern part of San Joaquin county were damaged late yesterday by the heaviest hailstorm for this season of the year ever known is a question not yet decided. Some of the vineyardists insist that the loss will be heavy, while others declare that good weather for the next few days will reduce the damage considerably.

The damage done by the hail was severe, but the area covered by the storm was only about a mile and a half wide and extended from west of Woodbridge to as far east as Victor. The hailstones were pronounced by many to be the largest ever seen here, and grapes were split and foliage torn by the hail.

The rain was but a sprinkle until about the middle of the afternoon, when a severe electric storm broke over north of the city and was followed by a torrential downpour. It was during the height of the storm that the hail fell.

EMPLOYEES COMPENSATION.

NEW WASHINGTON LAW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Oct. 2.—Washington's new employees' compensation act, the first of its kind to be tried in this country, is now in force, the law passed by the last Legislature having gone into effect with the ushering in of October. Hereafter, every workingman injured while engaged in a hazardous occupation will have his claim for damages settled through the State employees' compensation commission without appeal to the courts. The money to pay for the injuries is to be taken from a fund raised by levying assessments against the various factories and employers of labor in the State. Although the Washington Supreme Court has already held that the new law is constitutional, the opponents will carry their fight against it to the Supreme Court of the United States. To do this, a new case will have to be started through the State's courts, as the case recently decided by the Supreme Court is not subject to the Federal tribunal. The next fight will be waged upon the theory that the State Supreme Court has written a new Constitution for Washington. It is contended that if the right of trial by jury can be abolished in this instance it can be taken away in others. It will take not less than three years to get a ruling from the United States Supreme Court.

PLEAS FOR THE HORSE.

American Humane Association in San Francisco Hears Denunciation of Kosher Butchery as Brutality.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Pleas for better treatment of the horse, a protest against the existing methods of slaughtering cattle and a discussion regarding the proper sheltering of animals featured the opening of the thirty-fifth annual convention of the American Humane Association here today.

Mrs. F. W. Swanton of Portland, Or., read a paper on "Street Pavements and Animal Protection," prepared by Robert Tucker of Portland, Or. Tucker vigorously denounced asphaltum pavements.

"It is criminal to permit horses to drag heavy loads over asphaltum pavements in wet weather," he declared. "Thousands of animals are maimed each year in this way. There are two solutions—rubber shoes and sand. The shoes are too expensive to be practical. London spends $1,000,000 each year in sanding her streets, but the practice is uncommon in America. Granite blocks make the safest pavements."

N. W. Zimmer of Los Angeles urged the adoption of more humane slaughtering methods.

"Kosher butchery is responsible for the most atrocious cruelty and brutality perpetrated in the packing-houses," said the speaker. "The long standing prejudice against interfering with one's religion where great suffering is concerned must be attacked with all our force."

Other papers read were: "The Value of Press Publicity in Humane Work," Guy Richardson, secretary American Humane Association, Boston; "The Management of Animal Shelters," Miss Harriet G. Bird, Stow, Mass.; "Why Docking is Cruel," John L. Shortall, president Illinois Humane Society, Chicago; "Irresponsible Humane Societies," John Partridge, president San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; "Interstate Traffic in Bob Veal," Dr. Francis H. Rowley, president Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Boston.

About 300 delegates are in attendance. Dr. William O. Stillman, who has served seven terms as president of the association, probably will be chosen to succeed himself at the election Wednesday.

TEN DOLLARS FOR THORNET.

Reward Is Offered for the Capture of the Nurse of a Los Angeles Promoter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] United States Marshal L. M. Scott this morning offered a reward of $10 for the recapture of B. F. Thornet, the male nurse accompanying Dr. Grant Lyman, who escaped from the Klamath Falls Jail. The nurse was not in custody of the Marshal at the time of his escape, as Deputy Marshal Beatty had gone to Klamath Falls to get Lyman and was awaiting the hearing before the commissioner. The delivery was first discovered by Beatty, who was guarding Lyman.

Lyman will have a hearing Wednesday morning before United States Commissioner R. M. Richardson of Klamath Falls. Deputy Marshal Beatty has removed him to private quarters and keeps a constant guard, according to advices received by Marshal Scott today.

Klamath Falls officers have obtained no trace of the jail-breakers. A drenching rain has removed their tracks.

STRIKE VANDALISM.

Air Couplings on Freight Cars at Galt Carried Away and a Locomotive Tampered With.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALT (Cal.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first overt act of vandalism to be charged to the account of strikers by railroad policemen occurred when strike sympathizers cut and carried away all the air couplings on freight cars standing on the Southern Pacific tracks in this city. This was followed by an attempt to blow up the engine used on the Amador branch of the Southern Pacific.

Six railroad policemen, aided by the constables of this place, are now patroling the yards here. The State police allege the damage was done by strikers.

The engine on the Amador branch remains here over night. About midnight the watchman discovered that the waste box under the engine had been set on fire and that the heat had caused the generation of steam in the boiler of the locomotive until the danger point had been reached. He opened the exhaust and allowed the steam to escape. Immediate search for further possible damage led to the discovery of the cutting and theft of the air couplings.

FIND WORK SUSPENDED.

Portland Business Men Discover a Gap of Ninety Miles in the Klamath Natron Cut-off.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The suspension of work on the Klamath Natron cut-off of the Southern Pacific, which was revealed by the Portland booster excursion to Klamath Falls last week, has been brought to the attention of Portland commercial bodies with a view to having the matter of resuming work taken up with the railroad.

The Portland business men on the trip found that nothing had been done all season and the ninety-mile gap between rail heads was as hopeless a barrier to commerce as the haul up the Siskiyous could ever be.

The Klamath Natron cut-off is planned to be a link in the main line between Portland and San Francisco. The line between Weed and Klamath is not all in condition to bear heavy traffic. That portion which was a logging railway out of Weed as far as Grass Meadow would have to be entirely reconstructed, as it has a poor roadbed now, is on steep grades and short curves and would not stand through trains.

Schooner Arrives in Seattle With the News That the Kubak River is a Navigable Stream.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Adding one more discovery to the sum total of human knowledge so far as the white race is concerned, Capt. John Backland, with the four-masted schooner Transit, arrived today in Seattle from the Arctic with news that the Kubak River, hitherto believed to be a small Arctic stream, is a mighty river, navigable for at least 300 miles from its mouth.

News of the navigability of the Kubak River was given to those on board the Transit by miners and traders, who, for the first time, had thoroughly explored its main reaches for a great distance inland. While they say that for certain it is navigable for good-sized vessels for at least 300 miles it is their opinion that any vessel which could get over the bar probably could make its way at least 500 miles up the stream.

FREE CANAL FOR AMERICAN VESSELS URGED IN NORTH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The initial move in what was announced as a nation-wide campaign for the upbuilding of the American merchant marine was made today when the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution urging that vessels flying the American flag be passed through the Panama Canal without toll. Steps were taken at the meeting to arrange immediately for an exhaustive publicity campaign along the Pacific Coast with a view of furthering the movement. The following resolution was adopted:

"Whereas, the building of the Panama Canal was undertaken by the people of the United States in pursuance of a great national policy, among other things to prevent the monopoly of transportation, provide means for transportation between the various sections of the Union at the lowest possible cost, and to build up and expand our commerce with other nations and incidentally encourage the upbuilding of a now decadent merchant marine, be it

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this meeting that there should be no tolls charged through the canal to vessels coastwise flying the American flag, and be it further,

"Resolved, that we heartily approve of the legislation recommended by President Taft in his message to Congress of December 6, 1910, reading as follows: 'I cannot close this reference to the canal without suggesting as a wise amendment to the interstate commerce law a provision prohibiting interstate commerce railroads from owning or controlling ships engaged in the trade through the Panama Canal. I believe such a provision may be needed to save the people of the United States the benefits of the competition in trade between the eastern and western seaboards which this canal was constructed to secure.'"

United States Senator George C. Perkins, Representative E. N. Hayes and Representative Joseph R. Knowland of California attended the meeting. Each spoke briefly upon the resolution and pledged his support.

Senator Perkins expressed the belief that the lower house of Congress will not take kindly to the proposition of passing American ships through the canal without tolls. He said that many Senators and Representatives were already considering the advisability of arranging for a toll schedule that would put the canal on a paying basis, that is, the tolls collected would pay a reasonable interest on the money expended in building the canal. Such a move, it is claimed by shippers, would be practically prohibitive, as the tolls would be excessive.

It was suggested by Congressman Knowland that placing American ships on the free list might be a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote neutrality treaty, which in a way, will govern the canal shipping.

The resolution was introduced by Joseph N. Teal of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. H. Z. Osborne of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and George C. Pardee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce were at the meeting.

Joseph N. Teal of Portland, George C. Pardee of Oakland, Willis H. Booth of Los Angeles, W. A. Mears of Seattle, J. W. McCune of Tacoma, James McMillan of San Diego and William Matson and William N. Bunker of this city constitute the committee that will give the movement widespread publicity in the Pacific Coast States within a short time.

AERIAL MAIL ROUTE FROM NEW YORK TO LOS ANGELES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Transportation of United States mail across the continent by aeroplane, over a designated route, by a special mail messenger appointed by Postmaster-General Hitchcock is a test that will be undertaken this week.

Earle B. Ovington, who was designated by Mr. Hitchcock to carry the mails over a short route between Nassau and Brooklyn, is completing preparations for the transportation of official mail across the continent from New York to Los Angeles.

Postmaster General Hitchcock issued an order today authorizing Ovington to act as a mail carrier and directing the postmaster at New York to dispatch letters via the aeroplane route. A special mail messenger route was established by the department. It is numbered "route 807,001," and is the longest mail messenger route ever established.

A special mail pouch has been made, the ordinary pouch being too cumbersome. The pouch will contain letters for Chicago delivery as well as for delivery in Los Angeles. The postmasters in both cities have been instructed to receive and handle the mail delivered by Ovington.

The aeroplane will carry a small sign bearing the words "United States Mail." Ovington also will carry his credentials from Postmaster-General Hitchcock, which will insure him every possible aid from postmasters and postal officials.

Ovington has assured the Postoffice Department that he will start from New York within a day or two.

MISS STALLO BREAKS HER ENGAGEMENT TO FLORMAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Helena Stallo, who inherited more than $10,000,000 from the estate of her grandfather, Alexander McDonald, the Standard Oil capitalist who died last year at Long Beach, Cal., and whose engagement to Nils Florman, member of a wealthy Swedish family, was announced in July, has broken the engagement.

Her father, Edmund K. Stallo, in making the announcement tonight, said he was not aware of the reason which caused his daughter to reach her decision not to wed Mr. Florman.

"It is only a woman's reason, from all that I can learn," Mr. Stallo said. "I first received a report from Cincinnati that my daughter, who is now in Newfoundland, had written to friends in that city she had decided not to marry Mr. Florman. After sending a few telegrams, I confirmed the report. Until my daughter returns to New York I will not be in a position to state why the engagement was terminated."

Mr. Stallo made it clear he did not object to his daughter's marriage to Mr. Florman, who is interested with Mr. Stallo in business. Those who know Mr. Florman said tonight he has received many anonymous letters since the announcement of his engagement to Miss Stallo was published. Some of these letters, it is said, intimated that Mr. Florman's father came to America after resigning from the Swedish army and earned his livelihood as a masseur. Friends of Mr. Florman believe letters of a similar nature were addressed to Miss Stallo, who has been spending the summer in Newfoundland.

Arguments on Petition to Be Heard Thursday.

Dynamite, Clocks and Papers in the Collection.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A petition that Judge Joseph T. Markey of the Criminal Court, grant permission to the State of California to transfer to Los Angeles county, California, the books, papers, dynamite and clocks confiscated in Indianapolis, after the arrest of John J. McNamara, on April 22, was filed today in Criminal Court. The petitioner is J. D. Fredericks, District Attorney of Los Angeles county. He was represented by Attorney Ferdinand Winter. Judge Markey will hear arguments on the petition Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

UNDER GUARD.

Pending the hearing, Judge Markey ordered that all of the evidence held by Marion county be kept under guard.

Prosecutor Frank P. Baker had intended to return part of the books and papers, which were taken from the office of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, to the association, this afternoon, but he agreed with the court to hold everything until the disposition of the petition. The things Mr. Baker had planned to return to the ironworkers' association included nothing relating to the dynamiting cases.

OFFICIALS SUMMONED.

The order of court will prevent Prosecutor Baker or Superintendent of Police Hyland, from taking, before Thursday, any of the evidence to California, where they have been summoned to appear as witnesses in the McNamara trial. The subpoenaes ordered Baker and Hyland to bring with them the evidence they possessed.

Leo M. Rappaport, attorney for John J. McNamara, and the Ironworkers' Association, came into Criminal Court shortly after Mr. Winter began to read the petition. Henry Seyfried, who is associated with Mr. Rappaport, also heard the petition read. Mr. Winter said the court was not obliged to grant the petition. He said it would be an act of courtesy on the part of Judge Markey to permit the evidence to be transferred to Los Angeles.

Owing to the absence of witnesses the State was unable to prosecute.

DIES OF HIS OWN WEIGHT.

[A. P. NIGHT NEWS REPORT.]

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) Oct. 2.—The burden of carrying around 650 pounds of his own flesh and bone caused the death today of George S. Schrober at the age of 50. Schrober, as far as is known here, was the heaviest man in the United States.

STOMACH DISTRESS AND DYSPEPSIA GO.

HEARTBURN, GAS AND INDIGESTION GO FIVE MINUTES AFTER TAKING PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of Indigestion or some form of Stomach trouble why don't you keep some Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat, without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy Stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why it makes Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes, and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructation of sour, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other Stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from Indigestion and Dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, everyday cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

CHOIR GIRL MISSING.

Maid of Fourteen Disappears in Spanaway, Or., in a Walk Two Blocks From Church.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Believed by her relatives and friends to have been the victim of foul play, Miss Ione Adams, aged 14 years, daughter of Mrs. John Himoe, mysteriously disappeared at Spanaway Saturday night after leaving the Spanaway Methodist Church, where she sang in the choir, for the home of A. A. Holdal, only two blocks away, where she intended to stay that night.

In company with about half a dozen other young persons, Miss Adams attended Saturday night choir practice at the church. The practice was concluded at about 10:45 o'clock and the party went out together.

"Let me drive you home," said John Tostedan, who was with the party, but Miss Adams refused his offer, saying:

"It's only a little ways, I can run across in no time."

She started and has not been seen since. Foul play is feared. The girl was but a child and never had a love affair, her parents say.

Parties searched the woods in the vicinity of Spanaway and the route which the girl must have taken if she went toward the Holdal home was thoroughly examined without finding any clue.

FAGGED BY THE FIGHT.

Ex-Banker Morse Abandons for the Time Being His Pleas for Release From Federal Prison.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ex-Banker Charles W. Morse of New York has ceased his fight for release from the Federal penitentiary for the present at least. Next Monday morning his attorneys will go before the United States Circuit Court and ask permission to withdraw the appeal they made last June from the decision in the case of Federal Judge Newman. This means that Morse will be able to renew the appeal at any time he should elect to do so.

It is generally believed, however, that he recognized he has no chance to obtain his liberty for the present and is willing to bide his time until the right moment comes. His attorneys contend, and there has been little dispute on the point, that he was over-sentenced by five years; that under the statutes on which he was convicted ten years is the maximum, whereas he was given fifteen years.

GRAPE GROWERS IN ACCORD.

They Want a State Law to Prevent Shipment of Unripe or Over-ripe Fruit Out of State.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The leading grape and fruit growers of the San Joaquin Valley are heartily in accord with the suggestion that a State law be enacted to prohibit the shipment of unripe or over-ripe fruit and grapes to any outside market. Those thoroughly familiar with the fruit and grape industry declare that while in years past not the proper quality fruits and grapes have been sent to the East, this season has clearly demonstrated that not sufficient care has been taken to keep up the quality, though standardization was supposed to remedy this evil.

The prices this season have not been up to the average and as a result the growers have not made much money. It has been difficult to get all the producers together to regulate shipments, standardize their pack and otherwise put the business on a basis whereby they can improve conditions.

MADERO'S VICTORY CLEAR; RUNNING MATE IN DOUBT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 2.—The returns from yesterday's election, coming in slowly, indicate that Gen. Madero has received a practically unanimous vote for the Presidency. Few of Gen. Reyes's partisan voted because of their leader's withdrawal and Madero was the only remaining candidate who had been regularly nominated.

No Vice-Presidential candidate seemingly had a sweeping majority. From claims advanced by the progressives and the Catholic party, it appeared that the race between Pino Suarez and President De la Barra was close, but the Vasquistas were unwilling to concede the defeat of Dr. Vasquez Gomez, claiming large gains in Guadalajara, Zacatecas, Guanajuato, Puebla and Aguas Calientes.

The belief is strengthened that no candidate will be able to show a clean majority. This would farrow the election into Congress.

The Madero and PPino Suarez ticket made a sweeping victory in the capital, according to the best estimates obtainable.

Figures compiled at the headquarters of the Progressives, Madero's party, show that out of 905 electors named in the eight districts of the city, 782 were for Madero and Pino Suarez, the other 123 being divided between Madero and De la Barra and Madero and Dr. Vasquez Gomez with but a small percentage for the latter.

The Catholic party asserts that De la Barra has a good chance to win when the electors ballot on October 15.

MAGONISTAS GET SASABE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 2.—Sasabe, a Mexican town near the border, southwest of Tucson, has been captured by Magonistas, according to a letter received here today by Col. W. S. Sturges, a ranch owner living near the scene of the outbreak. Sturges says cattle round-ups have been scattered by the rebels, who are committing other depredations.

Mexican Federals from Agua Prieta were dispatched against the insurrectos today.

Madero, who was elected President of Mexico yesterday, was postponed today until November, on motion of the prosecution. The reason given was the absence of B. J. Viljoen, the State's chief witness, in Mexico.

JOYFUL AT FUNERAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Standing by the casket that contained the body of her deceased husband, Mrs. Charles A. Buhland today delivered an impressive funeral oration, in which she recounted the story of the married life of herself and husband, his request that the obsequies be as simple as they could be made, and that she herself deliver the funeral sermon.

A large number of friends were present, but except for the casket and the emaciated form of the husband inside, there was nothing to indicate that death had come to the family. Mrs. Buhland was dressed in white, there was an immense display of flowers and she sang in a sweet and well modulated voice two of the deceased's favorite hymns.

MISSOURI'S LUMBER CASE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—The taking of the testimony in Missouri's ouster suit against thirty-one companies alleged to be in a lumber trust, was resumed here today. The suit was filed by Gov. Hadley when he was Attorney-General in 1907, at the request of the Governor. An official document of the Southwestern Lumber Dealers' Association, containing a virtual blacklist of retailers "not in sympathy with our association," was introduced in evidence. Harry A. Gorsuch of Kansas City, secretary of the Southwestern oraginzation, identified the document, but said the policy expressed by it was abandoned several years ago. A bulletin issued by Gorsuch, entered in the records, stated that in August, 1897, ten wholesalers were operating illegally and thirty-four retailers sold lumber unfairly in towns where they did not have yards. Other witnesses told of the part played by the National Lumbermen's Association in footing part of the expense of publishing price lists.

RODGERS, AVIATOR, INJURED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HUNTINGTON (Ind.) Oct. 2.—Caught in a gust of wind, C. P. Rodgers' aeroplane dived to earth just after he had started from this city toward Chicago today. The machine was wrecked and Rodgers painfully bruised. Rodgers started from a field half a mile south of this city. Hardly had he got into the air when a sharp wind swept the machine from his control and it swooped into an adjoining field. The aviator picked himself out of the twisted aeroplane and said he was only slightly hurt. Both planes of the machine were damaged and the carrying wheels were broken. Rodgers said it would be several days before the aeroplane could be repaired.

MANAGERS SPENT MONEY FOR HIM.

Senator Stephenson on Witness Stand in Milwaukee.

Admits Election Cost Over a Hundred Thousand.

But He Was Too Busy to Learn Who Got It.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Oct. 2.—On the witness stand before the Senatorial Investigation Committee, to answer charges that corrupt use of money had contributed to his election, United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, testified today that although he spent $107,733 in his campaign, he had little knowledge as to just how it was spent, except that it was not used in violation of the law. The details, he said, he had left to his campaign managers.

As an instance of his ignorance of just where the money went, he cited an item of $11,000 for postage.

"Now," said Senator Stephenson, "I am president of more than a dozen active industries in this State, and I have in my employment more than 3000 men, some of whom have been with me for fifty years. In them I have every confidence. I do not pay any attention to the details of these industries.

IN ORDER TO SLEEP.

"Just so, when my campaign for nomination by the primaries in 1908 came up, I could not lay awake nights trying to figure how the postage was used. I have given money to my managers, and told them to carry on a vigorous campaign and do everything to elect me, except that they must keep within the law. I cautioned them not to violate the law in any particular. So far as I know, they obeyed me."

Citing large expenses for advertising buttons, litnographs, advertising in newspapers, and traveling expenses, the witness testified that he frequently asked where so much money was going, but on being told it was a close fight, and the State had to be systematically canvassed, he questioned the matter no further. Mr. Stephenson said he had given money for campaign purposes to men who afterwards became candidates for the Legislature and some of them were elected, but he was not aware of their candidacy, when he gave them money.

TO GET SOME NAMES.

"I paid $250 to H. L. Bancroft for getting names of persons to whom to send campaign literature," he said. "He afterwards ran for the Legislature, and was elected, but I did not know of his candidacy. I took little interest in the primaries, leaving it to my managers.

"I understand money was paid to A. C. Wellenagard, who afterward was elected to the Assembly, but this money was paid him without my knowledge. My managers were E. A. Edmonds of Appleton, J. H. Puetcher of Milwaukee, J. A. Van Cleave of Marinette."

"The record shows that you paid to your managers one day, $10,000 and a short time afterwards, gave them $15,000," said Senator W. B. Heyburn, chairman. "Didn't you ever ask them what they were doing with all that money?"

"No, only in a general way."

"Did you pay three Democratic members, or any one, for absenting themselves from the Legislature March 4, 1909, so that you could have a majority?"

"No. I never knew of any member having absented himself except as I read it in the newspapers."

E. A. Edmonds testified he knew of no money having been illegally used in Stephenson's election.

The bill for advertising, he said, amounted to $40,000.

LOADED WITH MONEY.

American Who Boasts His Cash Is Part of New Westminster Loot Arrested in Prince Rupert.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PRINCE RUPERT (B. C.) Oct. 2.—With his pockets full of money, which he boasted was part of the spoil of the New Westminster bank robbery, a man who gave his name as Alex Johnson, was arrested here today. Johnson is being held on a technical charge until the police find out more about him. He is an American about 35 years of age and says he came here from Montana a week ago.

At the time of his arrest he had over $900 in his possession in American bills. He is also reported to have deposited $10,000 in cash in two banks since his arrival. All his stories are contradictory. He is registered at his hotel as Alex Johnson of Winnipeg, but has been introducing himself around town as "Bill Wheeler." He is said to have spent about $1000 in amusements during the past week.

One story he tells is that he got the money by selling a ranch in Montana.

COMING TO THE COAST.

First Assistant Postmaster General Will Visit His Mother and Sisters in Southern California.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. C. P. Grandfield, first assistant Postmaster General, leaves tonight on a business trip to Louisville. Thence he will go on a vacation to Southern California to see his mother, Mrs. C. N. Grandfield, in Los Angeles, and his two sisters.

One of Dr. Grandfield's sisters is Mrs. R. W. Borden of Redlands, where he will stop on his way out. The other sister, Mrs. B. G. Shelton, is in charge of the Postal Savings Bank in Los Angeles. Mrs. Shelton has been connected with the Postoffice Department for many years. Dr. Grandfield says he hopes to prevail on his mother to come to Washington with him for the winter. He will spend about ten days in Los Angeles.

WEALTHY MEN PLEAD GUILTY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Nathan Allen and John R. Collins, wealthy men indicted in connection with the smuggling of jewelry worth $150,000, which is said to have been given to Mrs. Helen Dutelle-Jenkins, pleaded guilty today in the United States Circuit Court. Allen was fined $12,000 and Collins $4000.

FIRST RIOT OF STRIKE.

the ultimate outcome of the shop crafts' strike, the situation here remains unchanged tonight, and similar conditions prevail in the Oakland shops of the Southern Pacific.

Ernest L. Reguin, local president of the federated shopmen, said tonight that he was very well satisfied with conditions and was convinced that the railroad officials soon would realize their inability to obtain competent men to take the places of those who walked out.

"Aside from a few union men whom we gave permission to remain at work so that they should not lose their pension rights, no men are at work who would be kept in ordinary circumstances," said Reguin. "I attended a meeting of the Oakland strikers today and they are firm in the determination to remain out as long as necessary to win their cause."

The railroad officials did not issue any detailed statement today, confining themselves to a reiteration of former declarations that only about 40 per cent. of the men in the jurisdiction of Vice-President and General Manager Calvin obeyed the strike order.

The first full working day of the shopmen's strike on the Harriman lines began without disorder or impairment of train service. At Oakland a number of strike-breakers were reported to have been smuggled into the stockaded enclosure about the shops during the night and to have begun work today. The stockade was picketed by union men; but there was no demonstration on their part and the yard work within went on as peacefully as usual.

At Santa Barbara the railroad began preparations for a siege. A commissary department capable of caring for 200 or more men was established and a report was current that the repair work of some of the smaller shops at other points would be attempted there.

The first show of union strength came today at Portland, Or., the shops having been closed on Saturday when the strike was called. Very few of the shop employees appeared for work and there was no sign of strike-breakers.

In this city complete quiet prevailed about the shops and virtually all of the actual shop employees remained out.

At the general office of the company officials again were busy checking up, but until the work is finished, it was said, the statement made last night that only 40 per cent. of the men went out would not be withdrawn.

PICKETS ON WATCH AT OAKLAND SHOPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, Oct. 2.—Efforts were made all day yesterday and today by agents of the Southern Pacific Company to induce the striking employees to return to work. John Muir, an employee in the offices at the mole, made a house-to-house canvass through West Oakland, where striking employees reside in large numbers, and appealed to the women of the households to use their persuasion to have their husbands or sons or brothers visit the yards, where they would learn of something to their advantage. Once in the yards the matter was put up to them to resume their labor, and it is said that in practically every instance the men refused to consider the proposition. In several cases helpers to the striking craftsmen were offered employment on the turntables in the yards and when they had worked there a short time they were asked if they would just as soon go into the machine shops. These offers were refused and several men left the yards.

Any of the strikers who desired could work on the turntables, as this form of employment does not come under the jurisdiction of the striking unions, but under the Federation of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen.

PICKETS STOP MEN.

Union pickets were stationed at all points around the barbed wire surmounted stockades. Persons attempting to pass through are questioned by them. Yesterday any man who had acquiesced to the solicitation of agents to go inside the enclosure and there meet the company's officers was stopped at the gate and told what the situation was that they would face on getting inside.

A meeting was called for 10 o'clock at the permanent headquarters of the striking unions in the West Oakland Athletic pavilion. Affairs pertaining to the walkout were discussed at length by the advisory committee. While it is not known just how many strike-breakers are now quartered in the yard, it is understood that they commenced work this morning.

Preparations are being made within the enclosure to care for the non-union laborers, as more will probably arrive during the day. So far there has been no friction between the two contingents.

Acting upon instructions from the headquarters of the international union, the local striking body with united efforts will endeavor to make the walk-out complete as affecting this divison. A sympathetic strike will be urged

SWITCHMEN NEXT.

The first organization affected will probably be that of the switchmen, who, it is understood, have notified the company that they will not handle cars coupled by other than union men, or cars upon which non-union repairers have worked. In the event of the switchmen walking out, it probably will not happen for several days, or until work done by non-union men has to be utilized.

Following a meeting of the strikers this morning statements of the advisory committee were made. The men declared that they were out to stay and that they have sufficient backing to enable them to do so indefinitely.

Harry Kilduff, organizer of the switchmen's union, is in Oakland.

At this time the total number of men who have walked out of the West Oakland shops is conservatively estimated at six hundred.

COMPLETING ROUNDHOUSE.

Santa Barbara Will Take Care of Southern Pacific Repair Work by the End of the Week.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] M. W. Cooley, master mechanic in the Southern Pacific repair shops here, stated today that he will have enough men at work before the end of the week to attend to all local needs.

Work on the new roundhouse will be completed in a few days, a gang of men being placed on the job this morning.

Two commissary cars in charge of John Paul and E. J. Nortman of Los Angeles arrived here today. The cars are supplied with food, cooking utensils and bedding to be used by mechanics at the round house.

Magnanimous.

OPEN ARMS TO OLD EMPLOYEES.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC'C NOTICE OF POLICY TOWARD MEN.

Local Strike Situation Is Little Changed, Except That Number of Men Have Been Employed to Fill Places of Those Who Walked Out. Trains on Time.

There was little change in the railroad strike situation here yesterday except that a number of men were recruited to fill places vacated by the shopmen who walked out of the Salt Lake shops Saturday. Boilermakers, blacksmiths, brickmen and others skilled in the shop crafts, were hired both for the shops here and for other shop centers on the Salt Lake Railroad.

The Southern Pacific is not hiring strike-breakers here but is taking back former employees who apply for reinstatement. The number of men at work in the Southern Pacific shops here yesterday was 463, out of a total of 1422 that were on the pay roll the day before the walk-out.

The situation has so far shown no sign of embarrassment as far as the movement of trains is concerned. The company has an ample number of locomotives in reserve and it is estimated that with practically no new shop work the company can run for four months with the reserve power now available.

This, coupled with the fact that less than 50 per cent. of the shopmen on the system joined the strike, would seem to indicate that the company can easily keep traffic moving for an indefinite period. Trains are reported as running on time and there has been no curtailment of any of the usual train schedules.

The attitude of the Southern Pacific in regard to its former employees is expressed in a notice given out yesterday by Pat Sheedy, superintendent of machinery of the southern district, which includes the shops at Los Angeles, Bakersfield and Tucson. His notice follows:

To employees of the mechanical department who left the company's service at 10 a.m. Saturday, September 30, 1911:

I am authorized to notify you, and use the press as a means of doing so, in order that no one will be overlooked, that I will consider applications for re-employment from individuals in the various crafts who left their work on the above date on terms and conditions which will be given to you by me personally on application to my office.

Such former employees as wish to avail themselves of this opportunity will please do so by applying to me immediately.

The only construction to be put on this notice is that I desire my former employees to know that this opportunity awaits you.

A bulletin received last night from the San Francisco office of the Southern Pacific is as follows:

"The same relative condition exists today as on previous days since employees left our service. Quiet prevails at all points, there being only one act of depredation reported, which occurred yesterday at Moron, in the Sunset oil fields, where fourteen cars were molested to the extent of damaging air equipment and removing knuckle pins. Immediately on receipt of this advice the management promptly posted the following reward:

"A reward of $500 will be paid by the Southern Pacific Company for information resulting in the arrest and conviction of any person who participated in the removal of knuckle pins and damage to air equipment on cars in the yards of this company at Moron on the night of October 1.

[Signed] E. E. CALVIN,

NEW MEN IN SACRAMENTO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—However much the Southern Pacific officials may trust to the non-aggressiveness of the 600 local strikers they have doubled the staff of special watchmen, and tonight 122 men are guarding the railroad's property here. Fifty more men were hired today by Special Agent Green, who is in charge of the force, many of them coming from the hill country of Lassen county. It appears to be expected by the railroad officials that Superintendent of Motive Power Heintzelman's ultimatum issued tonight, giving the strikers until Wednesday evening to return to their places, may rouse the ire of some. No chances are to be taken and the extra men have been put on the force of watchmen. Men are being hired every day and it is expected that in a few days no fewer than 300 will be employed altogether on the night and day shifts. The railroad officials say that twenty men who joined the walk-out Saturday returned to their places today and that only three more went out today. J. G. Taylor, chairman of the Strike Committee, says that only one man, a machinist, returned to his work and that twenty more joined the strikers. While they are not being called "strike-breakers," machinists and boilermakers are being hired to take the places of the striking men from the shops. "We are taking on some men in the boiler shops and in the machine shops. Experienced men have applied for positions and have been accommodated. We do not know whether they are union or non-union men. We never inquire as to that." Such was the statement of one of the highest of the local railroad officials here tonight.

TWO HUNDRED AT WORK IN THE OGDEN SHOPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OGDEN (Utah) Oct. 2.—There are 200 men working in the shops in Ogden, according to Superintendent Thomas Rowlands of the Salt Lake division of the Southern Pacific. The strikers place the number at fifty, including laborers and pensioners. Superintendent Rowlands issued an ultimatum to the strikers today, giving warning that those who did not return to work on or before Wednesday, October 4, would not again be considered for employment.

JOBS' STILL OPEN.

BUT ONLY UNTIL TOMORROW.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE, Oct. 2.—The Oregon Short Line Railroad issued a circular letter to the striking shopmen promising them employment if they returned to work on or before Wednesday, but stating that those who did not return then need never apply for further employment with the road. The strikers claim that the shops are all in a crippled condition and that they are in a position to stand a long siege. W. H. Bancroft, vice-president and general manager, issued a statement tonight declaring

ORDERED OFF BY THE COURT.

Federal Judge Enjoins All Unions in Mississippi from Interfering With Men.

[A. P. NIGHT NEWS REPORT.]

JACKSON (Miss.) Oct. 2.—A temporary injunction, sweeping in its provisions and applying to the entire State of Mississippi, was issued here today by Federal Judge Niles against all the members of all the unions on strike on the Illinois Central Railroad system. The injunction restrains union men from congregating on or near railroad property; from intimidating employees or inducing them by threats to abandon their positions, or from interfering in any manner with the operation of trains and the usual conduct of the railroad's business. A hearing to determine whether the injunction shall be made permanent was fixed for November 6.

that a number of old employees had asked to be taken back and that more than 100 new men had applied for employment here today. The statement gives the following figures on the men at work in three principal shops as compared to normal:

Salt Lake force at work, 96; normal force, 250.

Ogden force at work, 181; normal force, 250.

Pocatello force at work, 96; normal force, 761.

STATION GUARDS.

AT GATE IN OGDEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OGDEN (Utah.) Oct. 2.—Beginning tomorrow morning the property of the Harriman lines here will be enclosed by an eight-foot fence with three strands of barbed wire around the top. Guards will be stationed at each gate. This action, Superintendent Roland says, is not taken on account of the strike, but because of the great throngs of curious people and strike sympathizers who gather around each day. The division storekeeper has received 1000 mattresses and thirty-two ranges, which it is said will be sent to various points on the Oregon Short Line system. An unconfirmed rumor was received here tonight that two carloads of strike-breakers would arrive in Odgen early tomorrow. Two carloads of men passed through Ogden this afternoon en route west. The men claimed that they did not know their destination. The union pickets reported at a meeting of the strikers tonight that four "dead" engines were brought into Ogden today, all having leaky flues. Railroad officials state that all schedules are being maintained.

RETURN TO WORK.

TWENTY IN SACRAMENTO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—Twenty of the striking Southern Pacific shopmen, who walked out Saturday returned to work today, according to T. W. Heintzelman, superintendent of motive power of the company. Heintzelman issued a statement indicating that the company would continue to re-employed the men for a limited period, providing their record was good. The Strike Committee of the shopmen held a series of informal conferences in secret throughout the day. Pickets in sympathy with the strikers were stationed at both entrances to the shops and attempted to induce more of the shopmen to join their ranks, but with apparently little success. The company has placed a special detail of watchmen on guard.

WANT JOBS BACK.

THEY RETURN IN TUCSON.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 2.—Five craftsmen employed in the Southern Pacific shops, who struck Saturday, returned to work today and three more, who applied for reinstatement, may be put to work later, according to a statement made by Supt. J. H. Dyer. H. J. Small, general superintendent of motive power, has authorized the re-employment of as many of the strikers as desired to return to work. Their re-employment would be under no agreement of any kind. Of 301 men employed in the motive power and car departments in this entire division, 115 went out. Of that number ten at Gila Bend struck, six out of twenty-four went out at Lordsburg and five out of fourteen at Benson.

ALL NIGHT PICKETS.

THE STRIKE IN PORTLAND.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 2.—Of the 850 men employed in the two local Harriman repair shops less than 10 per cent. are at work today, according to figures given out by the strike leaders. The company claims a larger percentage went to work, but is not prepared to give the number at this time. This morning at 8 o'clock only a handful of men reported at the Brooklyn and Albina shops, and most of those were old employees whom the strikers had authorized to return to work so they would not lose their chance of participating in the Harriman pension system. All night pickets kept up a watch of the two shops and other railroad properties. All Harriman trains are moving on approximately schedule time today. Reports from railroad centers outside Portland, company officials say, are reassuring.

PREPARE FOR SIEGE.

PROVISIONS HAULED IN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Oct. 2.—Three carloads of provisions were hauled to the Union Pacific shops here today and preparations made for a siege. According to railroad officials 275 men, among them several old employees, who refused to strike, are at work. Union officials say that seventy-five will cover the number of men at work. The normal force is 400. Strikers here are orderly.

PROVIDING SHELTER.

FOR MANY NEW MEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—Conflicting reports were given out by the representatives of the union and the railroads as to the number of men who obeyed the strike order here. Union Pacific officials said one-half of the 630 men employed at the Armstrong shops reported for duty today. The strike leaders said that practically all the men obeyed the strike order. The two reports agree only in that all the blacksmiths failed to report for duty. That the railroad is preparing to hire many men is shown by the preparations being made to care for them. Workmen are building a dining-room and kitchen at the Armstrong shops and bedding for 200 men and other supplies are eing unloaded there.

WARN OFFICIALS

TO HIRE NO JAPANESE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, Oct. 2.—That the hiring of Japanese to take the places of striking shopmen will be followed by violence is the threat made to Southern Pacific Railroad officials by switchmen and brakemen, according to reports here. Arrivals in Fresno last night told of a delegation of switchmen and brakemen waiting upon Assistant Manager Scott of the Southern Pacific in San Francisco yesterday afternoon and warning him of what would follow in case orientals were employed. The reported action followed the hiring of five Japanese, who were put to work here yesterday wiping cars, but who were promptly called off.

"BULL PEN" IN ORDER.

STRIKE-BREAKERS ARRIVING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Oct. 2.—The Union Pacific so-called "bull pen" here has been placed in condition for taking care of strike-breakers, and some local men who desired to work were placed within its protecting walls today. The officials of the company say that unless the strike is broken soon the company will bring a complete line-up of strike-breakers here. Two carloads of strike-breakers from the East passed through Cheyenne today en route to San Francisco.

CONVENTION FINDS FAULT.

Land Delegates in Denver Don't Like the Federal Control of Nation's Resources.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Oct. 2.—By a vote of 440 to 35, the public lands convention here today adopted resolutions declaring, in the main, against the present method of Federal control of natural resources. The resolutions, which began with an indorsement of the principles of conservation, "under such liberal and proper laws and regulations as will be consistent with furtice too, and peace and prosperity among the people most directly interested," are summed up in a "declaration of principles."

Pursuant to the resolutions, Chairman Mondell appointed the following committee on permanent organization:

Arizona, A. J. Sampson; California, E. A. Lane; Colorado, J. Arthur Eddy; Idaho, G. A. Day; Nevada, S. C. McClellan; New Mexico, T. B. Prince; Oklahoma, A. S. Paris; South Dakota, S. H. Lea; Utah, J. W. Mosser; Wyoming, P. Sullivan.

Tomorrow morning there will be a meeting of the Committee on Permanent Organization, and later President Taft will address the convention, after which it will adjourn.

HOMESICK MAID

AUBURN, Oct. 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frances Sullivan, a 17-year-old girl of this city, committed suicide by shooting herself in the head with a revolver in the home of her uncle, Jacob Freeh, in Seattle, Wash., last Saturday, according to messages received here last night. She had gone to Seattle in July to live with her uncle and aunt, who are childless and who had promised to make her their heir. She had complained to them of being homesick, but she had just received a letter from her chum living here and, after writing to her parents and giving a letter to a young man to mail, she fired the fatal shot.

FIRST LOCAL GLOW OF THE MAGIC SPARK

LOS ANGELES was the first city in America to light its streets entirely by electricity. The enterprise of a few public spirited men brought the city that distinction. Organized in 1881, the first electric company bid successfully in 1882, for the contract to illuminate the streets and there were erected seven 150-foot masts, each bearing at its top a cluster of three 3000-candle-power arc lamps. Some of these early-day masts are yet to be seen in various parts of the city.

So satisfactory was the new lighting system that the municipal authorities ordered the removal of the few street gas lamps then in use, and citizens pointed proudly to the fact that no other city depended wholly on the new and wonderful electric light for street illumination.

The first electric plant was built in a vineyard at what is now Banning and Alameda streets. It was a little building 50x50 feet, housing two No. 8 Brush machines—one of 3000-candle-power for street lighting, the other of 2000-candle-power for commercial service.

Such was the start of the present magnificent system which lights Los Angeles streets as those of probably no other city are lighted, and which supplies light for thousands of homes, and power for hundreds of manufacturing establishments.

Clergyman's Son Cured of Tuberculosis.

Consumption is a flattering disease and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call it by its own dread name—and then take Eckman's Alterative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. No one need doubt about it — there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:

Amenia, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: Prior to February, 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with LaGrippe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 lbs. I coughed and raised continually, and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alterative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished, and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health, back to 155 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alterative."

(Signed) E. H. COWLES.

"Gentlemen: I cannot find words to express my appreciation of what your remedy has done for my son. It changed despair into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life.

"I wish to add my endorsement to every word of his testimonial."

(Signed) REV. J. J. COWLES,
Pastor Presbyterian Church.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Trouble, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Co.'s Stores and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

CLI.

October 3, 1861—The Engagement at Greenbrier River Brought to a Close the Fall Operations in Northern West Virginia—Confederate Forces Under Gen. Lee Suffer Hardships in the Mountain-Bound Valley of the Greenbrier.

[Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.]

FIFTY years ago today the operations in the rugged country of northern West Virginia came practically to a close when the Union general, J. J. Reynolds, retreated to his position at Cheat Mountain and Elkwater after unsuccessfully assaulting the Confederate position at Buffalo Hill.

The early work of Gen. McClellan and his successor, Gen. Rosecrans, had forced the Confederate battle line back into the wild mountain region on the eastern Virginia border. The rich valley of the Shenandoah, the "storehouse of the Confederacy," lay only a short distance back of that line, and the sources of the James and the Potomac rivers were threatened.

From the viewpoint of the Confederate leaders things were far from hopeful. It was not alone the previous defeats that disconcerted them, for the sting of those might have been removed by future victories, but it was the disconcerting realization that they were "bottled up" in a long, narrow and tortuous mountain defile, bound in on three sides by well-nigh impassable ranges.

In the Confederate rear were the Alleghanies, their forest-covered slopes extending like huge walls far to the north and south. The passes in that direction were still controlled by the southern forces, but to fall back on them would mean retreat and the irrevocable loss of western Virginia. Were these passes to fall into the hands of the Federal army the Shenandoah and all of central Virginia would lie open to conquest.

To the north of the Confederate forces was High Knob, formed by the junction of three mountain ranges; in front of them, to the west was the Greenbrier ridge, the southern end of which bore the name of Sewell Mountain.

The Mountain Passes.

The mountains of western Virginia, the most rugged on the entire Atlantic slope, heavily wooded and towering above the clouds in majestic grandeur, throw the valleys into shadow except at noon on a clear day. They run in long parallel ranges, with now and then a spur or cross range which connects one with another.

In the valley of the Greenbrier River, where the Confederate troops found themselves fifty years ago today, one of these spurs cut off all access to the North. The Greenbrier ridge in front was impassible, the three passes at Elkwater being since an engagement on August 12 in Gen. Reynolds's hands more firmly than before.

The only opening—the neck of the bottle—lay to the south, and over this route Gen. Lee had led his army and had joined forces with those of Gen. Floyd and Gen. Wise, who were facing Gen. Rosecrans's position at Big Sewell Mountain.

When Gen. Lee marched to the South taking with him the troops under Gen. W. W. Loring, he left less than 2500 men under Gen. H. R. Jackson to guard the position at the northern end of the valley. Jackson encamped at Buffalo Hill, a point which commanded the approaches to two of the passes over the Alleghanies into Virginia.

On the morning of October 3, Gen. Reynolds advanced with about 5000 men from his position at Cheat Mountain and early in the morning opened an attack on Buffalo Hill. The engagement has since become known as the battle of Greenbrier River.

The early morning march of Gen. Reynolds's troops through the mountain fastnesses presents a perfect picture of field operations in this wild region. An account written by a newspaper correspondent with the party tells the story of the march most graphically.

"The night, or morning, was very dark, with a dense fog and a light, drizzling rain. We moved at a snail-like pace, trusting to our horses to pilot us safely along the dark, rugged and muddy path. The measured and uniformed tread of men, occasional stumble of horses, of the heavy artillery grinding along over the uneven road, and music of the rippling streams, as we wound around the mountains, served to remind us of the importance of our mission.

"Day was just breaking, the gray dawn through the mountain mist, the appearance of the forest foliage closely resembling the faded gray uniforms of the Indiana boys.

"On we went through a beautiful country. Birds were singing, the sun was just illuminating the eastern mountain tops of the Alleghany range, encircling the valley through which we were moving, while the stately forest trees and laurel thicket, clothed in beautiful summer foliage, forcibly reminded us of one immense floral wreath. The scene was enchanting, almost dispelling the anticipated collision of the contending forces."

Greenbrier River.

The battle at Greenbrier River was an artillery engagement from the first. The commanding position of the Confederate forces enabled the southern batteries to sweep the entire line of the Federal approach.

An interesting account of the battle is found in the official report of Gen. Jackson, who wrote:

"Our forces were all in position when, about 8 o'clock, the enemy opened a heavy fire from six pieces of different caliber, placed in a field and bearing upon our front and center. The number of guns was subsequently increased by two other pieces placed on the opposite side of the turnpike.

"This fire of round shot, spherical case, shell and canister, was continued with extraordinary rapidity and without intermission for upward of four hours, the eight guns consisting of the well-known field batteries of Howe and Loomis.

"At no time could we bring more than five pieces into action to return the fire of the enemy. Yet their fire was returned and with so much spirit and energy as to make this artillery duel, rendered peculiarly interesting by the character of the field and its mountain surroundings, ever memorable to those who beheld it."

Another Confederate account tells of the "circumstances of romantic scenery and the reverberating thunder from the surrounding mountains."

When the heavy cannonading had ceased, Gen. Reynolds gave the signal for an infantry attack on the Confederate left. Three regiments gained the height and turned to charge on the flank of the enemy's trenches, when they were met with such a withering fire from rifles and artillery that they retreated in confusion.

This retreat halted the regiments in the rear. Gen. Reynolds realized that the southern position was too strong to be carried by force, so ordered his command to return to their mountain stronghold.

The Confederates considered the engagement an important victory and Judah P. Benjamin, acting Secretary of War at Richmond, made it the occasion of an order complimenting the troops for their "brilliant conduct and . . . the successful defense of the important position held by you against a force so superior."

Gen. Reynolds, on the contrary, announced the affair as a mere "armed reconnoissance," and that "after having fully and successfully accomplished the object of the expedition retired leisurely and in good order to Cheat Mountain.

The Federal loss was eight killed and thirty-four wounded; the Confederate loss was six killed and forty-four wounded or missing.

Gen. Lee at Sewell Mountain.

Gen. Lee, in the meantime, was busy keeping the peace between the two ex-Governors of Virginia, Gens. Floyd and Wise. After the defeat at Carnifix ferry, Gen. Floyd had fallen back beyond Sewell Mountain and had ordered Gen. Wise to follow him.

This Gen. Wise refused to do, claiming that it would leave the rear of Gen. Floyd's command open to attack and holding also that he did not have sufficient means of transportation for the supplies and baggage.

The victorious Union troops under Gen. Rosecrans and Gen. Cox had advanced and occupied the summit of Big Sewell Mountain within sight of Gen. Wise's position. Gen. Floyd begged him to retire and join forces, but all in vain.

When Lee arrived and took command of all the forces in that part of the valley, he at once sent word to Gen. Wise, begging him to fall back to Meadow Bluff, where Gen. Lee's forces had combined with those of Gen. Floyd. "I beg, therefore, if not too late," Gen. Lee wrote, "that the troops be united and that we conquer or die together."

This communication did not affect Gen. Wise. He returned from an all-night picket hunt, drenched to the skin, and, after reading the note immediately wrote a lengthy reply. He declared that his own position at Little Sewell Mountain was much stronger than Gen. Floyd's at Meadow Bluff.

Gen. Wise prevailed, and within a few days Gen. Lee moved all his forces to Little Sewell Mountain. Then began the long days of watching and waiting which told heavily on the men of both armies.

For eleven days the two forces watched each other across a deep gorge that separated the two mountains. It rained incessantly and in torrents. The roads were knee deep in mud, and the question of supplying the troops with proper provisions became a serious one.

"Time and time again could be seen double teams of horses struggling with six or eight barrels of flour, the axle of the wagon scraping and leveling the roadbed," one account tells us.

"It is raining heavily," Gen. Lee wrote to his wife from Sewell Mountain. "The men are all exposed on the mountain, with the enemy opposite us.

"We are without tents and for two nights I have lain buttoned up in my overcoat. Today my tent came up and I am in it. Yet I fear I shall not sleep for thinking of the poor men."

In the Union camp things were a little better. The majority of the men had some sort of covering, many of them good tents and the majority shelters.

Brig.-Gen. J. D. Cox gives an interesting picture of life in the Federal camp on Great Sewell Mountain in his reminiscences.

Federals Fall Back.

"In my own tent Gen. Rosecrans occupied my camp cot; I had improvised a rough bunk for myself on the other side of the tent, but as Gen. Schenck got in too late for the construction of any better resting place he was obliged to content himself with a bed of three or four campstools set in a row.

"We were sixty miles from the head of steamboat navigation (on the Ohio.) the wagon trains were too small for a condition of things where teams could hardly haul half-loads, and by the first of October, we had demonstrated the fact that it was impossible to sustain our army any further from its base unless we could rely upon settled weather and good roads."

Gen. Rosecrans struck camp on the evening of the 5th, and when the Confederates awoke the next morning the white tents had disappeared from the summit of big Sewell.

"When day appeared the bird had flown," wrote Gen. Lee two days later, "and the misfortune was that the reduced condition of our horses for want of provender, exposure to cold rains in these mountains, and the want of provisions for the men, prevented the vigorous pursuit and following up that was proper."

Gen. Rosecrans returned to his position at Gauley Bridge; Gen. Lee was recalled to Virginia; Gen. Wise had been previously sent to other quarters, and Gen. Loring, with a portion of his command, joined Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson in the Shenandoah Valley; thus the fall campaign ended with West Virginia in the hands of the northern armies.

WEST ADAMS AGAINST 'EM.

Troubles Descend on Couple Like Angry Bees.

Injunction Against Them to Keep Out Hotel.

Follows on Heels of Suit Won by Russells.

Troubles descended upon the Ralph J. Leavitts, who sued Maj. and Mrs. Horace M. Russell recently, charging them with embezzlement in connection with the sale of the Russells splendid home at No. 728 West Adams street to the Leavitts, like angry bees, yesterday.

Shortly after Justice Forbes had dismissed the suit against the Russells, an injunction suit was commenced against the Leavitts by Miriam A. Clark and Caroline M. Hicks, in which, apparently, the bon ton West Adams section is drawn into a row over the proposed erection by the Leavitts of a hotel or apartment-house. The plaintiffs assert that December 13 last, the Russells entered into an agreement with them and others to confine buildings in a certain section of West Adams street exclusively to fine residences.

Since the Leavitts have obtained possession of the property that was then the Russells', the plaintiffs aver, they have put up a big "for sale" sign, announcing that the building will be removed within sixty days. The residence removed, they say, the Leavitts will erect an apartment-house or hotel building that would be in violation of the agreement entered into by property owners in that vicinity.

Others in the agreement to restrict the section to imposing residences, the plaintiffs say, are Caroline M. Seymour, Clara E. Capen, James S. Severance, Title Insurance and Trust Company, William G. Kerckhoff, Janette Adams Garner, Nettie L. Walton, Blanche H. Garland, Frank J. Thomas and Homer Laughlin.

In deciding the case brought by Leavitt against Maj. Russell, in favor of the defendant, Justice Forbes said that in his opinion the matter ought to be fought out in a civil action for claim and delivery against the accused. Such suits already have been filed.

The suit arose over the alleged conversion by Russell and his wife of $15,000 worth of furniture in the Russell home to their own uses when it was claimed by Leavitt that the furniture was to go with the house in a trade in which Leavitt exchanged a ranch at Porterville for the city property.

Russell admitted that in the first contract to trade it was stipulated that Leavitt was to have the furniture, but asserted that after he made a visit to the ranch he found the value of the real estate had been misrepresented to him and a new contract was drawn and signed that did not provide for the delivery of the furniture.

Justice Forbes said that there was an utter absence of criminal intent, so far as the evidence went, on the part of the Russells.

WANT PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

South Pasadena Has Water and Sufficient Pressure, But it Lacks Effective Apparatus.

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 2.—Much interest is being taken by the citizens in the question of fire protection. One of the plans broached is for the citizens to place fire plugs in front of their property, and for the fire department to carry hose sufficient to make these plugs available in case of fire.

The force of water is sufficient for the purpose it is asserted, the only thing lacking, being the apparatus to utilise the force. Fire plugs have been put in by the individual property owners, and 150 feet of hose bought, on a block on Mission street east of Fair Oaks avenue, and Charles W. Manwarring, one of the property owners states that the force of water is sufficient to throw it over a two-story building.

He suggests that the city of South Pasadena purchase about 300 feet of hose, and carry it on their cart, to assist anybody who sees fit to help themselves by putting in fire plugs, and the plugs can so be placed as to be servicable for four houses, two on one side of the street, and two on the opposite, in this way it will not cost any one over $12 a piece. This will not only give prompt fire protection, but lessen the insurance rates. A request has already been made to the Council, and a committee appointed to look into the hose question.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Henry Deadman has returned from Skagway, Alaska, where he has been spending his vacation with his parents at the Golden North Hotel. He is only twelve years old, and made the trip both ways alone, and is a student here in the city schools.

The automatic crossing signal on El Centro street is now in service over the Santa Fe tracks, and will have the effect of lessening the hazard of danger to pedestrians and travelers in wagons and machines at that point.

Much interest is being taken by the pupils of the elementary schools in the playground apparatus recently installed. It is carefully guarded by teachers during the school hours, and the few accidents that have occurred have been outside of school hours, when there has been no supervision.

At the last Board of School Trustees' meeting, John Dublin, was appointed a committee of one to purchase a piano for the High School.

CHARTER OAK.

CHARTER OAK, Oct. 2.—E. L. Petitfils has sold his twenty-acre grove of Valencias and lemons in the heart of the Charter Oak district to George E. Roth of Los Angeles for a cash consideration of $60,000. This grove was purchased but a few months ago for $2000 an acre of Sutherland & MacKenzie, and is one of the best producers of the many fine groves in this frostless district.

Petitfils marketed the immense crop of Valencias which was estimated at 8000 boxes, which made his investment profitable.

Night Wire.] Robert Behrens, local manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, who left here ten days ago, gave himself up to the police at San Diego today according to a telegram received by Sheriff McSwain. KNOT NOT TIED TIGHT ENOUGH.

BRIDE OF A NIGHT FLITS WITH BAG AND BAGGAGE.

Heart Swelling With Pride Husband Hustles Forth For First Breakfast Supplies and Returns to Find His Warm Nest Empty. Wedlock's Padlock Broken.

All short records for marital failures were annihilated in this city Saturday when Mrs. Henry Dubler, a bride of twelve hours, dropped out of sight while her happy husband was uptown buying grapenuts for a morning meal.

Henry Dubler, a lumberjack, and Mrs. Pearl Miles, a comedy divorcee, tripped blithely to the matrimonial foundry at the Courthouse Friday morning and got the necessary document. Then the knot was tied.

After a short honeymoon journey to various moving-picture shows, Mr. and Mrs. Dubler went to their apartments at No. 501 Gladys avenue. According to friends Dubler was the happiest man in the world and Mrs. Dubler blushed becomingly while receiving the congratulations of her neighbors.

Saturday morning Dubler arose early and told his bride that he was going uptown for a few minutes to order furniture for a neat little home he had rented the day before, and incidentally purchase something for breakfast.

"Now trot right along, Henry," coyly remarked the bride;" get your furniture and grapenuts and little wifey will be waiting for you when you get back."

KISS THAT BETRAYS.

The lumberjack gave the bride a fervent kiss, grabbed his leather hat and departed. After completing his shopping tour Henry started for wifey and home with several packages of breakfast delicacies under his strong arms. When he arrived at his apartments he found the door locked.

He rapped gently, but there was no response.

"It's Henry, dearest, open the door," said Dubler in soft, bridegroomish tones.

Still there was no response and Henry set down his packages and rapped a little harder and called loudly. After repeated knocking the landlord came to investigate.

"What's the matter?" he asked.

"My wife must be asleep or sick," excitedly remarked Henry.

"Why, I just saw her a few minutes ago," said the landlord.

The proprietor unlocked the door and Henry entered. He stood back aghast. The room looked as if it had had a twenty-round mixup with a young Kansas cyclone. Everything was in confusion.

"My God, my wife has gone," shouted Henry, as he gazed into the closet and discovered that her trunk was missing. He looked under the bed and searched the apartment-house from cellar to ceiling, but no Mrs. Dubler.

An expressman, who has a stand near Dubler's apartments, told the landlord later in the day that he had seen a truckman cart away Mrs. Dubler's trunk and few bundles of her personal belongings, and he saw another man with the woman.

COMPLAINING WAY.

Yesterday afternoon Dubler went to the District Attorney's office and asked for a complaint against a man who "absconded" with his bride. He gave Shannon a fair description of the man as told him by the expressman who saw the departure.

Dubler is about 36 years old and Mrs. Dubler that was is nearly 50. According to friends she was divorced several years ago.

Dubler met his wife of half a day a month ago and it was a case of love at first sight. The happy day was postponed for several weeks in order to give Dubler a chance to save up enough pennies to outfit a little home.

The event was scheduled for last Friday morning and Dubler told his bride-to-be to meet him at the marriage license bureau at 9 o'clock. At 9 Henry was waiting at the desk, but no Mrs. Dubler-to-be. Henry grew rather nervous and telephoned all over town trying to locate the missing bride. At 11 o'clock Mrs. Miles frou-froued leisurely into the office and Henry gave a shout of joy. Everything went swimmingly and a few minutes later they were traveling in double harness.

"I certainly was stung," said Dubler last evening at No. 501 Gladys avenue. "I never thought I'd be wifeless in this short time. But believe me, home is home, be it ever so lonely. I'm beginning to think it's a wise husband that knows his own wife these days. But with all that, one wife at home is worth two in another man's home. They say that wedlock is padlock. Well, it don't look so in my case, does it? My domestic happiness was short lived, but I'm not kicking, the other fellow will be doing that pretty soon if I don't miss my guess."

BUY A WATER SYSTEM.

Lindsay Purchases a Plant from a Concern Which Displays Unusual Public Spirit.

LINDSAY, Oct. 2.—The City Trustees last night completed the formalities relative to the taking over from the Lindsay Water and Gas Company of the water plant which the company has been operating for the supply of water to the city.

The amount which was paid over this morning was $41,875.29. The company, on its formation about two years ago, agreed to sell the plant to the city whenever called up to do so, at actual cost plus 8 per cent., and this was done, but the company, in a most public spirited manner, has gone further and generously arranged details of interest and collectable water rents in a manner pecuniarily disadvantageous to themselves and correspondingly advantageous to the city.

Lindsay is to be congratulated, therefor, not only upon the adoption of the progressive principle of public ownership of utilities, but upon the acquisition of one of the best and most complete water plants in any city of the size in the State.

The company has been making a handsome profit all along, which henceforth will be applied in reducing the price of water, which, however, has not been above normal, and also in providing for the payment of the bonds.

The Trustees created the office of Water Superintendent and appointed thereto Frank J. Hostetter, who has been secretary and manager of the company since its formation, and thus the continued efficiency of the service is assured. The City Clerk was appointed collector of water rents.

MOOSE HERD STILL MILLS.

Recriminations Drag Lodge Secrets Into Arena.

Personal Campaign Blamed for Local Trouble.

Dissatisfaction Over Acts of National Import.

That the feeling of unrest among the members of the different lodges of the Loyal Order of Moose in Southern California, which resulted in the apparent disbanding of Pasadena Lodge, No. 648, is the result of dissatisfaction with the national officers of the organization and with the management of the campaign to select Los Angeles as the next meeting place, was admitted yesterday by a number of prominent members of the order.

It is asserted that the present difficulties are the direct result of the campaign of William A. Alderson, dictator of Los Angeles Lodge No. 236, for the office of supreme vice-dictator, the second highest position in the order. According to statements given yesterday he and his friends made the matter of obtaining the 1913 national convention for Los Angeles secondary to his candidacy.

It is also stated that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction with the manner in which the Detroit convention was managed, it being openly charged that a "steam roller" was in active operation, that the elections were controlled by a "machine," and that mismanagement exists in a greater or less degree in the national organization.

In explaining the disruption of the Pasadena Lodge and in comment on a statement of Charles A. Parsons, its dictator, William A. Alderson, dictator of Los Angeles Lodge, said:

POOH-POOHS IT ALL.

"The statement of Mr. Parsons concerning dissatisfaction among the members of the Pasadena Lodge is the outgrowth of a personal matter and a dispute between Burt B. Bloom, formerly a deputy organizer of the order, and James J. Davis, the supreme organized of the order.

"I do not know what the Pasadena Lodge means to do, but the use of the word "disbanded" is without meaning. Neither Mr. Parsons nor any members of the Pasadena Lodge can "disband" it. If they are in good standing they may transfer or withdraw from the lodge.

"Mr. Parsons's statement that there will be "a split in the Los Angeles Lodge" I assert to be the mere imagination of the utterer. Los Angeles Lodge No. 284, L.O.O.M., is the largest fraternal lodge in the world. The only displeased and disgruntled members of this lodge are a few friends of a former deputy organizer whose contract for organization work

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

Trading was brisk. Receipts were light generally. An advance of 6 cents was noted on pullets' eggs. Dealers assert that the light receipts and a heavy demand for this stock was the cause of the advance. This is the first change noted in pullet eggs for some time. The market on other grades has been fluctuating for some time, but to yesterday the quotations on pullets have remained unchanged. The market on other grades of eggs ruled firm under the recent advance, and receipts continued light. With the continued cool weather it is expected that receipts will increase, and that prices will decline. Receipts were sixty-seven cases.

Fresh fruits were in light receipt. Conditions were made in some instances. The general tone of the market was firm. Grapes were in light receipt, due to a heavy carry-over from Saturday, and most of the stock on hand was sacrificed. There were a few boxes of pomegranates on the market, but there was very little call for them. They were quoted at $1.50 a lug box. Apple receipts were liberal, but received slight attention. There is plenty of good, ripe stock finding its way in on the market, and prices are well sustained. Crabapples were in liberal receipt, but there was little call for them. The top price on the stock was $1.25 a lug box.

There was very little call for the light receipts of casaba melons. The best stock was quoted at $1 a crate. Winter casabas are expected in shortly, but the crop according to local growers will not be heavy. Considerable quantities of peaches were taken out of storage, but the demand was not heavy. They were quoted from 40 to 75 cents a lug box.

There was little activity in the potato market. Receipts were light, and trade was generally in small amounts. Most of the stock was selling around $1.50 a hundred-weight. Receipts were 1123 sacks.

Tomatoes were in good receipt, and the market was unchanged from Saturday. Lugs were quoted from 25 to 35 cents.

Celery was in fair receipt, the call was light. Most of it was quoted at $1.50 a crate.

Corn offerings were light, and prices were well sustained on good sound stock. Lug boxes were quoted at 50 to 60 cents.

The onion market was unchanged. The market continued dull. Receipts were 313 sacks.

Butter receipts were 38,461 pounds. A firm market was noted on all grades. Creamery extras made up the bulk of the receipts.

Cheese receipts were 4293 pounds. The market was unchanged, ruling firm to steady. Creamery cheese was in light receipt and a firmness was noted in this grade. Other varieties were in poor call and concessions were made.

Bean receipts were 2000 sacks. This is about the heaviest receipts so far this season. Dealers assert that there will be an improvement in this market.

Sweet potato receipts were two sacks.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE.

Most of the Stocks in the Oil Department Show a Better Tendency Than Last Week.

The market on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange opened fairly strong yesterday morning, and especially was this true of the oil stocks. Amalgamated, which has been going up for the past few days, reached $51.50 for the close, which was $1.50 better than Saturday's close. Even at that price none of the stock came out of its hiding places.

Union issues and Mexican Petroleum common made small gains, and Consolidated Midway, not to be an exception, also jumped up a peg. In the mining list Searchlight Parallel sold off two at 1⅛ a share. This stock has been quite lively during the past two or three weeks, on an advancing market.

Rice ranch oil paid a dividend of 1 per cent. yesterday. The meeting of the members of the local exchange called for September 26 was indefinitely postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

Mexican and Other Comstocks Make Gains, and Goldfield Consolidated Holds Its Own.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—There was a 12½ bulge in Mexican and one point in Consolidated Virginia and Union, five points in Belcher, otherwise there were no changes in the Comstocks. Trading was in small volume. Tonopahs were practically unchanged but firm.

Goldfield Consolidated sold ex-dividend fifty cents; counting dividend it held its own. Florence was up 7½. Merger was steady with sales at 25, Nevada Hills dropped back 10 points, Peak, 2. Round Mountain was offered at 45 at the close. The volume of business was light in all departments.

The detailed report of Superintendent Thorne of the Consolidated for August shows gross output to have been $910,477, with net $634,656 or $20.75 per ton.

UP MOVEMENT SOON CHECKED.

RENEWAL OF ACTIVITY IN THE STOCK MARKET.

Offerings of Shares at Even Higher Prices Are Unexpectedly Large and Quotations Then Show a Disposition to Fall—Two Million Gold Shipment for Paris.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—For a time after the opening of the stock market today, a renewal of the upward movement of late last week appeared to be under way. Union Pacific, Reading, Lehigh Valley, Missouri Pacific, American Smelting and American Tobacco preferred, rose a point and United States Steel gained nearly as much. But offerings at the higher prices were unexpectedly large and quotations soon began to fall. The event of the day which attracted most attention was the announcement of the engagement of $2,000,000 gold for shipment to Paris, following the export of $500,000 to the same point on Saturday. Paris appears also as a bidder for the weekly consignment of South African gold in London today, obtaining a part of the offering. The unfavorable tenor of August railroad reports was emphasized by Pennsylvania's showing a decrease of $46,000 in net operating revenues. New York Central System, however, was a marked exception. Net earnings of the parent road and its principal subsidiaries increased largely. In the case of Lake Shore, a shrinkage in gross earnings of $14,000 was accompanied by a reduction in operating expenses of more than $700,000, resulting in a net increase of $687,000, which was only slightly more than the net gain made by the New York Central proper. Trading in the steel stocks fell off with the remainder of the market. Net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the quarter just ended, it is said, may reach $21,000,000. A considerable shrinkage in the visible supply of copper was reported in today's fortnightly statement. Transactions in bonds shrank proportionately with stocks, and the movement was narrow. Prices were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,170,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] At the beginning of business today the condition of the United States Treasury was:

New York Curb Stocks.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 11? West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—There was very little business done in the mining list today on the curb, prices were generally steady with small fractional gains occuring in a few of the more important issues. Stryden and Giroux was quiet with sales at 3 12-16. The market closed dull.

With the exception of North Butte what little activity developed in the coppers was confined to the low priced issues. North Butte was strong on the advice that a crosscut on the 2800-foot level of the Jesse vein had developed a body of ore 6 feet wide running 12 per cent. copper. The Boston market closed steady.

PASADENA, Oct. 3.—Had it not been for a stiff collar—and whoever invented stiff collars!—T. K. Kataoka, a Japanese, who lives at La Lapresa station in North Alhambra, would have laid a desperate highwayman by the heels last Sunday night instead of himself being lashed to a gum tree a peer through a window and see the house ransacked. But, alas, collars, are like boards, and where they grow jiu jitsu is of no avail.

Kataoka is an aged man and the principal member of the firm of Kataoka & Company, which owns several vegetable stores in Los Angeles. But in his youth on the Nippon Isle he was a champion of the mat. Last Sunday evening, he sat on his front porch contentedly smoking and wondering how he could boost the price of cassaba and pumpkins, when the highwayman pounced upon him with an automatic pistol. He did not understand the words, "Hands up!" but the gun presented a nasty appearance and he made a grab for the unwelcome visitor.

He grasped the intruder in a determined grip, and the latter, who is reported to be six feet tall, while Kataoka is but a pigmy, in a moment was spinning in the air. Hat flew one way, the automatic another, and there were yells, and curses.

Then the collar did its deadly work. The Japanese reached for his adversary's throat, and his hand became caught in the infernal contraption. Of course, the outlaw had only to stand up straight to lift the little Asiatic off his feet.

"Get over there and stay, you," he said, and lashed Kataoka to a gum tree close by, one of the windows of the house.

He then proceeded to become a burglar. The vegetable merchant watched the big man open drawer after drawer. A tin cash box was pried asunder, but no money found.

"Dammitt!" swore the burglar.

"Dammitt! dammitt! dammitt!" echoed the owner from out of doors.

The loot finally taken away consisted of $21 and two watches. The burglar gave the Japanese a vicious kick as he departed in retaliation for the kinks that were beginning to be felt in his own huge frame.

"You'll kill me," remonstrated the Japanese.

"Then die," was the response.

Kataoka remained bound to the gum tree until 11 o'clock at night when his son returned from Los Angeles, and cut him loose. He came to Pasadena yesterday morning and related the occurrence to the local police. No trace of the burglar has been found.

The Oriental declined to divulge to the authorities the grip with which he had made the burglar wince, saying that it is a secret dear to his heart.

CONCRETE BENCHES.

There will be no carving of initials in the street benches which the City Park Commission purposes placing at different points in the city. The commissioners yesterday decided to put the benches constructed entirely of concrete. Furthermore, the seats will be planted in the ground, like fence posts, so that even a Hercules could not move them.

Superintendent of Parks Albrecht assured the commission that the cost of the finished benches will not exceed $8.10 apiece.

Albrecht yesterday was authorized to purchase 100 black acacias for the parking of Fiske avenue.

The commissioners also discussed the question of whether they will ask the City Council to enact an ordinance compelling owners of distillate tanks to place them underground. No definite step was taken.

MANAGER UNDAUNTED.

J. C. Nielson, manager of Clune's theater, has answered the demands of the members of his orchestra, who walked out on a strike last Saturday night, by placing in the pit a woman's orchestra which is now supplying the music of this playhouse. He said last night that he was not disposed to grant the demands made by the striking musicians and that "it is more than likely" that the women's orchestra will become a permanent factor of the business.

"I had no trouble with my orchestra men," he said, "and am on good personal terms with them. They received word from Los Angeles and went on a strike. We are running our own business. The men were receiving $20 a week and they wanted $21 or $22."

CITY BRIEFS.

J. R. Coulston, president of the Crown City National Bank, recently paid a visit to the vicinity of Austin, Pa., having left there only three days before the dam gave way, letting the waters of the Bayless Pulp and Paper Company's great reservoir inundate that city. Coulston is now on his way back to Pasadena.

Proprietors of the large winter hotels of Pasadena are making preparations for business. The Hotel Green will open for business December 26, as was announced yesterday, and the Hotel Raymond will throw open its doors the day following. The party of Los Angeles men who spent the past ten days on a fishing trip, the destination of which was Santa Cruz Island, returned home yesterday. Dr. R. W. Force provided the chief excitement of the outing when he climbed into a breeches buoy to inspect the wreck of the Comet off San Miguel Island. The rope sagged and he was soused into the ocean. He was rescued by Deputy Building Inspector Frank Brenner.

Long Beach.

SEARCH SO FAR IS UNAVAILING.

LONG BEACH DRUGGIST STILL AMONG THE MISSING.

Descriptions and Pictures Have Been Sent All Over Southern California by the Police—Wife Is in a Critical Condition—Three Men in a Boat Have Hardships.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 2.—The publicity given the disappearance of Druggist Preston Barritt, from his store last Tuesday following a domestic difficulty has so far been barren of result, and Mrs. Barritt today is completely prostrated and in a critical condition.

Two hundred red postcards with his photo and description have been sent broadcast by the police in an effort to locate the missing pharmacist.

It was learned this morning that a few days before his disappearance Barritt appeared at an apartment house on the bech at 3 o'clock in the morning and engaged a room, saying he would leave early in the morning. This act probably followed one of the frequent scenes with his wife. Inquiry is being made today at other rooming-houses in the hope that Barritt may be quietly resting up and waiting for the home troubles to blow over, but so far not trace of him has been secured.

ALL NIGHT VIGIL.

Jack Gerard, Roy Davis and Frank O'Neill were landed today after an all-night vigil in a small launch out in the Catalina channel. The boys left yesterday for a cruise and during the afternoon a stiff breeze tossed their boat about like a cork and the gasoline giving out, the trio were unable to reach a supply tank and rolled about until near midnight when a belated fisherman was hailed and gave them a tow into port. The boys were badly exhausted by their enforced vigil.

CHIEF IN WRECK.

Fire Chief Shrewsbury, who has been East attending the national convention, telegraphed today that he had been in a wreck on the Santa Fe near Grand Junction, but had escaped injury. No other details were given.

FALSE ALARM.

An excited woman sent in a fire alarm this morning to the department with the assertion that she had been roused by the sound of an explosion and believed the Craig ship plant had been blown up. Investigation proved that some unknown roysterer had fired a revolver underneath her window and she mistook the sound for an explosion.

CABIN CRUISER.

A cabin cruiser for A. F. Harris of Los Angeles was launched today on the inner harbor. It is thirty-two feet long, seven-foot beam with a draught of two feet, six inches, and is equipped with a twenty-four-horsepower engine with a speed of sixteen knots an hour. A semi-hydroplane for Capt. Leffingwell is also about ready for launching. It is a new kind of craft for these waters and is seventy feet long with a twelve-foot beam and a moulded depth of six feet, eight inches, and will have four White-Hamer engines and eight flash generators.

BOLD THIEF.

With lights burning in several rooms and the family occupying the living-room, burglars last night entered the home of C. A. Schrand on American avenue and were ransacking the kitchen when the combined family burst in on them. The burglars, two of them, bolted out of the door and escaped.

Santa Monica.

POLITICIANS SEE BUGABOO.

Santa Monica Candidates Anticipate Danger.

Important Construction Work Is Being Planned.

Gasoline Launch Damaged by a Rough Sea.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 2.—The establishment here by the Pacific Electric of a camp of 200 men fell as a bomb in the political camp. Some of the candidates had evidently overlooked the fact that the trolley line had so arranged its affairs that work would be on in full blast on the new Eighth-street line at city election time. The work is starting and the camp is located on South Eighth and the plowing of the street has been started as incidental to the grading and laying of the track.

Men who would be in the running in December have already reached the conclusion that if the electric line should seek to play the game of politics it would have a sufficient number of qualified voters to turn the tide of battle in any direction sought. With four candidates for Mayor already in the field, the political wiseacres say the railroad has but to name its preference and he will be the next Mayor. Railroad men scoff at the idea and say the road has no interest in the politics of Santa Monica.

Although there are four candidates from which to select, it is an open secret that a heart to heart canvass of the city has been made, sounding the voters as to the probable strength of J. C. Steele. The conclusion having been understood to be that Steele could not "split the wood," a house to house follow-up system is being followed in the interest of B. A. Nebeker. The returns on this query are not yet all in and at this time it is not known whether the die will be cast for or against Nebeker. Another prospective candidate is W. I. Hull, who once before made the race.

Some of the local candidates are beginning to find the job of being properly nominated a most difficult task. The nomination law was amended by the last Legislature. Heretofore where nominations were made by petition—the method followed here—the petitions could be signed with impunity by any qualified elector. Under the amendment, the petitioner under oath declares his "intention to support the candidate herein nominated." Dozens and scores of voters are refusing to affix their signatures to any nomination petitions, on the ground that they are unwilling to make oath that they will support a candidate at the polls.

IMPORTANT WORK.

The railroad work being started at this time has to do with the construction of one of the most important local feeders ever planned for the electric system. It consists of a line running south on Eighth street to Garfield avenue, reaching the new High School en route and giving a rich section of back country direct connection with the business center. The line is destined to in time become a link in a new direct and short route from Santa Monica to Los Angeles, via Fredericks and Palms. The line also crosses and connects with the Air Line, which rumor says will be four-tracked just as the up-coast extension to Santa Barbara and Ventura is built.

The sea was unusually rough throughout the night and all of today. The waves rolled in and the white caps forming far out boomed great guns as they piled up on the shore. The gasoline launch Emma, anchored off the municipal pier, dragged her anchor early in the afternoon and headed for the shore, borne on the crest of the breakers. Capt. Gill ventured out in a small boat and boarded the laboring vessel, thinking to save her by starting the engines and heading her for deep water. But the engines refused to work. He remained with the launch until her hull scraped the sand. Then he swam ashore. A rope was made fast to the launch and an effort was made to haul her ashore and out of reach of the pounding breakers; but indifferent success attended this move. The Emma, worth about $2500 and more than thirty feet long, has sustained considerable damage, but may again be made seaworthy.

TO CLOSE STREETS.

Mayor Dudley today issued the official proclamation closing on October 14, the streets over which the great automobile road races are to be run and the Council has passed an ordinance withdrawing the speed limitations for a period covering the race and the practice days preceding. The course will be open for practice daily from 6 to 8 a.m. from Friday of the present week until the day of the race, including Sunday. Notice to this effect will be given to the public and all endeavors will be made to keep the course clear of all vehicles during the hours set apart for the testing of machines that are to race.

Rapid progress is being made by A. Stutzer and his forces in razing the old bath house at North eBach. It is expected that the entire structure will be level with the ground in two or three weeks. Although it was constructed thirteen years ago, nearly all of the lumber contained in it is as sound as it was when the building was dedicated. It was built at a cost of $40,000 and was truthfully boomed at the time as being the "finest structure of the kind in the State, outside of San Francisco, and an honor to the progressive spirit which has made Southern California bound forward so rapidly." During the past few years it has been unused, was referred to as the ancient ruins and was looked upon as the eyesore of the beach.

ENTERTAIN RAILROAD MEN.

Monrovia Citizens Offer the Bread of Hospitality and Make Their Needs Known.

MONROVIA, Oct. 2.—General Manager Paul Shoup, General Passenger Agent J. S. McMillan, Traffic Manager Pontius and other general officers of the Pacific Electric Railroad Company were guests of the city this afternoon.

Their visit was in response to the invitation of the Board of Trade and Merchants' Association to investigate conditions with reference to building a spur from Monrovia-Glendora main line to the canyon, and modernizing the horse-car line from Lime avenue to the Santa Fe station, one mile south.

The railway officials were met at the station by H. S. McKee, representing the Board of City Trustees and by W. N. Monroe, Dr. J. S. Allison, H. J. Evans, Dr. F. E. Wilson and W. H. Evans, representing the Board of Trade and Merchants' Association.

Neither diplomacy nor hard cash could induce the general manager of the local horse-car line to meet the guests with the ancient go-cart which constitutes the rolling stock of the Pacific Electric spur to the Santa Fe, and the receiving committee was compelled to use autos. Different possible routes to the mouth of the canyon were traversed and from the present terminus of the mountain road the party continued afoot to Saw Pit Falls.

On their return, the Pacific Electric officials were entertained at the Granite Club. After congratulating Monrovians on heir progress and enterprise, and making especial mention of the extent and character of building operations, Mr. Shoup promised to advise the committee in the near future regarding the company's plans in the matter of extensions and betterments.

The Itching Stops On First Application

(From Advanced Science)

"For many years a drug common in laboratory circles and known among chemists as quintone has been employed by them in their work, but until recently its medicinal properties were unknown.

"A year ago it was learned that a quintone solution is wonderfully soothing and healing when applied even in the most aggravated cases of eczema and other torturous skin ailments.

"The treatment is simple and inexpensive. The first application, it is said, will instantly stop the most annoying and intense itching.

"Chemists say to prepare this you get an original package of quintone (just as it comes from the chemical works) and dissolve in a half-pint of hot water, then apply to affected parts twice daily."

How Society Woman Wards Off Wrinkles

"Wrinkles are not strangers to me, but when I acquire such disfigurements I know how to lose them in a hurry." A well-known society matron confided this to me. I had wondered how she, with her strenuous social duties and late hours, could so completely ward off the usual marks of care and dissipation.

"I don't wear wrinkles in public, nor those horrid rings beneath the eyes," she continued, "since I've learned what plain, ordinary saxolite will do. When any of those hateful marks appear, I send to the drug store for an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half pint of witch hazel. I mix the two, bathe my face in the solution and—that's the whole secret. I've never tried anything that works so miraculously. My chin is inclined to double; this trouble, too, I keep in check in the same way."—Emily Dean in Town Talk

100 Player Pianos Must Be Sold at Once

Biggest Piano House in Los Angeles

Forced Out By Landlord

Warning

Another dealer, desiring to profit by the Eilers reputation, and the large trade that has come to us, has squatted right beside us in such a manner that many unsuspecting people get into the wrong store; thinking they are in Eilers'; but, watch; see that you get into Eilers'; see that your receipts are signed by Eilers; see that you get Eilers' quality; see that you get Eilers' satisfaction.

Caution

Look over the door for the name EILERS; otherwise you may be decoyed into the wrong store. At present we are unable to secure a satisfactory location, but until we do we shall confine our efforts to our wholesale business, supplying retail stores in Southern California from our Los Angeles wholesale warehouses. We are going to close our Los Angeles retail store, located at 346 South Broadway, closing it up absolutely until such time as we can get a suitable building and location. Almost any amount, no matter how small, will buy a splendid piano.

$800.00 Player Piano Now $287.00

Every Player Piano Goes at Once Regardless of Cost

In player pianos we can offer you your choice of the very choicest. The player piano is now the standard instrument of the American Navy, and in use in every town on the Pacific Coast; the Eilers de Luxe Player, manufactured under the supervision of C. B. Lawson, superintendent of the Weber Factory during the years when the Weber was at its best; the Welte Mignon, made in Germany, which faithfully reproduces the playing of the master pianists, have pronounced the most perfect player-piano ever put upon castors. The Bungalow Player (Registered,) highly adapted to the bungalow and the small apartment, on account of its compact size, but which still has the complete keyboard and plays the standard 88-note music roll; all of these and many others are at hand for the purchaser of a good player-piano.

We will make it an object to you to pay cash for these pianos, but if you are unable to do that bring $50.00 and choose your instrument. If that is too much, bring $20.00, or bring $10.00, or bring $5.00. Every instrument in this store has got to go at once. If you are unable to pay any more simply pay the cartage and take them away. Use them free for a couple of months. They must be moved out of here at once.

Every piano and player piano must go at once, regardless of loss. Think of seeing such celebrated makes as Decker, Weber, Kimball, Knabe, Marshall & Wendell, Steinway, Schubert, and most all the aristocratic pianos of the world, all on one floor, and all offered at prices that make it now an easy matter for you to own whichever instrument most appeals to you. There are dozens of famous make pianos that ordinarily sell from $500 to $600, now offered at $112, $126, $139 and $167. All of the best player pianos and piano players are included in this sale. Is it any wonder that buyers for Southern California music dealers are crowding the store and snapping up these wonderful bargains? Name your own terms, buy your piano for your own price. BUT ACT QUICKLY. Pianos must be sold if we have to sell them at $50 apiece.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES

San Bernardino.

BOLD CRIME IS COMMITTED.

San Bernardino Man Claims He Was Kidnaped.

Compelled to Sign Deeds to His Property.

Strange Tale Being Investigated by the Police.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 2.—That Charles Redman, employee of the Pacific Light and Power Company, was boldly kidnaped by men who forced him to sign his name to deeds transferring away his property, is Redman's statement made to friends today. He disappeared Saturday night. Two strangers, claiming to be officers, forced their way into his room and forcibly took him from the house. He says they were met on the outside by a third man who claimed to be the local sheriff.

According to the remarkable statement of Redman he was hustled off to Los Angeles, and there compelled to deed away his property. He was then released, and returned here this morning, again resuming his work with the Pacific Light and Power Company. This story is being investigated by the officers.

CASE CONTINUED.

Dr. A. W. McDavit was arraigned this morning before the Superior Court and his case continued to Thursday when he will plead to a high misdemeanor charge. McDavit is a dentist. He is charged with having been intimate with Miss Jessie McDonald, 22 years of age, of this city. Some weeks ago it was discovered that the young woman had been occupying a room adjoining the dentist's office for a period of 15 months, only during the night leaving the room. Many curious persons were in the courtroom to witness the arraignment. It is believed he will plead guilty to the charge and a plea for parole will be made.

HEART DILATION.

That Mrs. F. W. Willard died of heart dilation, and that she was temporarily insane at the time is the conclusion of the Coroner's investigation into the woman's death. Mrs. Willard died Saturday morning after having been in hysteria since the day before. She claimed that an automobilist had come to her home and informed her that her husband, a Salt Lake fireman, had been injured in a wreck. This statement of the deceased was found to have been entirely based upon hallucinations, no such statement having been made to her.

LAST TRIBUTES.

The San Bernardino County Bar Association today presented to the Superior Court a set of resolutions in memory of the late Judge L. M. Sprecher, who died recently at San Diego. Judge F. F. Oster and Judge B. F. Bledsoe each made touching addresses.

CHARGED WITH ROBBING BLIND.

ARTILLERYMAN CHARGE WITH SERIOUS OFFENSE.

Election in Lower California Passed Off With No Disturbance and Madero Ticket Was Given the Finest Sort of Support—Mrs. Bowers Wants Probation.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 2.—George Sutton, a member of the Twenty-eighth Company, Coast Artillery corps, is accused of having robbed a blind man. Sutton was arrested at Ft. Rosecrans by Detectives Carse and Wisler shortly after noon today and is now being held on a charge of robbery.

The complaining witness is W. E. Dixon, who is not only blind, but practically an invalid. Dixon alleges that Sutton robbed him of $40 in a room in the Fresno House last Saturday afternoon.

QUIET ELECTION.

Primary elections in Lower California passed off quietly yesterday, not a single disturbance having been registered, either in Ensenada, Tia Juana, or any other place in the northern district of the peninsula. Yesterday's elections are called in Mexico "Primarias" or primary, and were for the purpose of choosing "Electores," or representatives of groups of 500 persons each, to go to the "Colegio Electoral," or Electoral Assembly, where the "electors" elect President and Vice-President of the Republic, also Representatives to Congress and the Senate and magistrates of the Supreme Court.

At Tia Juana, four candidates ran for the nomination of electors, Silvio Blanco, Gustavo Gomez Montano, Joaquin San Doval, and Federico Estudillo Blanco, who advocates Madero-Vasquez Gomez ticket, was elected by a large majority over the others and will go to Ensenada, where the assembly is to be installed on the 15th inst. for the final elections. Returns will be known on the first day of November, and the persons elected go into office December 1.

WANTS PROBATION.

Mrs. Rose E. Bowers, who pleaded guilty in the Superior Court to a charge of forging orders for pianos on the Fitzgerald Music Company, today applied to Judge Lewis for probation. For the first time since her arrest, several weeks ago, Mrs. Bowers was represented by counsel. Attorney Adam Thompson, in making his plea to the court, intimated that Mrs. Bowers is a dupe of other persons. He pleaded for time to conduct an investigation by which he expects to present to the court additional evidence in the case. Judge Lewis granted the request, setting Thursday morning as the time when the woman will be sentenced.

TO VISIT SAN PEDRO.

For the next three days the flagship California and West Virginia and the cruiser Colorado will engage in practice work off Coronado Islands. The practice will consist of range finding and practice in gun pointing, all preliminary to the heavy gun work which will begin November 1. The three cruisers after a rest of two days in the harbor, left port shortly before 8 o'clock this morning. Possibly they will be joined by the cruiser South Dakota, now en route south from San Francisco. However, Rear-Admiral Chauncey Thomas believes the South Dakota will remain at San Pedro until the fleet reaches there.

The plans now are that the cruisers will complete their preliminary work on the night of October 5. They will proceed direct to San Pedro, where they will remain a few days preparing to take part in the reception to President Taft at the ground-breaking exercises at San Francisco October 15.

MACHINERY BEGINS TO GRIND IN M'NAMARA TRIAL.

Attorneys Working Night and Day to Be Ready for Opening the Case. Harrington Examination Postponed to Permit More Important Details to Be Completed Rapidly.

Judge Bordwell held a conference with Dist.-Atty. Fredericks and another with Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, in his chambers, yesterday. No one would give the purpose or results of the conference.

There is an air of expectancy at the offices of the District Attorney. The date of the trial is so near that every day counts. A vast amount of work has been performed and there is considerable yet to be done. The evidence, however, is in shape to be presented at any time.

Counsel for the defense, however, plainly indicate that they would like a postponement, but say they will be ready for trial on the 11th inst. Both in the Hall of Records and in the Higgins building, where Darrow's offices are located, the work goes on unceasingly.

This making use of every minute is no doubt the reason why a week's grace was granted John R. Harrington, who was ordered by Judge Bordwell last week to go before the grand jury at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and answer the questions propounded him, his previous refusal to do which having brought him into court to show cause why he should not be held for contempt. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford agreed to a postponement.

Harrington is charged with having attempted to bribe Mrs. Ingersoll, one of the chief witnesses for the State, in San Francisco. He is associated as an attorney with the defense, and is said to be in charge of the work of obtaining evidence.

Sheriff Hammel is having printed a large number of summonses for veniremen. On the back is printed the remarks of a certain judge, with reference to the necessity of venire-men abstaining from being drawn into conversation about the case on which they have been summoned.

Judge Bordwell said yesterday that veniremen are practically wards of the court; that the moment their names were made public they would be subject to insidious approaches, either by well-meaning persons or those otherwise disposed, and it was to their best interest to avoid talking about the case.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks returned to his offices in the Hall of Records yesterday morning looking in fine fettle. The several days he passed on Catalina Island gave him a needed rest. He was closeted all day with his deputies, and practically excluded himself from all visitors.

WOOL-RATE HEARING.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The hearing on wool, hides, pelts and mohair rates from Arizona to eastern markets, which adjourned at Salt Lake City a week ago, was resumed here yesterday by Examiner Prouty of the Interstate Commerce Commission. F. W. Brown, an El Paso dealer; P. T. Hurley of Phoenix, in the hides rate case; A. H. Porter, a Phoenix manufacturer, and H. H. Scorse, a wool grower of Holbrook, Ariz., testified that in their opinion the existing rates were too high. P. M. Hastings, general freight agent of the Santa Fe and Prescott and Phoenix railways, and H. C. Toll, assistant general freight agent of the Southern Pacific, defended the rates. E. S. Depass, secretary of the Arizona Railway Commission, acting as traffic expert for the National and Arizona Growers' associations, introduced a rate table covering the entire western wool situation. Depass testified that in his opinion a one-dollar rate on wool from Arizona to all eastern points would be fair. The next hearing will be held in Chicago October 24.

EMMA EAMES'S TOUR.

SPOKANE, Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Emilio de Gorgoza and Mme. Emma Eames opened their American concert tour in Spokane last night before an audience that filled the Auditorium Theater. They were received with great enthusiasm.

PRESIDENT'S CONDOLENCES.

HASTINGS (Neb.) Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] President Taft yesterday sent the following telegram to Mrs. Schley of Washington: "I am very sorry to hear of the death of your husband, who has honored me for many years with his friendship. He was an able commander, he served his country faithfully and well, and is entitled to our gratitude. I tender my profound sympathy in your great sorrow."

TWO BOMBS EXPLODE.

MADRID, Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Governor of Badajos telegraphs that two bombs were placed yesterday on a bridge at Entrobamento, Portugal, one of which exploded and damaged the bridge. No one was injured.

MOTHER IS PROSTRATED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The mother of Cromwell Dixon, the boy aviator, was prostrated last night over the death of her son by a fall in his biplane at Spokane. "Poor Cromwell," Mrs. Dixon cried when friends had ventured to tell her the full facts. "My boy's one ambition was to become an aviator and he had devoted his whole time to it for years. When he was 12 years old he started to navigate the air in his 'sky-cycle' near our home in Columbus, O. There was nothing but bravery in my boy. In spite of the dangers of his hazardous work he tried and tried until he was successful."

COLUMBUS (O.) Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Although he had only recently passed his nineteenth birthday, Cromwell Dixon was a pioneer in the development of aircraft. His first ascension was made at the Ohio State Fair in this city; his home, in August, 1907, when Dixon was only 15 years old. His machine, a dirigible, had been constructed by himself and included in its mechanism parts of a bicycle. He won the honors at the meet over Knabenshue and several other competitors.

KILLING THE SQUIRREL.

STOCKTON, Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] That nothing be left undone toward eradicating the bubonic plague, which made its appearance in the southern part of this county several weeks ago, one thousand farmers, representing about 80,000 acres, have agreed to give a 5-cent per acre tax levy by which funds will be raised to fight the squirrels of the district affected. The crusade will be conducted under the auspices of the San Joaquin County Medical Society and the government experts here. The amount raised by the farmers represents but one-fifth of the total cost of the campaign to be waged.

ITALIANS GOING HOME.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] While it is said at the Italian Consulate that some young Italians were returning to their native land under the conscript laws which compelled service in the army for two years on reaching the age of 20, no move had been made or was likely to be made for compulsory mobilization in this country of Italians liable to service. At the Turkish Consulate it was said the service of Ottomans in the United States, numbering about 500,000, would not be needed.

STRIKE RIOT IN HOUSTON.

HOUSTON (Tex.) Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] One of the men guarding the shops of the Southern Pacific Railroad, J. J. Pipes of Athens, Tex., dead; another, S. D. Crockett of Athens, Tex., shot and seriously wounded; Gordon Knight of Athens, special guard, badly cut and bruised, and Capt. S. D. Sisk, special guard, battered, is the result of a melee that followed the disembarkation shortly after midnight of strike-breakers brought from New Orleans to replace employees in the Houston shops of the Harriman lines now on strike. Conflicting statements are made as to the responsibility for the affray.

REPUBLCAN CALL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] After a meeting here yesterday between former Gov. John F. Hill of Augusta, Me., acting chairman, and William Hayward of New York City, secretary of the Republican National Committee, a call was issued for a meeting of the committee in Washington, December 12. At this meeting the claims of various cities for the national convention will be heard and the place and time will be decided. Among others, Buffalo, St. Louis and Chicago will be applicants. It is necessary for this call to be issued in time to notify the members in Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, Alaska and Porto Rico.

BARRED FROM FLOOD ZONE.

AUSTIN (Pa.) Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] State Commissioner Dixon issued an order yesterday that no one but officials and employees of the State Health Department, other officials or newspaper correspondents should be allowed in the flood zone. This order was issued because news of the disaster had attracted thousands to Austin. A bread line was formed in Austin for the first time. Heretofore relief had been extended to the needy by neighbors or friends. State Sanitary Engineer F. Herbert Snow, who is in charge of getting the bodies out and clearing away the wreckage, has sent in a requisition for several hundred carpenters and they are being rushed here on a special train.

THE MEXICAN ELECTION.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Within a week it may be possible to ascertain who was elected Vice-President of Mexico in Sunday's elections, but now it is predicted it may take the official count of the 20,000 votes of the electoral college three weeks hence to determine the winner. Madero has been elected President without doubt. In Tehuantepec there was a clash between factions in local politics, in which seven men were killed. At the headquarters of the Progressive party claims of an undoubted victory for Jose Pino Suarez for Vice-President were made. The Catholics are equally confident.

BRYAN TOASTS PRESIDENT WITH SPARKLING WATER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HASTINGS (Neb.) Oct. 2.—President Taft sped across Nebraska today and is tonight on his way to Denver, where he is due at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Mr. Taft spent a part of the forenoon in Omaha, stopping for two hours at Lincoln, the home of his former political adversary, William Jennings Bryan, and was entertained here tonight at a banquet.

Mr. Bryan helped to welcome the President in Lincoln, and at the Commercial Club luncheon proposed the President's health in "the beverage upon which the Almighty has set the seal of His approval." It was drunk in sparkling water. Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan exchanged felicitations and seemed to enjoy their meeting.

The entertainment of the President at Omaha, at Lincoln and here tonight was of a non-partisan character, but the atmosphere was surcharged with politics.

Mr. Taft got a hearty welcome in all three cities.

At Lincoln it seemed that the entire population had turned out. But the Republican leaders with whom the President and Secretary Hilles talked were anything but optimistic over the prospect of harmonizing the party differences in the State.

Gov. Aldrich accompanied the President on his trip from Omaha, but the Presidential party had scarcely left Lincoln before there was made public a letter from the Governor announcing that he would support Senator La Follette for the Presidential nomination and that his decision to do so was unequivocal.

At Lincoln and Omaha, Mr. Taft spoke on world peace.

The President declared international peace was one subject on which he and Mr. Bryan agreed. And to the plaudits of the latter's fellow-townsmen, Mr. Taft gave Mr. Bryan credit for having suggested one of the most important provisions in the pending treaties of arbitration with Great Britain and France.

He referred to the clause creating a joint high commission to consider questions of difference before they finally are referred to an arbitral court, and to the further provision that this commission should take a year to consider its findings and recommendations

TWO TRAINS IN HEAD-ON CRASH

One Killed in Collision on Crozier Switch.

California Limited, Santa Fe, Badly Damaged.

Crack Flyer Comes in Fourteen Hours Behind.

The California Limited on the Santa Fe, due here yesterday afternoon, was fourteen hours late, being delayed by a collision with an eastbound equipment train at Crozier, Ariz., early yesterday morning.

Conductor Boyd of Needles was killed. The injured include Postal Clerk Morrison and Engineer Sheene of the Limited, and Engineer Wadleigh on the extra train. Boyd was killed while standing in the baggage car, a pile of heavy trunks falling on him. It is customary for conductors operating vestibule trains to stand in the door of the baggage car to observe signals while passing stations.

Engineer Wadleigh was preparing to side-track his train when the accident occurred. Engineer Sheene made every effort to stop the train, undoubtedly preventing a far more serious accident. The wreck was cleared at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and traffic resumed.

The new offices are commodiously furnished and are more readily accessible than the old. It will be open every day from 6:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Who's Who?

PASTOR PICKS PLENTY FLAWS.

"INTERFERENCE UNCECESSARY" SAYS MANAGER'S WIFE.

Strickland School for Boys Object of Concern to Members of Beth-El Church and Committee Complains of Alleged Mismanagement to Supervisors—Promise to Act.

An appeal to the County Supervisors to investigate conditions existing at the J. Strickland Home for Boys, and other homes at which delinquent boys and girls are cared for at the expense of the county, was made yesterday by Rev. J. P. Widney and S. A. Widney of Beth-El Church.

Politely requesting audience of the board, Rev. Mr. Widney stated that Beth-El Church has always taken a great interest in the boys at the Strickland home and has often secured homes for young members of that institution.

"However," he continued, "we find in the home no systematic training of the boys to habits of industry and no appliances for such training. This is a wrong to the boys, as well as to the community and to future generations. The taxpayers are expending $12 a month for the support of every boy in the home who is a ward of the county, and surely these boys should be forming habits of industry.

"Lately, however, the managers of the Strickland home have shown a great aversion to the kindness of the members of Beth-El Church who attempt to find homes for the boys. Mr. Strickland said that he considered as an enemy any one who takes a boy from the home and places him anywhere else."

The Supervisors promised to investigate.

J. Strickland, when interviewed, said that the associate pastors of Beth-El Church are mistaken in their ideas about the management of the institution.

"Both Mr. Strickland and I consider the interference of certain members of Beth-El Church has been entirely unnecessary," said his wife. "In the first place, there are a great many boys in the home who are not wards of the county and we are trying to do our best by them, as well as by the ones sent us from the Juvenile Court. It is the duty of the probation officers to see that the wards are given homes or properly taken care of when the time comes for them to leave the home. We invite the public to visit us at any time and see for themselves the manner in which things are conducted here in the home. The boys are given all the work which they should do. In the mad rush of present day life, people are apt to forget that children, and especially so-called bad children, require a great deal of healthful play, as well as work, for their proper physical, mental and moral development."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Twelve Lawyers: One Woman.

Twelve attorneys were admitted to practice on motion before the United States Circuit and District Court yesterday. Among the number was Miss Dora Berres.

Woman's Face Burned.

While opening a can at her home, No. 326 North Hill street yesterday, Mrs. Fannie Manger, 50 years old, splashed lye, into her face and was severely burned.

Breaks Her Thigh.

Mrs. Mary St. Clair, 80 years old, living at No. 218 North Fremont street, broke her right thigh yesterday afternoon, when she stepped from a car on Thirty-eighth street and fell.

Were Fresh Once.

Thomas Jones, who conducts a grocery at Monets, was fined $10 by Justice Young for a violation of the pure food laws, yesterday. He sold a case of eggs to Salvadore Streva, alleged to have been warranted "fresh ranch." Streva suspected that the hen fruit was of the cold storage variety and some of the eggs were sent to the State Chemist at Sacramento, who confirmed the diagnosis.

Taft Banquet List Enlarged.

The committee having in charge the banquet for President Taft has decided to increase the attendance from 300 to 450. The balcony, assembly room that opens into the main dining-room of the Hotel Alexandria, where the banquet is to be given, has been engaged, and the 150 over the original 300 applying for tickets will be seated here. There is now a large waiting list. It has been announced that members of the Chamber of Commerce desiring to hear President Taft's address at Temple Auditorium on the morning of October 16 can have tickets by application to the secretary.

Seeks Husband and Child.

Mrs. Elizabeth Seeley of Sierra Vista is earnestly seeking news as to the whereabouts of her husband, Fred Stewart Seeley, and her 4-year-old son, Stewart, who disappeared together September 19. The child is small and slender, with light hair and blue eyes. He was dressed in a blue overcoat and blue felt hat. Seeley is 42 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 150 pounds, has gray hair and eyes and wears strong glasses. His left arm is about two inches shorter than the right. When last seen he was wearing a gray suit but had other clothing with him.

Wins at Last.

The Secretary of the Interior has confirmed the right of Modest Lampert to 160 acres of desert land in Imperial county. A contest was instituted by Margaret Jaquay, who alleged that Lambert had not carried out the provisions of the law relating to such entries. On a hearing of the case before Register Buren and Receiver Robinson, of the local land office, the finding was against her. An appeal was taken to the general land office, where the opinion was favorable to the woman. In turn, Lambert appealed the case to the Secretary of the Interior. The final decision is in his favor, confirming the view of the case taken by the local officials.

HIS NERVE ADMIRABLE.

Japanese Romeo Filches Pair of Juliets From Shoe Shop and Returns to Have Them Stretched.

The medal for nerve, pure, unadulterated and brazen, is now awarded to M. Nakanishi, the police believe, as the fictionists say, thereby hangs a tale.

According to the story which yesterday was circulated in police circles, Nakanishi stole three pairs of shoes from a South Main street shop and returned an hour later and blandly asked the Hebrew proprietor to stretch one pair.

This pair, the police say, was intended for Nakanishi's lady love, and a of the pattern known as Juliets.

The Jap entered the store the first time, according to the proprietor, to cash a check. When the son of Nippon had gone, the shoeman discovered that his stock had been depleted by three pairs of shoes.

When Nakanishi reappeared with the Juliets and said that they were too small for his adored one's feet, the accommodating proprietor willingly agreed to stretch them. While he was doing this trick, a detective entered the shop, and Romeo Nakanishi was ingloriously escorted to the Police Station—without the Juliets.

When the Jap was searched by the police, several letters from the intended recipient of the Juliets were found in his pockets.

The police say that Nakanishi has previously been arrested for minor offenses. Yesterday he was locked up on a grand larceny charge.

THE POLITICAL WATCHTOWER.

A meeting of the Good Government organization's Central Committee, composed of one committeeman from each precinct — 241 in all — has been called for tomorrow night. Its purpose is to decide whether the organization is to indorse any candidates for office before the primary election of the 31st inst., and if so, how it is to be done. In Good Government organization parlance, the Executive Committee has "initiated" this question and the meeting is to be a "referendum" vote. It is for the large body to decide.

A month ago there would have been no such necessity for any action, but the "red menace" is understood just as well by the G. G. O. managers as any others. The only candidate of the G. G. O. is Mayor Alexander. But the reds have indorsed their whole ticket, from Mayor down, and insist on a solid vote for each candidate. If their strength at the polls is what they claim or what others believe, they are the only ones who are sure of qualifying for the December finals. This means a final election between the reds and such others as are nominated.

Now non-partisan, anti-machine, no-convention politics is all right in a way. It is a good tool to break up some other fellow's organization and power. But politics is always practical and when practical questions arise they must be solved by practical political methods. Hence if the reds are practical it is fatuous folly, say the G. G. O.'s to be impractical and not indorse.

What menaces the G. G. O. (besides red) is the possibility that many of the candidates it might favor after the primaries for the Council and other offices, may not qualify. With sixty-five candidates on the ballot the nine Socialists have the advantage, having at least 10,000 votes solidly behind them, if estimates are correct. This leaves fifty-six candidates to cut one another's political throats and almost anybody may qualify. The result of such campaign piracy may present to the G.G.O. after the primaries nine Socialists and nine others, most of the second nine being, perhaps, persons non grata at Goo-Goo headquarters.

The issuance of a call for the meeting yesterday closely followed the disclosure that questions had been asked each candidate as to his mayoralty preference and indicates that something is doing rapidly in the Good Government ranks.

There is serious doubt, however, whether indorsement will prevail and if it does, whether nine, eighteen or twenty-seven candidates will be approved. The answers as to mayoralty preferences may have much to do with the decision.

Francis J. Heney is to join the get-the-government-back-to-the-people crusaders this week. He is to speak tomorrow night at Pasadena and Saturday night he is to address the City Club at a public meeting at Temple Auditorium. This will be the finish of the campaign for the initiative, referendum and recall. The Heney party will include Dr. John R. Haynes, "father of direct legislation," John T. McBean and Congressman W. D. Stephens. Heney is also to speak at Redlands and San Diego.

"The Piano With The Violyn Plate"

Kranich & Bach

Its beautiful "singing" tone has made the Kranich & Bach Piano a general favorite for sixty years. It is a Piano of exclusive features — and through these it has obtained among musicians a place exclusively its own.

Rich, Sweet, "Harplike" Tone

The wonderful tone quality of the Kranich & Bach is due in large measure to the famous "Violyn Plate." This is an exclusive Kranich & Bach feature which permits the violin principle of stringing for the first time in an Upright Piano.

As the Kranich & Bach also has the largest Sounding Board used in any Piano, and the longest strings, it affords a bigger volume of sound with unusual sweetness—a wonderful "harplike" quality.

You'll never tire of this Kranich & Bach tone, and as an accompaniment and support to the singing voice it is quite unequalled. The light, delicate touch of this instrument commends it especially to the Pianist.

We have Kranich & Bach Pianos in Uprights and Grands, priced at $525 to $950, and purchasable on payments of $10 or more monthly.

Kranich & Bach Player Pianos

The Kranich & Bach Player Piano brings into the home the joys and refining influence of all musical compositions without necessitating any previous musical education. It immediately endows its owner—without study or practice—with an absolutely technical perfection quite impossible of accomplishment with human hands. With its marvelous "Tri-Melodeme" and other exclusive devices, all simple and easily operated, it provides means for personal control and expression, or interpretation, not excelled by the ability of the most famous Concert Pianists. The Kranich & Bach Player is purchasable at $950 on very favorable terms. Free music goes with it, and free exchange privileges in our great Music Library.

The Way Out.

HE'D CURE CONGESTION BY SAN PEDRO STREET.

Expert Arnold Reccommends Diversion of Pacific Electric Cars That Way to Relieve Main-Street Traffic, and Municipal Railway Committee Approves His Report—Great Loss of Time Daily.

CONGESTED TROLLEY TRAFFIC on Main street is an acute disease, according to the diagnosis of Bion J. Arnold, "doctor of sick railways," of Chicago, which is costing Los Angeles an amazing amount of time and money—for time in busy Los Angeles is worth much. Besides its exasperating effect on the nerves, congestion is rapidly affecting the region of the heart of Los Angeles by clogging other traffic. Arnold's proposed remedy is the use of San Pedro street from Seventh to Aliso street.

The cost is computed from his statement that 40,000 passengers are daily delayed from five to forty minutes because of congested cars. If the average is twenty minutes per person it means that 800,000 minutes daily are lost. These minutes equal 1666 working days of eight hours each, or 555 days of twenty-four hours each. These 555 full days equal one year, six months and fifteen days of actual time lost each day because of congested traffic!

If the 1666 working days are worth $3 a day they aggregate $1,824,270 in a year's time computed in money values. If a large portion are unemployed women and the average wage would be only $2 it means a cost of $1,216,180 in a year.

A partial report on the transit situation of Los Angeles, affecting wholly the Main street congestion, by Bion J. Arnold, Chicago traction expert, was approved by the Municipal Railway Committee, appointed by the Council, and transmitted to that body for its action yesterday. The report is the forerunner of the Arnold report treating the whole transportation problem which is expected within the next two weeks.

The congestion of street cars on Main street has become so acute that the committee urges prompt action on the suggestions of Arnold, the chief of which is the use of San Pedro street, now without tracks, between Seventh and Aliso streets, by which the Pacific Electric Railway may have two means of access to the interurban terminal at Sixth and Main streets. The committee indorses Arnold's plan to have the city build the tracks, of grooved girder rail construction, and which the City Engineer estimates will cost about $130,000, and permit the Pacific Electric to use them until the municipal railway, planned to connect with the harbor, is in operation. The committee does not condemn the alternative plan of permitting the company to build and sell to the city at a fair price when the municipal system requires these tracks.

Accompanying the Arnold report and the committee's recommendations are the correspondence with Arnold and Vice-President Shoup of the Pacific Electric, concurring in the general plans and seeking an arrangement to carry them into effect.

FAVORS SAN PEDRO STREET.

In concurring, Shoup writes: "Mr. Arnold's conclusion that the best remedy at present available is the use of San Pedro street is fully concurred in, though it means the maintenance of two routes of travel between Aliso street and the Pacific Electric terminal, instead of one, as at present. What the financial result to the railway will be cannot be foretold, but unquestionably the service rendered the public will be greatly improved."

It is the expressed belief of all that the San Pedro street tracks will relieve the Main street congestion and permit re-routing of Los Angeles railway lines in the interest of better service.

In his report Arnold points out that his study of the Main street congestion shows that he knows of nothing worse, or a situation which apparently can be corrected more readily. It is this ready correction that is meant by the committee in its letter transmitting the Arnold report.

The report was discussed for nearly two hours yesterday by the Municipal Railway Committee, under whose supervision the Arnold study is being made, and was unanimously agreed to. The committee is composed of the Board of Harbor Commissioners and the Board of Public Utilities. Of this membership Stoddard Jess and T. E. Gibbon, represented the Harbor Commission and Lewis R. Works and Martin Bekins the Utilities board. Mr. Gibbon is chairman of the committee. The meeting was held at the City Hall.

In its letter accompanying transmission the committee make the point that if Main street congestion is relieved and the Los Angeles Railway lines are re-routed it will relieve Spring and Broadway.

CITY TO BUILD LINES?

Of the two solutions for the Main-street congestion by the use of San Pedro street the committee declares "distinctly in favor of the first"—the plan for the city to build and rent to the Pacific Electric, because by it the city owns and retains absolute control of the tracks. In addition it will give the city an opportunity to show what its required construction—concrete, groover rails, etc.—will produce in the way of traveling comforts both for passengers of cars and other vehicles. However, if the city has not the money to build or prefers another arrangement the committee does not condemn it.

In conclusion the committee's letter says: "However, before entering upon a discussion of the matter with the representatives of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, your committee desires your honorable body to indicate which plan shall be discussed. To that end we now lay the matter before you with the request that at your earliest convenience you indicate to the committee whether or not it is your desire that the matter shall be taken up with the representatives of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, and if so, upon which plan of the two suggested by Mr. Arnold."

ARNOLD'S REPORT.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELIEF.

The Arnold report follows:

There can be little doubt that the first step to be taken toward improving the transit conditions in Los Angeles and vicinity is to relieve the congestion of traffic due to the operation of both interurban and local surface cars on Main street. Fully 50,000 riders on both systems are delayed from five to forty minutes during the rush hours each day, and as many more are inconvenienced during the non-rush hours, due to the fundamental defects of the transportation arrangements along Main street. Even a partial list of these defects makes a formidable catalogue of possibilities for improvement.

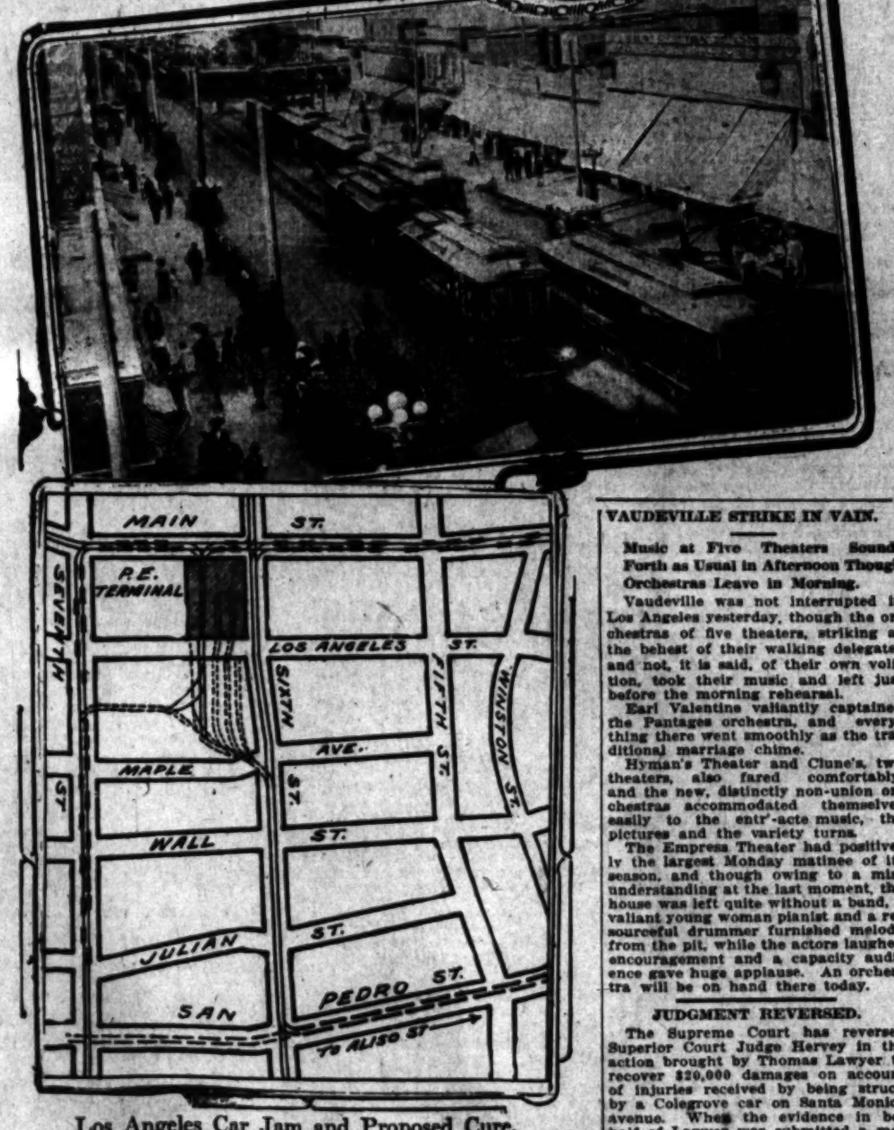
At the interurban terminal building of the Pacific Electric Company at Sixth and Main streets we find a stub end terminal arranged in such a way that the incoming track of the north division intersects the outgoing track of the south division. All of the entering and leaving tracks curve directly in front of the building upon Main street, which carries a heavy vehicle traffic. The movement of the cars in and out of this building, therefore, is hampered constantly.

All interurban cars using this terminal must wait their turn to discharge and load their passengers and no provision has been made, by means of storage tracks, to supply trippers or extras to take the place of delayed cars. The loading arrangements are not designed to handle crowds conveniently or comfortably. In order to take a car one must stand before a closed gate until his car is called and as the schedule becomes disarranged during the blockade there is no way of telling when any particular car is to be expected. Frequently the delays to the standing patrons becomes exceedingly tedious, and when the car does come there is a general scramble and contest to obtain a seat. The height of the car steps above the ground-level platform makes loading slow and inconvenient, especially to passengers with hand baggage.

The cars leave the terminal slowly, as they must find their place in the procession of local cars and at every street intersection the entire line of cars is delayed by crossing cars and vehicles, or by surface cars weaving their way in or out of the file. At one place (Third and Main streets,) the intersecting line becomes part of the main line for a short distance, causing a double delay, which is made worse by the overhang of the cars and the spacing of the track centers on the curves which permits only one car to pass at a time. The fact that the cars from different systems and routes are alternated prevents the moving of the cars across the intersections in lots of two and three at a time, and as it is hard to tell wheher a car is going straight ahead or is to turn a corner, both the vehicle traffic and the pedestrian travel are considerably delayed at nearly every street crossing.

The use of a narrow gauge track by the local cars and a standard gauge by the interurban system results in duplex tracks which cut up the surface of the streets. The heavy flanges on the interurban cars necessitate deep grooves in the special work, which, in conjunction with the duplex intersections and the use of heavy cars, makes a combination of noise-producing causes at the street crossings which can well be compared to a discharge of infantry.

The delays incident to this Main street congestion become cumulative as the first delayed cars pick up a large share of the rush hour load, thus becoming slower, automatically.



Los Angeles Car Jam and Proposed Cure.

The upper photograph shows Main street north of the Pacific Electric Building, and that in the middle Main street at Seventh, in front of the railroad terminal. Below is a diagram showing Expert Bion J. Arnold's plan for the diversion of traffic from the Pacific Electric building at the rear out Sixth street to San Pedro street, and also to Seventh street with enlarged track facilities. Cars could then enter or leave at the rear or front in both directions. Arnold believes this would do much toward relieving the congestion on Main street.

Many Thousand Held Up Here Each Day

AUTO PIRACY IS SHOWN UP.

Police Unearth Agency for Stolen Machines.

Former Auto Salesman and a Physician Arrested.

Traffic Plied Here and In San Francisco.

In the arrest of B. C. Bell, a former automobile salesman, and Dr. Frank F. Jackson, a former Wisconsin physician, the police declare they have unearthed the method by which automobiles have been stolen by wholesale from Los Angeles and shipped to San Francisco to be sold, and vice versa. Bell is now in the City Jail and Jackson will be brought from San Francisco tomorrow.

Detectives Boyd and Cowen, William M. Klinger, manager of the automobile department of the Firemen's Fund Insurance Company, and George D. Gilmore, another representative of the same organization, say Bell and Jackson, have been working their scheme for several months and have done about $30,000 worth of business in stolen machines.

The discovery was the direct outcome of A. K. Detweiler, a director of the Home Telephone Company, driving his new machine to Los Angeles from San Francisco. J. C. Houtz of Los Angeles saw Detweiler's machine standing near the curb on a downtown street and it looked familiar to him. He waited for the driver to return and asked his name and where he got the machine. After a brief conversation, Detweiler learned that the machine had been stolen and Houtz learned that Detweiler had received the machine in exchange for an old one and about $750. He also learned that the machine had been purchased in San Francisco of Bell. Houtz's machine had been insured against theft in the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company, and William M. Klinger and George D. Gilmore, who had been searching for the stolen machine, caused Bell's arrest.

During the present year, Klinger said, he has spent about $10,000 in tracing Bell and other automobile thief suspects.

Bell was taken before Police Judge Williams in the University Court and his preliminary examination set for the 13th inst. Bell commented on the date humorously.

Bell was formerly a salesman for the Western Motor Car Company, the police say. Jackson came from Wisconsin but that is all the police have learned about him.

B. C. Bell,

Formerly an automobile salesman of this city, who is now under arrest, charged with wholesale thievery of motor cars. In his arrest and that of an ex-physician the police believe they have put an end to a syndicate which is conservatively estimated to have done a $30,000 business in stolen automobiles in the last few months.

VAUDEVILLE STRIKE IN VAIN.

Music at Five Theaters Sounds Forth as Usual in Afternoon Though Orchestras Leave in Morning.

Vaudeville was not interrupted in Los Angeles yesterday, though the orchestras of five theaters, striking at the behest of their walking delegates and not, it is said, of their own volition, took their music and left just before the morning rehearsal.

Earl Valentine valiantly captained the Pantages orchestra, and everything there went smoothly as the traditional marriage chime.

Hyman's Theater and Clune's, two theaters, also fared comfortably, and the new, distinctly non-union orchestras accommodated themselves easily to the entr'-acte music, the pictures and the variety turns.

The Empress Theater had positively the largest Monday matinee of its season, and though owing to a misunderstanding at the last moment, the house was left quite without a band, a valiant young woman pianist and a resourceful drummer furnished melody from the pit, while the actors laughed encouragement and a capacity audience gave huge applause. An orchestra will be on hand there today.

JUDGMENT REVERSED.

The Supreme Court has reversed Superior Court Judge Hervey in the action brought by Thomas Lawyer to recover $20,000 damages on account of injuries received by being struck by a Colegrove car on Santa Monica avenue. When the evidence in behalf of Lawyer was submitted a motion made by attorneys for the Los Angeles Pacific Railway for a nonsuit was granted by the court. It is this judgment and order which has been reversed. The opinion dissents of the point that Lawyer contributed to the accident by negligence.

Strange Clew.

MINNESOTA WOMAN COMES HERE TO FIND HER SON.

THOUGH the only reason she has for believing that her son may be in Los Angeles is that her twin sister, who had never seen him, was frightened one day about three years ago when a man who was about to pass her on the street gasped, turned and hurried away, Mrs. Anna C. Jameson of St. Paul, Minn., has come here to search for him.

In August, 1906, Mrs. Jameson's son William left his home in St. Paul. Until he made his fortune, he said, he would not return to her. A short time after leaving he sent her a small sum of money. A few months later another check was sent her and then for several months she received remittances regularly.

Then came a message from Santa Rosa, which informed her that her son had met with an accident, but would soon be well.

She heard a few weeks later that he was well and would soon be working again. She has not heard from him, and was almost on the point of despair when Mrs. Jameson's sister, Mrs. Charles Lloyd, No. 2205 Maple avenue, wrote that she had experienced a strange adventure while standing at Sixth and Main streets. She told the story related above.

Mrs. Jameson believes that the man was her son and that he mistook her sister for herself.

Mrs. Jameson disposed of her property in St. Paul and came to Los Angeles. She told the police yesterday that she will walk the streets day and night until she finds her boy.

Mrs. Jameson said that fortune had played queer pranks with her life. Her husband was a Federal detective during the Civil War. Afterward he made a fortune in Kansas City in cattle. He lost that in speculation and by rigid economy they managed to get to Omaha, where he made and lost two more fortunes in the same business.

Jameson has a scar over his nose and a woman's face tattooed on his left arm, his mother says. He is about 6 feet 1 inch tall and broad about

The Public Service: City Hall and Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Park Commission will ask the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association and the Chamber of Commerce to assist in arousing public sentiment for a bond issue in the interests of Arroyo Seco Park.

The suit of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation against the Amalgamated Oil Company, involving damages amounting to half a million dollars, was decided for the defendant yesterday.

At the City Hall.

MAY ASK BONDS FOR BIG PARK.

COMMISSION WILL SEEK CIVIC ASSOCIATION'S AID.

Chairman and Commissioner of Park Board Will Address Chamber of Commerce and Merchants and Manufacturer's Association in Behalf of Arroyo Seco.

A bond issue for Arroyo Seco Park and for the improvement of other parks is to be urged by Chairman Silent of the Park Commission and by Commissioner Lippincott before the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association.

The announcement of this intention was made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the commision by Chairman Silent when a petition for the extension of Grimth avenue was rought up. The commission is opposed to the proposed extension because it would interfere with the plans for the Arroyo Seco project.

Silent said he intends to invite the members of the Board of Supervisors and their wives to his home and lay the matter before them. He wishes to interest the board in the project and if the county can not see its way clear to assist at the present time in the project, he favors the city's taking action and laying out the park as far as the city limits.

If an assessment district can not be laid out, then it will be asked that bonds are voted, and if bonds are not voted, an assessment district may be formed. The Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association will be invited to take a part in the programme.

Other park improvements and enlargements were under consideration. These might be provided for, it was explained, if a bond issue is decided upon.

GARBAGE COLLECTION.
CONTRACT IS APPROVED.

The garbage of the residence districts will continue to be removed twice a week instead of thrice, as originally contemplated by the Board of Public Works. The board yesterday approved a new contract with the V. D. Reduction Company, in which the alterations in the document were made that had been talked over in the conferences with the contractors.

The V. D. Reduction Company last Saturday agreed to the new contract, but asked for $2240 a month for supplemental service. By cutting out the extra collection proposed in the residence districts, the company was willing to accept $1555.66 a month. Thus amended the board approved the arrangement and it will go into effect November 1.

Although there are not to be three collections a week in the residence districts, the board has inserted a clause under which collections are to be made six times from all hotels, apartments and rooming-houses having more than forty rooms.

MAY KEEP MONEY.
FIREMEN'S CLOTHES PAID FOR.

Firemen may not receive gifts of money from owners of property they help to save from flames, except—and this exception was formally agreed to by the Fire Commission yesterday—except when their trousers are ruined. The lieutenant in charge at the United Oil Refinery fire last week admitted that such accident had happened to him.

The matter came up through a letter from Battalion Chief Casey, who said the United Oil Refinery owners, after the fire, had sent a barrel of distillate to clean the hose and two cans of gasoline to the men for the purpose of clothes cleaning. Then next day an agent of the concern appeared at the houses of Engine No. 1 and No. 19 and Hose Company No. 1 and handed to each of the firemen who had been on duty at the refinery blaze a sealed envelope. On opening them, the men found $5.

Casey wanted to know what to do about it, since the regulations forbid anyone to present money to firemen. He said the company's representative explained that the money was only to reimburse the men for injuries to their garments.

The commissioners heard what the Acting Chief thought, and he could see no harm in the gift. Nor could the commissioners after talking it all over. So they approved the company's action and allowed the men to keep the money.

RAILWAYS TO BUILD.
PARK EXTENSIONS PLANNED.

Two railway extensions are being discussed by the Pacific Electric and other street railways connected with that company, according to a letter from Asst. Manager Henderson of the Pacific Electric to the Park Commission, read at the meeting of the commission yesterday.

A line through Elysian Park has been desired for some time and Henderson said he had taken up this matter with the chief engineer of the company.

This led Commissioner Lippincott to state that he had been talking with Vice-President Shoup of the Pacific Electric and that Shoup had told him the matter of extending the line from Glendale to the river bottom near Las Felis road is under consideration by the company.

PLAN LONG HIKE.
COUPLE CALL ON MAYOR.

"We're going to be married next Sunday and take a trip to New York," said a tall young man to the Mayor at the City Hall yesterday, while a good-looking girl clung to his arm. Both were dressed in cowboy attire.

"That's interesting," said the Mayor. "What can I do for you?"

New York, by way of New Orleans and we want a letter to the Mayor of New York to show that we really did start from Los Angeles," the prospective groom explained.

The Mayor smiled, wrote a letter on the official letterhead and they went away smiling smiles.

NO PAY FOR PLAY.
FIREMEN'S BASEBALL.

Ball players who are members of the fire department and who get hurt while playing ball will not receive a cent from the city for the time they lose while nursing their injuries.

The Fire Commission yesterday put its ukase to that effect in writing and served it formally upon Acting Chief O'Donnell. He wanted to know about it, he said, because the members of the department have organized a ball team, and several of the players have become worried over the possibility of a broken rib or fractured nose or arm, owing to the fact that the pitchers they have so far discovered are a trifle wild. The team may adopt a rule that the pitcher who hurts anybody will have to pay the damages.

But the city won't—the Mayor and commissioners were unanimous on that point.

DELAY SAVES MONEY.
PUMPING ENGINE DEFECTS.

Because the manufacturers of the Robinson pumping machine recently bought by the city wanted to exhibit it at the Milwaukee exposition, this city has been saved some annoyance and money, according to a letter from Chief Eley of the fire department, read by Secretary McKeag at the meeting of the Fire Commission yesterday.

"The engine will not be delivered for thirty days at least," he wrote from Chicago. "They shipped it to Milwaukee for exhibition and it is a good thing they did, for when they went to try it out, they could get only sixteen inches of vacuum and could not draw water. There seems to be an air-hole in the pump-casting somewhere between the pump and the suction."

WANT TO SEE IT.
PENSION FUNDS' TROUBLES.

Both the Fire and the Police Commission want to take a look at the pension ordinances affecting their respective departments, and at the meetings of the two boards yesterday the clerk was directed to ask the City Council for copies of the proposed city laws and a chance to look them over.

It was supposed that the Finance Committee of the Council would be prepared to report today on the subject and a meeting was to have been held by the committee yesterday afternoon. Commissioners Washburn and Stewart did not put in an appearance.

By Day Labor and Trusties.

The Board of Public Works will be asked to have the work on the Central Station done by day labor instead of by contract, the Police Commission decided yesterday. There is $25,000 available for the structure. The commission thought that much unskilled labor could be performed by trusties at the jail and money saved in that way, which would not be possible under a contract. Under the plans as altered, the assembly hall of the station is to be in the basement, the next floor will be the matron's headquarters and the floor above will be used for prisoners.

Flag for Mount Hollywood.

The flagstaff on Mount Hollywood is to have a flag and Chairman Silent of the Park Commission has agreed to pay for it himself. Mrs. Caro Senour appeared before the Park Commission yesterday and asked for an appropriation for the flag. She wanted the commission to recommend that the city provide it. "That would take too long," said Silent. "You go ahead and get the flag and send the bill to me. I'll pay it."

Taking Time by Forelock.

Moneta avenue is to be paved. In order to prevent its being torn up by public utility corporations after the improvement shall have been completed, the Board of Public Works, in a communication to the City Council, recommends that all such corporations be notified of the contemplated work, be directed to lay necessary mains now, and that drains and pipes be laid one to every lot along the avenue before the paving is commenced.

Myers's Famous Mule.

City Attorney Shenk yesterday advised the City Council that the city will not have to pay for M. M. Myers's dead mule, and that the claim ought to be rejected. Myers's mule has occupied several pages of correspondence already and is expected to result in a lawsuit. Myers says the mule was killed in connection with aqueduct work. The Board of Public Works says it was not.

Banner for Best Park.

The new ordinance under which the best-kept park is to be awarded a banner every quarter, and park employees in the winning park are each to receive a prize of $5, is to be put into effect by the commission next week. It was decided at the meeting yesterday that the inspection will begin Monday.

City Hall Notes.

The Board of Public Works has rejected all bids for moving fire-engine house No. 1 from Sixteenth and Hill streets, and will receive new proposals on the work next Monday.

C. Karseboon has been awarded the contract for construction of an annex to the Hope-street fire-engine house. The Board of Public Works has signed the contract with him for $5462.

The members of the Fire Commission and of the City Council will watch the new combination hose and chemical automobile wagon at work Friday. This will be the official test.

The Fire Commission yesterday approved the appointment by Acting Chief O'Donnell of William J. Nickerel as a fireman.

The Police Commission yesterday granted an extension of time for the completion of the Boyle Heights station to October 15.

Considerable progress has been made in improving the park at San Pedro, it was reported at the meeting of the Park Commission yesterday, and residents of the district are much pleased with it. The work is being done under an appropriation of $7000.

That the city buy two and one-half acres adjoining Sycamore Grove was the proposition submitted by the owner of the land, E. R. Brainard, to the Park Commission yesterday. He said he will sell the property at low terms. The commission told him to put his offer in writing.

The publishers of the Hollenbeck Park programme were given permission to circulate the handbill for two weeks more on condition that they will pick up the bills from the lawns

At the Courthouse.

CELEBRATED SUIT SETTLED AT LAST.

COURT FINDS HARD NUT IN A DAMAGE CASE.

Judgment Is for Defendant, It Being Held That Gas Company Violated Its Contract by Receiving More Oil Than Was Permissible Attorneys Praised.

Citing instances where, in his opinion, the plaintiff first violated its contract by receiving more oil from the Union Oil Company than was permissible, in that it depreciated the amount of oil otherwise necessary for the defendant to supply, Judge Finlayson yesterday found for the defendant in the suit of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation against the Amalgamated Oil Company.

The suit, celebrated by reason of the fact that fully $500,000 damages was involved and that some of the most noted legal practitioners in California were pitted against each other in several years' litigation, drew praise from the court for the brilliancy with which the intricacies involved were bared and argued.

At the outset of their relations, the gas company and the oil company entered into a contract whereby the oil company agreed to furnish the gas company with all the crude oil necessary to operate its plant, except only such oil as had previously been contracted for to be delivered to the gas company by the Union Oil Company. The first agreement was entered into in 1904. Later the Associated Oil Company assigned its contract to the Amalgamated company.

Judge Finlayson says: "The gas company, of course, was not obligated to purchase and receive from the defendant or its assignor in any particular month the oil necessary during that month to meet its requirements. But if for any month the gas company purchased and received from the Union Oil Company a quantity of oil exceeding the maximum fixed in its said contracts with the Union Oil Company—thus decreasing the amount of oil which the defendant would have otherwise furnished for that month—or if for any month the gas company purchased and received from the Union Oil Company a quantity of oil less than the minimum fixed in its said contracts with the Union Oil Company—thus increasing the amount of oil which the defendant would have otherwise furnished for the month—the gas company would be guilty of a breach of its contract with the Amalgamated or the Associated company, its assignee.

"Under this view the gas company commenced breaching its contract with the Amalgamated company shortly after its execution, and at frequent intervals intermediate its execution and the abandonment thereof by the defendant. It is claimed by counsel for the plaintiff that 'the custom of ordering, receiving and using 'cumulated balances' from the Union company—the cumulated differences, between the minima and maxima prescribed by the contracts with the Union company—was violative of the contract with the Associated company, such violation was waived by the defendant.

"There is no satisfactory evidence that the defendant ever, by word or act, evidenced an intention to waive its right to object to such cumulation."

Taking up the Associated company's breaking with the gas company as a result of its repeated overdrafts on the Union company, the court continues:

"Defendant's breaches of the contract are of but little consequence, inasmuch as, conceding that the defendant did breach the contract in the particulars aforesaid, the gas company itself was the first to breach it; and being the first to breach it, the plaintiff cannot recover damages upon the ground of the defendant's alleged breach thereof.

"No question in the case has caused me so much perplexity as that respecting the execution by the defendant of the assignment of contract between the gas company and the Associated company. In my opinion the circumstantial evidence so strongly corroborates the testimony that the finding should be that the written assignment was executed by the defendant.

"In my opinion, the action is barred by the statute of limitations," the court avers.

HIS HEAD BUMPED.
JUDGE IS IN COLLISION.

Judge W. M. Conley of Madera was in a wreck between Fresno and Selma while on his way here Sunday night to sit in Extra Session No. 1 of the Superior Court, but escaped with only a bump on his head.

"I was on train No. 57, which left Fresno at 10:30 last night," he said, "and had turned in and was fast asleep when the crash came. My head struck the berth partition with considerable force.

"I inquired of a trainman what we had struck.

"'Some iron that was dropped on the track,' was his answer.

"I didn't doubt it was something hard. Later I learned that what had really happened was that our train had collided with train No. 50. We apparently had a close shave, and everybody was severely shaken.

"There was a streak of premonition attached to the accident," continued Judge Conley. "I had been sitting in court in San Francisco and when I reached Fresno on my way down, thought it would not be a bad plan to telephone my wife of the route I was taking, as there might be a mishap. I also considered taking out a $5000 accident insurance policy, but passed up the latter proposition."

Judge Conley is sitting in Judge Bordwell's court. He will remain here until early in December.

AFTER SALOON MAN.
LIQUOR SOLD TO MINOR?

Capt. Dodds of the Probation office said yesterday that he will be ready in a few days to lay charges before the Police Commissioners against the owner of the Catalina saloon on North Main street. He asserts that liquor was sold to a minor in that place.

The action grows out of Judge Wilbur's instructing Dodds to look into the statement of Probation Officer Reyes that he found Juan Oroseo, 17 years old, in an intoxicated condition in the place when he sought the lad for having broken his parole.

CITY WINS WAGE SUIT.
JUDGMENT NOT SATISFIED.

H. G. Bittleston yesterday failed in his attempt to compel City Auditor cure money owed George C. Lilley, a street department employee, to satisfy a judgment. It was contended by Asst. City-Atty. Young that if the court sustained the plaintiff it would mean the continual harassing of city employees by creditors. Judge Craig upheld the city's demurrer.

Bittleston obtained a judgment for $24.25 against Lilley several weeks ago. He learned that the city owed him $12.50, and demanded a warrant for this sum from the City Auditor. Bittleston then instituted mandamus proceedings.

LINGERIE IN EVIDENCE.
MEXICAN ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Porfiro Lopez was confronted with a remarkable array of lingerie and other garments comprising a complete feminine wardrobe when placed on trial yesterday before Judge McCormick. He was charged with having burgled the home of Thomas F. Worley of Irwindale. He was found guilty and will be sentenced tomorrow.

According to the evidence introduced by Deputy District Attorney Blair, the defendant watched until he saw the Worleys leave the house, then broke in and made off with all the spare clothing he could find. He was also charged with the theft of a bicycle and valuables.

Lopez denied his guilt, but Blair diligently piled up exhibit after exhibit in the way of glad rags until the prisoner was figuratively overwhelmed.

IN A DEADLOCK.
CHANGE OF VENUE ARGUED.

With the attorneys in a deadlock in the case of Mrs. Gertrude Luckey against the Southern Pacific Company for $100,000 damages for alleged personal injuries, Judge Conrey yesterday took under advisement their arguments for and against a change of venue.

The plaintiff charges that she was so hurt in an accident at Oakland while a patron of the road that it was necessary to amputate one of her feet. The company holds that all parties will be served best if the case is transferred to Oakland, the scene of the mishap.

Attorneys contended for Mrs. Luckey that most of the witnesses she had, including physicians and nurses, are in this city and that they will be greatly inconvenienced if the action is tried elsewhere.

MANIA FOR MURDER?
WOMAN SENT TO ASYLUM.

Bertha Kuhn, who became known as the "Pawnshop Bride" by marrying a man under sensational circumstances, was yesterday committed to the insane asylum at Patton.

According to the statements of Dr. Fisher to Judge Hutton of the Superior Court, the woman has developed a form of dementia which he fears will eventually lead her to attempt the lives of Judge Wilbur and her husband.

For a number of weeks Mrs. Kuhn has labored under a hallucination that Judge Wilbur encouraged her husband not to support their child. She has created several scenes in the courtroom, and last Friday was taken into custody on account of her actions at the Courthouse. A child she then had in her arms has since been placed in a children's home.

GRANTS FEE INCREASE.
COURT AIDS ATTORNEYS.

Judge Craig yesterday granted an increase of $10,000 in fees for the attorneys who have been engaged in settling the affairs of the Wentworth Hotel Company of Pasadena. Judge James had previously granted the lawyers $20,000.

The Wentworth has been the source of much litigation. Scores of mechanics' liens have been filed against the structure, making the adjustment of claims on a fair footing a difficult task. The affairs of the company have not yet been concluded.

MANY DIVORCES. Law and motion day yesterday brought one of the biggest throngs before Judge Monroe for adjustment of divorce case dates that has been in attendance on similar proceedings in many months. An unusual number of show-cause orders were argued in connection with alimony allowances.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Men Who Were Accused of Having Conducted Faro Game Are Released in Police Court.

Wyatt Earp and Walter Scott, who were arrested several weeks ago in the Auditorium Hotel on a charge of having attempted to conduct a faro game, were released yesterday afternoon in Police Court. Earp was released because he was able to prove conclusively that he was not involved and only chanced to be in the room when the police entered.

Scott was released because the witnesses upon whom the prosecution depended could not be subpoenaed. The charge which was dismissed yesterday was one of vagrancy, which was made when Earp, Scott and Harry Dean of Montana were first arrested. It was merely a formal charge and intended only to hold the men until a conspiracy charge could be lodged against them.

Caught With the Goods.

Pedro Escoveda took a great fancy to some silk coats in the Fifth Street Department Store yesterday morning and when he departed he carried a jacket tucked away in his vest, a silk cloak inside the apron of his overalls and a silk dress on his back under his coat.

He didn't get very far before a Nick Harris detective saw him proceeding toward the door with a hump on his back and he was detained.

Search disclosed the wearing apparel and the man was taken to Police Court, where Police Judge Fredericksen heard his plea of guilty and remanded him to jail to await sentence tomorrow.

Hush the Squeals.

The proprietors of the fourteen alleged blind pigs who were arrested by members of the Metropolitan squad in Sonoratown, Saturday night, appeared in Police Court before Police Judge Fredericksen yesterday afternoon and their cases were continued for several days to afford them opportunity to secure legal assistance.

New Skin Absorber In Great Demand

(National Drug Review)

Since the discovery that mercolized wax possesses remarkable absorbent powers when applied to the skin, the demand for it as a complexion renewer has been tremendous. Druggists in every section report sales as far exceeding those of anything similar they have ever had on their shelves.

The mercolide in the wax, according to Prof. Hoffman, gently absorbs the devitalized cuticle, in minute particles, so that the user gradually loses her old, worn-out complexion, the more youthful under-skin taking its place. Cutaneous eruptions, blotches, moth patches, tan and freckles are of course, removed at the same time. As mercolized wax is entirely harmless, and easy to use, women all over the country are purchasing and using it to quickly rejuvenate their complexions. The wax is applied to face, neck or hands the same as cold cream, allowed to remain over night, then washed off with warm water.

Whatever You Do

Remember the EQUITABLE PLAN is very fair to the depositor in that it protects him from unnecessary loss of interest.

Briefly the Plan is as Follows:

Interest is paid from the date of the first deposit. In case the depositor wishes to withdraw a part or all of his money between interest paying dates (January 1st and July 1st) he receives interest on the amount withdrawn up to the first of the month in which the withdrawal is made. Practically no interest forfeiture.

Money does not have to remain on deposit a specified term to draw interest.

The EQUITABLE PLAN is fair and conservative. It applies to large and small accounts.

The Oil Industry.

PLACES HOPE IN NEW FIELD.

Standar Operating South of Proven Territory.

Canadian-Coalinga's Well in Northern District.

General News of Interest from Oil Fields.

That the Standard Oil Company is placing hope in the new territory two to four miles south of the old proven Fullerton field is shown by the leasing of tracts in the eastern limits of Fullerton, one taken being that of John Beagraves in Section 23 on Chapman avenue. The Standard has begun drilling on the Coyote well in the north part of Fullerton with a standard rig. This is the farthest south that operations have proceeded, it being about a mile south of the Fisher well.

It is the opinion of oil operators that the company will have to go down considerably over 3000 feet before it strikes oil in commercial quantities; possibly to over 4000 feet. The Yriarte well, which is the Standard's deepest hole in the Fullerton field, is going down rapidly at this time. At the present rate, barring unforseen trouble, the well should be brought in by the first of the year. The Leffingwell hole is down about 3500 feet.

hTe Amalgamated Oil Company has landed a ten-inch string at 2750 feet in well No. 2, east of the Standard, and the drilling on the other three wells is proceeding satisfactorily. The indications are that within the next six months several new producing wells will be brought in in the new territory.

The Delaware Union is bringing in No. 37 at a depth of about 3000 feet, and it gives indications of being a good pumper of 19 gravity oil. The Coyote Hill well on the Hall lease, which has been drilling for three years, is again giving trouble at 3000 feet. The bit was twisted off and there is a fishing job to add gayety to the situation.

The producer, No. 4, on the Murphy lease, is flowing about 300 barrels a day of 32 gravity oil, which shows that the west side of the Fullerton field is in the same class with the Brea and Olinda sections.

The San Juan well, concerning which there is so much speculation, has been cemented off at 4700 feet and will be drilled deeper. It took 700 bags of cement to do the work, and this was forced down by powerful pumps and permitted to set. The Union Oil Company is building and filling roads on the Bastanchury ranch, indicating still further activity on the part of that company.

CANADIAN-COALINGA WELL HAS SANDED UP.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

COALINGA, Oct. 2.—The Canadian-Coalinga well, 28, 21-15, which was drilled into gusher sands in the south field last week, is being bridged up on a shell and the eight-inch casing will be cemented about the end of the week. The water was shut off by ten-inch casing, but it was feared that it would not stand the outside pressure, so after the well started to flow nothing was done except to pull the casing in the hopes that the well would bridge.

Several blowouts occurred, and the last one sanded up the hole. When the sand was bailed out, it was bailed down to 2835 feet, and filled up to 2810 with rocks and irons, and the eight-inch will be cemented off at that depth on a four-foot shell. The cement will be allowed to stand for about fifteen days, and oil men who saw the first action of the new gusher look for another Silver Tip when it is drilled in.

The Republic No. 1 well is now producing over 200 barrels per day on the pump, and the installing of the smaller tubing has overcome the sand trouble to a large extent, and it is believed that very little trouble will be encountered from that cause hereafter. Sand gave so much trouble that it was almost impossible to get the well producing regularly, but by putting in two-inch tubing the gas escapes through the casing and the pump agitates it so that it practically flows.

The Empire No. 1 well is producing steadily at about 220 barrels.

A big surprise was sprung on the employees of the Mohawk property last week, when word was received from the San Francisco office for the bookkeeper to notifi all of them that they were discharged. All came into Coalinga with the exception of the bookkeeper and two pumpers, and the entire property was shut down with the exception that No. 4 was kept on the pump, and the boarding-house kept running.

When William McKnight, the superintendent, returned from a hunting trip in Idaho, Friday night, he found the lease practically deserted, and also found that the order included him as well as the balance of those formerly employed.

No reason was assigned for the wholesale discharge, but it is whispered that a complete change in the force is to be made, with Orval Geiser, present head driller of the Canadian-Coalinga, as superintendent of the Mohawk property. McKnight is known to be one of the best-informed oil men in the State, and is at a loss to account for the action, as are those who worked under him.

The No. 1 well, which was recently redrilled and again came in a gusher, producing at the rate of about 1400 barrels per day, bridged with sand after flowing for a few days, and nothing more has been done with it before the discharge order came the No. 4 well was being pulled, but was again put on the pump before the employees left the property.

MONEY IN BUILDINGS IN THE LOST HILLS.

It is estimated that the oil companies now engaged in operating in the Lost Hills territory are spending $50,000 in new buildings. The Standard is erecting a spacious warehouse about a mile from the town of Lost Hills, and is constructing a superintendent's house, a toolhouse and other buildings. They will cost about $40,000.

The Esperanza Consolidated Oil Company is expending about $10,000 in buildings of a similar nature, and other operating companies are rushing material into the district.

Midway Alliance Drilling.

Good progress has been made recently on the well of the Midway Alliance Oil Company on the southwest quarter of Section 32, 32-25. At the present time a depth of 2790 feet has been reached and the drill is working in a clay-like formation which overlies the big body of blue shale that is found throughout the entire Midway district. Some considerable quantity of gas and a good showing of oil has been found in the Alliance well at its present depth, indicating that the gas pressure in this section must be unusually strong in order to carry the oil through the thick stratum of blue shale formation. It is estimated by geologists that the oil sand on the Midway Alliance ground lies at a depth not exceeding 3500 feet.

News, Notes and Personals.

H. B. Truitt, an official of the Kern Trading and Oil Company, has returned to his headquarters in San Francisco after spending several days in the Coalinga field.

S. A. Guiberson, Jr., one of the most prominent oil men in the Coalinga district, has returned from Bakersfield, where he attended the meeting of the Independent Agency of which he is an official.

R. W. Dallas, manager of the Coalinga branch of the Independent Agency, has returned from Lemoore, where he attended the funeral of a member of his family.

Joseph Errington of Canada, who spent two or three days looking over the property of the United Development Company in the Coalinga field, with George D. Roberts, has returned to his home well satisfied with the outlook.

Henry Sneed, a gauger employed by the Producers' Transportation Company, in the Coalinga field, has returned from a vacation spent for the most part in San Francisco. He was relieved by J. B. Jaqua.

T. J. Turner, Coalinga manager of the Oil Well Supply Company, has returned to his home after a business visit of several days in Los Angeles.

James Rolph, Jr., Mayor-elect of San Francisco, is a frequent visitor to Bakersfield, and the oil fields. He is president of the Tribune Oil Company, of which L. A. Crandall is the superintendent, and takes an active interest in the property.

Ask Indulgence.

WANT EXTENSION OF TIME TO PAY.

THE COLORADO RIVER SETTLERS NEED THEIR MONEY.

Untoward Circumstances, Unforeseen Delays and Difficulties Cause Temporary Embarrassment to Yaguna Dam Homesteaders—Favorable Reports on Work.

Feeling that it will be almost impossible, through untoward circumstances, for them to meet the third payment on government land taken up in the Laguna dam district of the Colorado River bottoms at the time originally set for that portion of the liquidation, a majority of the settlers in that district have petitioned the government to permit them an extension of time.

In a communication from the Yuma County Commercial Club it is set out that the animus of this petition is not any dissatisfaction with the lands which they have acquired and partly paid for, but rather difficulties arising from a misapprehension of the conditions to be met. This was enhanced by the fact that, because of a delay in opening the lands for settlement, without a corresponding delay in the times of payment, two installments fell due ih the same year—and that the first of their occupancy.

The deferring of the opening date until April, 1910, also made it impossible for many of the settlers to clear their land in time to get a crop that year, making the burden of the double payment in 1910 twice as heavy.

It appears, further, that the government estimate of $11 per acre for clearing and levelling the land is so far from being in accordance with the results of experience there that most of the ranchers say the estimate by employees of the Reclamation Service, $69.50 per acre, is rather conservative than otherwise. Many of the homesteaders did not figure on so heavy an expense in getting their land ready for cultivation and consequently need more time.

At the present time, of the 6500 acres opened to settlement, 3700 have been cleared and grubbed, 2100 leveled, ditched and planted in growing crops. There are 1273 acres in alfalfa, which has been cut five times this year; 100 acres are in vegetable gardens, 640 acres in corn of different sorts and smaller acreages in other crops.

The irrigation facilities installed by the government are stated to be satisfactory and ample protection against the Colorado in flood has been provided by the reclamation engineers. So far, it is reported that the damage by overflow of the river has been comparatively slight.

THEY WANT THEIR PIERS.

Long Beach Bond Issues Held Up By City Clerk on Ground That They Violate the Charter.

The demurrer to the petition for an order compelling C. O. Boynton, City Clerk of Long Beach, to attest a $125,000 issue of bonds for pier purposes was argued in the District Court yesterday. It was set out that the allegations of the complaint did not constitute a cause of action, and furhec that the proposed issue of bonds was in violation of the city charter of Long Beach.

On February 18, 1910, the City Council of Long Beach adopted a resolution setting forth that for the purposes of making repairs to the double-deck cylinder pier at the foot of Pine avenue an issue of bonds in the sum of $75,000 was necessary; also, that for the acquisition, construction and completion of a pier 1000 feet long at the foot of Thirty-ninth place, a bond issue of $50,000 was necessary.

The special election to pass upon the proposed issue of bonds amounting in all to $125,000 was voted on by the people and both issues carried by liberal majorities.

On May 6, 1910, a resolution was adopted by the City Council providing for the bond issue as voted by the people, but it was alleged in the petition for the mandate directed to the City Clerk that he had failed and refused to attest the bonds so that they might be offered for sale. It was to compel him to do so that the action was brought.

SILVERWOOD'S INNOVATION.

Instructive Window Display—Every Move in Making Famous Stetson Hats Is Shown.

A distinct innovation in window display and one that is both intensely interesting and vastly instructive is made by Silverwood's at their Sixth and Broadway store this week.

The display comes direct from the factory of John B. Stetson Company and demonstrates every move made in the building of one of the famous hats, and every particle of material used.

It is stated that the show is intended eventually for the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, but will be amplified before being taken there.

The entire Broadway windows are given over to the display. A score or so of beautiful beaver skins are shown, with the various processes whereby the final beaver hat is produced are shown in detail.

The exhibitors have gone so far into the detail of the art of hat making that the silk worm is shown in its native state and also the various methods by which the silk is finally transformed into its portion of the finished hat.

The various distinct operations through which the hat passes are shown to be twelve for a soft hat and fourteen for a stiff hat, and forty operators work on each one.

The exhibition is said to be one of the largest and most ambitious attempts at window display every made by a retailer in the United States.

HEAVY VAGRANCY SENTENCE.

C. E. Peters and Neil Potts, two boys, were sent to the County Jail for ninety days for vagrancy by Justice Reaves yesterday. They had been in the Superior Court on the charge of robbery, but it could not be substantiated, and the lesser charge was brought. They have already been in jail three months, which will make six months imprisonment, the limit of the law for vagrancy.

ALL REPUBLICANS.

"We may all be Republicans one of these days," said King Alfonso of Spain to a man recently. Well, that wouldn't be so bad. But it would be fierce if we were all to become Democrats.

UNION DEMANDS.

The demands which the federated shop men have made on the railways are altogether too modest. The walking delegates, for some strange reason, did not command the railways to also turn over the cash in bank.

LANGUAGE REVIVALS.

Now that the Irish language is being revived in Ireland, the suggestion is put forth that the English language should be revived in England. In most parts of England an American cannot understand half what the people say.

ARISTOTLE'S RULE.

Concerning the drama, Aristotle laid down the rule that every play must have a beginning, a middle and an end. The public has always acquiesced cheerfully in this rule, except that there have been frequent occasions on which it seemed that the end was too indefinitely postponed.

PEACE AND DEATH.

"Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war." Also peace hath her tragedies not less terrible than are those of war. There has been many a famous battle in which fewer lives were lost than were lost in the flood at Austin. It would seem that gun-making is an unnecessary art.

A FOOLISH QUESTION.

Judge Moran of Reno asked an applicant for divorce "why she stayed in Los Angeles so long." It was a foolish question for His Honor to propound. All persons, of any sex, creed, color or former condition of servitude, stay in Los Angeles as long as they are able to do so. There is no other place to equal it.

MOROCCO'S OPINION.

The touch of humor in the Franco-German Moroccan controversy is that in all the discussions, in all the dispatches, in all the opinions, the only name that does not occur is that of Morocco's Sultan. He might not exist for all the attention that is paid to him, and yet he is a bona fide Sultan with at least two-thirds of his country paying him allegiance.

In the chivalrous old days at least some semblance of courtesy would have been kept up regarding him, but etiquette is a superfluous commodity in such cases nowadays, and one pictures that hapless King regarding the outcome of the quarrel with dubious partnership—whoever wins, he and Morocco won't.

THE KILBANES.

The sporting columns of the newspapers clearly demonstrate that Johnny Kilbane, late of Cleveland, but now of Ocean Park, Cal., is an industrious and really thoroughgoing little person. He works hard, takes the very best care of himself, avoids evil and dissolute companions, is a total abstainer from liquor, does not use tobacco in any form, is a model husband and father, goes to church on Sunday and always fights to win.

Mrs. Kilbane and the baby think there is no man in the world any better than Johnny. And it may be that they are not far from right in their opinion. Certainly he is a better man than one who snarls at his family though occupying a high position in business or the learned professions. We are inclined to think that if every woman had as good a husband as Johnny Kilbane this would be a happier world than it is.

OCCUPATION AND THE MAN.

There are a lot of old saws that purport to be guides to telling what kind of man a man is. Shakespeare said it could be done by observing the style of the man's clothes. Some other alleged sage declared that "A man is known by the company he keeps." And so it goes.

The fact is, however, that men are more frequently judged by their occupations than by any other rule. Yet there is no more fallacious method of judgment. If a man be a saloon-keeper, for instance, nobody hesitates to place him on a low level of the social scale. If, on the other hand, a man be engaged in the business of money-lending he is "respectable." But the case may easily be that the saloon-keeper is an honest and even a decent fellow, while the money-lender may turn out to be a knave.

"Jim," said a money-lender one day to a depositor, "I am sorry you are in the saloon business." The depositor replied by saying, "And I am sorry you are in the money-lending business. There are five money-lenders in jail to one saloon-keeper." And as it happens those are the correct statistics.

The point is that in almost any lawful business or occupation an honest man will remain an honest man while a rogue will go right along in the practice of crooked methods.

But above all it is the hypocrites who should be condemned. The man who covers himself with the cloak of religion to hide his rascality should receive no quarter from the community. It should be demanded that every person come out in the open. The church and the institutions of the church ought to make short shrift of a crook who sits in the pews while his methods of business outside are notoriously rotten.

STRIKERS AND PENSIONERS.

Among the certain evils which must result from the present half-hearted railroad strike it is hard to place a finger on one possible advantage that can ensue under any circumstances to any living man or body of men, to any cause or combination of interests. The chief features of this enforced disturbance are a temporary embarrassment of the railroad companies, a possible inconvenience to the traveling public, a fleeting and wholly unenviable puffing-up of two or three would-be labor bosses and a chorus of jubilant shrieks from a few small union newspapers.

As to the expressions of joy uttered by the agitators, they suggest the sad taunt of the great liberal statesman when the London churches pealed forth triumphantly at the first success of the allies in the Crimean War. "They are ringing their bells now; they will be wringing their hands by and by."

Any shrewd thinker must doubt the benevolence of a counselor who recommends his supposed friends to throw away a future certainty of good for an uncertain chance of temporary satisfaction. A man who sacrificed a piece of property for some visionary advantage urged on him by an interested party 3000 miles away would be set down by his friends and neighbors as graduating for the imbecile class. Yet this is what the Los Angeles railroad shop workers have done who laid down their tools at a signal flashed across the continent by interested schemers in Chicago, men unacquainted with industrial conditions in the Southwest and careless of the loss and suffering entailed on their victims.

For these workers, had they stuck loyally to their employers, were insured a pension sufficient to provide for themselves and their families in old age—and of all property valuable to the State or to the individual, that which provides for disability and old age must ever rank as the most to be desired. On what desperate odds then have the strikers relinquished the real benefits offered them by the railroad companies—for a pension is an actual interest in property—for imaginary advantages promised them by those who are powerless to make good their professions. Yet one ray of light has already broken through.

The men no longer obey the dictators of the labor-union party with the alacrity they did in the great strike of '93. The gospel of independence is spreading among all classes of workers. In California not 60 per cent. of the men have answered the summons of the arrogant ring in Chicago. In Sacramento, where the chief shops of the Harriman lines in this State are located, not a fifth of the men employed have gone out. In Stockton the railroad employees have refused altogether to recognise the general order.

In the light of these figures it is impossible to see what advantage can accrue to union men from the hasty and ill-advised action of the few who deserted their posts at the command of the Chicago machine. The unions will be weakened by the distribution of strike funds. Should they fail to take care of their dupes they will be entirely discredited. Meanwhile those who have sacrificed the solid substance for the deceptive shadow will have to ask themselves the question, when normal conditions again return, whether it were not better to have remained among the pensioners than to have been ranked among the discredited strikers.

PINCHOT IN ALASKA.

The fairness of the people of Alaska is evidenced by the fact that on last Saturday night at Cordova, at a mass meeting, they accorded a patient and courteous hearing to Gifford Pinchot.

The endeavors to perpetuate the profit which the Pocahontas Coal Company derives from selling to the government coal at double the price from which better Alaskan coal could be delivered to it at the Pacific Coast navy yards have been thoroughly and repeatedly exposed. Only a few weeks ago the sailing from Chesapeake Bay of a fleet of British vessels loaded with Pocahontas coal for Puget Sound and Alaskan navy yards was noted in the press dispatches. The contracts of the Pocahontas Coal Company with the government called for delivery on the Pacific Coast. The owners of British ships pay lower wages than are paid to the sailors on ships carrying the Stars and Stripes. They could therefore charge lower freight rates, and Pinchot's company could make larger profits by chartering them than by chartering American vessels. There is already stored in Pacific Coast government depots more than a year's supply of Pocahontas coal, and the apparent object of doubling or trebling this supply by shipments now under way is the pending danger to the Pocahontas Coal Company that before long the ban will in some way be removed from the development of Alaska coal fields, for when it is removed the Pocahontas Coal Company must inevitably lose the United States as its customer.

The Controller Bay question and the bogus "Dick-to-Dick" letter, an investigation of which was dropped by the Congressional committee when it was found that some Democratic higher-up was likely to be implicated, have been superseded by the syndicate of slanderers in a charge that the Guggenheims are monopolists of Alaska transportation facilities, when the fact is that there are seven steamship companies with which the Guggenheims have no connection operating between British Columbia and American ports and Southeastern Alaska.

That the Controller Bay harbor is impossible seems to have made no difference with Pinchot and his associates. They have steadily pursued their purpose of preventing by every means in their power the development of Alaskan coal fields. Their action has been so defiant that the Daily Alaskan, published at Cordova, lost its temper and characterized Pinchot and his associates as "a pack of whelping conservation curs conducting a campaign which is carried on with falsehood and slander, and inaccurate, incorrect and foolish statements."

It is not strange that the glorification, not to say deification, of Pinchot and his plan of "conservation of natural resources" in Alaska is believed by Alaskans to be carried on for the specific purpose of tying up the development of Alaska.

Under these circumstances the visit of Pinchot along with Senator Miles Poindexter to Alaska was welcomed, and his promise to explain his position and his views with respect to the Alaskan situation to a public meeting at Cordova was hailed with intense interest and some hope by the Alaskans.

Pinchot disappointed the expectations of his audience. He declined to make known his impressions of different Alaskan situations, saying he would not give his views on the questions until after further deliberation and conference with others identified with the conservation movement. Mr. Pinchot declared that if he had made any misstatements in his magazine articles, the publisher would gladly make corrections.

He said he had not changed his ideas regarding the danger of industrial monopoly in Alaska, which he said was the forerunner of political monopoly. He said that many misstatements had been made regarding Alaska by some magazines, but said that, on the other hand, the Alaska papers have been too narrow-minded. He said that broad-mindedness on the part of Alaskans is needed to reach the big men in Congress.

The evasive speech of Pinchot was, as might be expected, unsatisfactory to the Alaskans, who are too intelligent and too vitally interested in the development of their Territory to be content with a platitudinous harangue on "how not to do it." The independent press of the country has informed the people and aroused their interest in the Alaskan question and it is felt to be imperative that the Pinchotic throttle must be uncluthched from the throat of Alaska, and that either by throwing open the coal lands to purchase or lease, or by itself opening them the government must provide at once for their development.

THE HOUSEWIVES' STRIKE.

The housewives were serious in France, where the dry year had made all such commodities as butter, eggs and milk soar in prices. The French housewife is notoriously thrifty and it galled her beyond endurance to pay exorbitant prices, not caring nor understanding the reason therefor. The women in the small provincial towns could not see beyond the retail dealer, and it was upon him that they vented their spleen, upsetting his wares and dealing him personal violence in many cases.

It was at this critical juncture that the labor confederation flooded the town with paid agitators, seeing in the situation a chance to turn the affair to its own purposes. The havoc wrought by these men throughout France and Belgium has been cruel in the extreme—so much so that their own secretary, M. Henri Chatenet, denounces them in Le Radicale, the chief organ of the Socialist-Radical party in Paris. He declares that the General Confederation of Labor never has been an institution for the defense of the masses as they claim to be, and that "their sole function has been to foster disorders, no matter of what kind, so long as they seemed calculated to give anxiety to the authorities and to hinder the free exercise of our political institutions."

Thus the economic dissatisfaction has been transformed into a revolutionary strike.

The secretary's pronouncement has caused widespread discussion, as may be imagined, and a great number of the Socialist members in the Chamber are lending him their support. So that in France at least it would appear that even the Radicals have had enough of engineered strikes and riots and the wicked perversions of labor agitators.

PILATE AND POPULAR CLAMOR.

[San Francisco Post:] The devil is still quoting Scriptures for his purpose. In his San Luis Obispo speech advocating the recall of the judiciary, Gov. Johnson quotes: "It was a judicial tribunal which pushed the Savior barefoot over the pavements of Jerusalem, bending beneath the cross."

Here is the story of the trial of Christ according to St. Matthew:

"But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas and destroy Jesus.

"The governor answered and said unto them, whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said Barabbas.

"Pilate said unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They said unto him, Let Him be crucified.

"And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let Him be crucified.

"When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person; see ye to it.

"Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us and on our children."

The Governor, in searching for a precedent, has hit upon the strongest case against his argument. He has pointed to the most terrible example of the dangers of trial by mob which is recorded in history. As everyone who has read his New Testament only once knows, Christ was not tried by a tribunal. Pilate washed his hands of the affair and the Savior was condemned to death on Calvary by the mob. The tribunal was overruled by the voice of the misguided majority. The most cruel injustice ever recorded was done because of the mob control of a court of justice. The judgment of Christ was a startling example of the domination of a court by popular clamor.

Those who have even a passing acquaintance with the New Testament will be astonished at the sacrilegious attempt to twist the history of the most tragic injustice of the world into an argument for a condition of affairs that would restore trial to mobs. According to the contentions made by the advocates of recall of the judiciary, Pilate, who bowed to the ill of the multitude, was a just judge. Certainly he respected popular clamor to the degree which the advocates of recall of the judiciary would have a judicial officer respect it. He washed his hands entirely of the Savior's fate and handed him over to the multitude. Even as the recall advocates would have modern judges let popular clamor decide, Pilate agreed to the verdict of the wrong-headed majority because it was a majority.

The unfamiliarity of the Governor with the text of the New Testament has led him to point out the most powerful warning against conditions that would tend to make the law courts bow to the will of a wrong-headed multitude. In these simple sentences by St. Matthew there is the clearest and strongest advice against permitting conditions that will weaken the chances of tribunals of justice for calm deliberation. It is a scathing rebuke to those who would permit lesser Pilates to pass judgments by bowing to popular clamor and washing their hands of the consequences.

RECALLING JUDGES FATAL TO LIBERTY.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

The more one thinks of it, the more one is convinced that nothing would be more fatal to the true liberty of California than to subject its judiciary to the ignominy of holding office with the fear of recall hanging over their heads. A fearful judge cannot be an independent judge, and a non-independent judge must be a menace to true liberty. Whatever else we of California vote for October 10 we should not vote to incorporate the recall of the judiciary in our statutes.

That is what the American Bar Association meant when it said at Boston on August 30:

"It is difficult for one brought up in the traditions of our free American republics to find language properly to characterize this radical intrusion. If the judiciary of this country were in any material part corrupt, or if there were in our system of law no effective means to remove corrupt or ignorant judges; or if the means provided had been appealed to in vain and could not be made operative, then there might be some excuse for a revolutionary measure of this character. But none of these things is true. The Constitutions of the States provide the most ample machinery for the removal of judges, either by address out of office or by impeachment.

"The proposed measure is an assault on the citadel of law and order. It is an attempt to destroy the independence of the judiciary, without which true liberty—the liberty which is regulated by law, enforced with reason and deliberation—cannot exist, and to substitute the opinion and the passions of the mob."

In his historical message to Congress vetoing the Arizona Statehood bill as first passed, with the "recall of the judiciary," permitted in the Constitution on which that bill was based, President Taft said:

"This provision of the Arizona Constitution, in its application to county and State judges, seems to me so pernicious in its effect, so destructive of independency in the judiciary, so likely to subject the rights of the individual to the possible tyranny of a popular majority, and, therefore, to be so injurious to the cause of free government, that I must disapprove a Constitution containing it. When such a Constitution contains something so destructive of free government as the judicial recall it should be disapproved.

"Judges, to fulfill their functions properly in our popular government, must be more independent than in any other form of government, and that need of independence is greatest where the individual is one litigant and the State, guided by the successful and governing majority, is the other. [Necessarily, this class of litigation is far more prevalent in California, Arizona and the other far Western States than in the older settled States of the Union —The writer.] In order to maintain the rights of the minority and the individual and to preserve our constitutional balance, we must have judges with courage to decide against the majority when justice and law require."

After outlining the legal details of the "recall," the President, himself a most able and experienced lawyer and judge, said:

"Think of the opportunity such a system would give to unscrupulous political bosses in control, as they have been in control not only of conventions but elections! Think of the enormous power for evil given to the sensational, muckraking portion of the press in rousing prejudice against a just judge by false charges and insinuations, the effect of which in the short period of an election by recall it would be impossible for him to meet and offset! Supporters of such a system seem to think that it will work only in the interest of the poor, the humble, the weak and the oppressed; that it will strike down only the judge who is supposed to favor corporations and be affected by the corrupting influence of the rich. Nothing could be further from the ultimate result. The motive it would offer to unscrupulous combinations to seek to control politics in order to control the judges is clear. Those would profit by the recall who have the best opportunity of rousing the majority of the people to action on a sudden impulse. Are they likely to be the wisest or the best people in a community? Do they not include those who have money enough to employ the firebrands and slanderers in a community and the stirrers-up of social hate? Would not self-respecting men well hesitate to accept judicial office with such a sword of Damocles hanging over them? What kind of judgment might those on the unpopular side expect from courts whose judges must make their decisions under such legalized terrorism? The character of the judges would deteriorate to that of trimmers and time-servers, and independent judicial action would be a thing of the past. As the possibilities of such a system pass in review, is it too much to characterize it as one which will destroy the judiciary, its standing and its usefulness?"

Senator Crawford of South Dakota said:

"Are we going to stand for the removal of judges because their temperament is not the radical temperament that you and I and John Smith and John Brown possess? Are we going to remove judges—conceding them to be honest and brave and courageous—because we say 'their leanings were a little too much on the side of property, according to our view, and not quite strong enough on the side of humanity; and, therefore, while we will not hurt their feelings by putting in the petition for their recall that we object to them on that ground, we will nevertheless petition for their recall?' We will treat them kindly, and after we have put them out of office will pension them; but we will gently put them aside, because temperamentally they are not in harmony with us.' We have heard talk of that kind here. Does anybody believe that it will meet the approval of the American people?

"Do you think the American people, with all their traditions, with their history, with their love for their courts and the institutions of their land, are going for one moment to follow a leadership that preaches a doctrine like that?"

Are we of California going to stand for it? God and our votes on October 10 forbid!

[Louisville Courier-Journal:] "I hear they are wearing nothing but old clothes at Plunkville-Under-the-Peak. That's the place for you to go, wife."

"Yes. I can take seven trunks of old clothes. If old clothes are the racket, I can make a splurge."

I cannot tell! There are ghosts that crave
A bit of the love that endures.

SMALL BORES ARE POPULAR.

Duck Hunters Seized by New Gun Fad.

The Twenty-Eight Gauge Is Now the Thing.

Technical "Dope" Important to Hunters—and Ducks.

BY TRIGGER.

The small-bore shotgun movement has manifested itself this season among the club duck hunters to a most unprecedented degree, and some of the more expert shots are going as far as they can go to the ultimate limits of gauge-narrowing and charge-reduction.

Sporting goods houses find it difficult to get rid of anything bigger than sixteen-bore to club gunners, and a great many twenty-gauges are already in the hands of their proud users, some of whom ordered their guns built expressly during the summer so as to have them for the fall shooting.

Even the twenty-eight gauge is being given a thorough tryout. Hugh Glassell demonstrated that his popgun was equal to the Blue Wing conditions last year. Nat. Gibson had no trouble getting all the ducks he could use on the Lomita grounds with a twenty-eight. This year Paul Blair will be shooting one on the west shore. The writer had the small-gun bug as badly as anyone is ever bitten with it, id lives; and has just received a twenty-eight gauge with thirty-two-inch barrels, which will do service on the Canvasback grounds this winter. Several other twenty-eights are buried until shooting time, when their doubtful possessors will sneak them out into the blinds underneath their jeans, and steal a tryout on the sly, with the hope of side-stepping the gratuitous "kidding" that seems to be the portion allotted those who attempt thus to do an old thing in a new way. At that, trials recently conducted by the writer are proof positive that the twenty-eight gauge, properly built and loaded with from ⅞ to ¾ ounce chilled No. 7 shot and 2¼ drams of powder is no joke at all, but a mighty interesting and effective little proposition provided a man can point it close enough to the mark.

The sixteen and twenty-gauge guns may be considered as fully demonstrated. Many twenties will handle No. 6 shot well and make killing patterns with it, although most gunners prefer No. 7 in this gauge. In the twenty-eight, allowing 150 as the necessary average pattern in thirty-inch circle at forty yards to insure clean-killing effect upon a bird the size of an ordinary duck, it is necessary to use No. 7 shot. The maximum charge of No. 6 contains only 180 pellets, and as no gun can be expected to throw over 75 per cent. of the charge into a thirty-inch circle at forty yards, patterns of from 120 to 125 are all that can be hoped for, and they are a little on the short side except for big ducks.

Some of the shooters now experimenting with twenty-eight gauge guns are making a grave mistake in over-shotting them. The breech pressure runs up in these narrow chambers with even ordinary loads; the proportioned charge for the various gauges would be, 12-bore, 1⅛-ounce; 16, ⅞-ounce; 20, ¾-ounce;; 24, ⅝-ounce; 28, ½-ounce. With this shot load the pressures would not be excessive, but with ¾-ounce of No. 7 the chamber gas pressures will go close to seven tons to judge by the looks of some of the primers, "blow-outs" and "cutoffs" that some of the experimenters are getting. The twenty-eight gauges as made by Parker Brothers are supplied on what goes with them as a twenty-gauge frame, and the barrels are amply strong, but no gun can be stronger than the primers used in the shells it fires. Using long shot columns and overloading the powder is apt to make a load detonate some time, and then good-bye gun. The light recoil as compared with the twelve and the little "fuss" the twenty-eight-bore makes even when overloaded is apt to mislead any but a careful observer into overlooking the work that the load is doing.

Properly loaded, these small guns can be made to get up a tremendous velocity. They will kill clean and far when held right, and the crack is hardly louder than a deer rifle.

It is becoming exceptional to find a twelve in the duck clubs now—probably there are more of them in the Blue Wing than any other club—an anomaly, for the Blue Wing is the best club in this part of the country, and if there is a place where a man can kill the limit with a pinch of shot and a prayer, that is it. All the better shots have gone to sixteens elsewhere, and many of them have continued on down the gauge line. Dr. C. B. Jones, Dr. Schiffmann, Hugh Glassell, are all small-bore cranks, and why in the name of sport such good shots as Uncle George Adams, and Lee Stephens stuck to the heavy artillery the way they did is the eighth wonder of the local web-foot sporting world.

Jacob Dang, second, Thomas McD. Potter and August E. Morro, bought themselves sixteens this summer, having them made to order, and cleaned up the Canvasback Club which is now a small-bore organization exclusively, with not a twelve-gauge in the membership. Nearly all the Bolsa Chica members shoot sixteens; about three-quarters of the Westminster shooters; two-thirds of the Chico membership; all of the Green Wing Land and Water Company; most of the Lomita—in fact, over half of all the clubs with a very few exceptions, have taken up the opportunity of enhanced sport and cleaner killing effect offered by gauge reduction.

The general opinion appears to be that so far from requiring more of the marksman, these little guns make men beter shots, the improvement in some being marked from the start.

Davies is another fast man from Santa Ana and looks like an end. He will probably be on the second squad for a time, but there is more than a passing possibility that he will be seen in the lineup during some of the big games this season.

Welcome, Mister McCredie! Huh!

George Cline, Chief Rooter,

And one of the organizers of the yell club which will inhabit the southern hemisphere of the grand stand during the Portland-Vernon series and root for—now which is it they are going to root for?

Rah! Rah! Rah!

LUSTY LUNGS WILL AID HAP'S VERNONS.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

THE yells of the Roman mob, lashed to a frenzy by the tongue of Mark Antony, bid fair to pale to a mere nothing in comparison with the awful blast which will greet the Portland Swans tomorrow afternoon, when the Vernon Rooter's Club opens hostilities.

Due to the untiring efforts of George Cline and Charles McCue 500 loyal fans have written their names on the great register, pledging their faith to uphold the Tiger's honor at all costs. The sounding of brass and the tinkling of cymbals will be the regular order of the day through the coming series.

All the known methods of snaring goats are to be employed in the hope that the Angora belonging to one Judge McCredie can be brought to book with the least possible shedding of blood among the home guard. Oh! there will be wild times for the next six days out at Washington Park, and if there is any pretty green grass on that peaceful pasture when the flag of truce is hoisted after the battle, will Dad please write, we want to know.

Mr. Cline is to handle all the special stunts directed at the above mentioned goat while Mr. McCue will be the official cheer leader. The last named party will be assisted by one Phil Johnson, who has thrilled the Stanford bleachers in times past with pleas for more noise. It is the idea of the cheer leaders to keep up a steady fire and when one has exhausted his vocal organs the burden of the fray will be carried on by the other.

All the fertile brains of the fans have been called into play with the result that fifteen yells and songs are on the list to be learned by the faithful ones.

The register will be open till noon today for any of those who have overlooked this bet and it is to be hoped that about 100 will see their several ways clear to get in the game, as every lusty voice is going to count in this mighty effort to win the pennant for the South. The book can be signed at 214 West Third street.

Six hundred seats have been reserved directly behind the Vernon bench in the grand stand and if the present indications can be taken as any criterion, all these roosts will be filled when the curtain is raised tomorrow afternoon at 2:45. President Cline, of the club, says that before each game noise apparatus will be distributed through the section and along with these implements, a printed list of all the yells and songs which will be used during the game.

At this stage of a close pennant race many a game has been won and lost in the bleachers. Vernon has a lead of four points over the Beavers at the present reading of the archives, or one game, that is if the Swans win tomorrow they will be four points ahead of Hap's men while if Hap wins he will be about seven points in front, and let's hope that Hogan will come home in front.

If we all go out and root for the home team the men who are out there to do their best and win will strain all the more if they know there is a bunch of friends up in the stands, with them to the last gasp.

To get the best results from the rooting, the rootees must watch the yell leader and get with him on all the vocal effusions as in unity there is strength, as has been said by Abe Lincoln. The yell leader is the show in this game, not personally, but as a means to an end. All the yells will be numbered and when the leader calls one of the numbers, it means that the gang must get to work and give voice on this one particular strain till they are called off.

The Elks band will furnish the music for this fiesta and if there are not some wind broken horns by Monday night, it will be passing strange, because they are going out there with the avowed intention of blowing till the last gasp, and let 'em blow, we are going to need the wind, as this Duck bunch are bad Hombres.

TENNIS TOURNEY AT PASADENA ARRANGED

Best Players in South Will Be on Hand to Participate in Big Annual Event—An nouncements and Invitations Will Be Sent Out Today—May Sutton May Play.

BY R. A. WYNNE.

THIS morning the formal announcement and invitation for the annual tennis tournament of the Pasadena Tennis Club will be sent out by John D. Holmes, chairman of the committee in charge. The dates set for the tournament are October 18, 19, 20 and 21.

Unusual interest centers in this tournament as practically every prominent tennis player in the South and many from the northern portions of the State, will be present and participate.

Arrangements have been made to have ladies' singles, men's singles, mixed doubles and men's doubles, the latter to be an invitation affair. With these four brackets to be fought out and with the best players in California coming to contest, it bids fair to be one of the greatest tournaments of the year.

Mary Browne, the wonderful little Glendale player, has been one of the first to enter. Miss Browne is perhaps the greatest lady player in Southern California, barring the two Sutton girls, who are really in a class by themselves. It is expected that May Sutton will be back in Pasadena in time for the tournament, but it is not known whether she will enter, although every effort will be made to arrange a contest for her.

What is expected to be an innovation in Southern California tournaments is the fact that Mr. Holmes, who is in charge of the arrangements, has been in communication with several of the most famous tennis players in Washington and Oregon, with the end in view of having them come to Pasadena for the tournament.

It has developed during the last year or so that the Washington players have been coming up strong and have been giving the victorious California players who invaded their tournaments the battle of their lives to win out.

Mr. Holmes says that he is practically assured of three, at least, and perhaps four of the best-known players of Washington coming down to the tournament. He will be in a position shortly to announce their names.

This feature should be an incent to the California players, who h become somewhat satiated by play among themselves too frequently. least one of the Washington play to come to the Pasadena tournam will be a lady, and a match betw her and Miss Browne should be paramount interest.

The summer tournaments brou out several new players who crea sensations in their work, and it expected to have these young meet at Pasadena. There is yo Marshal Ketchum of Santa Mon who won the men's singles at the V ice Country Club tournament by feating Gerald Young. Then there the wonderful showing of Ward D son in defeating Winnie Mace at Long Beach tournament for Southern California champions The fact, also, that Claude Wayne played sensational form during summer tournaments, brings him the limelight and a man who will watched closely at the Pasad tournament.

After Ketchum's sensational pl ing at the Venice tournament, he unable to enter the Long Be tournament owing to having ente the service of the Edison company had been freely predicted that K Ketchum had defeated Gerald You one of the strongest young players Southern California, that he wo have been a formidable competitor the tournament at Long Beach settle the Southern California cha pionship. It is now intended to br Ketchum to Pasadena and have h enter the tournament against Ger Young, Winnie Mace and Ward D son, and a battle royal will undou edly ensue.

It had been planned to h Maurice McLoughlin of San Franci come to the tournament, but it stated yesterday that McLough would sail tomorrow from Vancou in company with Beals C. Wright New Zealand, as the two members the American team which would ch lenge the present holders of the D Cup emblematic of the world's cha pionship in tennis.

The committee having the Pasad tournament in charge is composed John D. Holmes, chairman; Tod Fe Jr., Robert Pitcairn and Clyde Gu

KILBANE AND ATTELL MAY TEST CLASS HERE

ARRANGEMENTS are now pending with the end in view of bringing Able Attell, the present world's champion featherweight and Johnny Kilbane, the wonderful little Cleveland fighter, together in a twenty round contest at Vernon Arena with the world's championship at stake.

Since the Cleveland boy defeated Rivers the contest between Kilbane and Attell has been the general topic among the fans.

Uncle Tom McCarey is as mum as a bivalve when the match is mentioned, but it is known that he has been tentatively feeling out both Kilbane and Attell.

Since the decisive defeat of Conley by Kilbane the latter has loomed large as the only challenger of the wonderful Attell worthy of notice.

Conley has met Attell once and Kilbane met Able in Kansas City, and Conley has given his word that Kilbane is superior to Attell both as a boxer and a fighter.

It is also pointed out that the Vernon Arena owing to the superb contests that have been staged there during the last few months, has become the center of the fight game in the United States. The contest between Kline and Conley, the one between Kilbane and Kline, the great match between Kilbane and Rivers, when the defeat of Rivers astonished the fight fans of the country and the fight last Saturday between Conley and Kilbane, have all been most important topics in pugilistic circles.

The object of the tournament ranged by McCarey was to find one best man to challenge Attell the world's championship in featherweight class, and Kilbane the man.

There can be no doubt as to ability and the right of Kilbane challenge Attell and also there is doubt as to his one desire to m the great Able. There can also no doubt as to the appreciation which the public would look upon match. It would be the great drawing card that could be arrang at present barring perhaps Woig and McFarland, or Jack Johnson Sam Langfrod.

Before Kilbane left for the E Sunday, he told several friends t he wanted to get Attell to meet h and that he was practically sure t McCarey would work on the mat for the next month or so making possible for him to come back h and meet Attell on New Years' Day.

Sad Home-Coming.

CONFERENCE LIFTS BAN.

PART OF AMATEUR RULES ARE DISCARDED.

Action May Bring About Re-instatement of Shutt and Sea of Pomona Whom Faculty Declared Ineligible—Oxy Plays First Game Tomorrow with Pasadena.

At a meeting of the Southern California College Conference Committee, held at Occidental College last Saturday morning, Dr. Williams of Pomona, was elected president.

The committee took up the matter of the admissio nof Redlands University to the conference, which was left over from last year and it was decided definitely not to elect them to membership to the conference.

Then the question of the eligibility of the admission of Redlands Universbeen playing semi-professional baseball this summer, to compete in intercollegiate athletics, was brought up. This was deemed important because of the action of the faculty of Pomona College, in barring Vincent Shutt, the versatile sagebrush football captain, from athletics this year for competing in baseball games to which admission was charged.

The result of the deliberation of the committee was that they decided to suspend section 29, of conferenceagreement, referring to amateur standing of competitors in conference games, except in such cases as where the athlete in question admits having received money or prizes other than a medal in return for his services.

The committee seemed to agree that

EL REY WILL CHALLENGE.

otor Boat to Make Circuit of Island.

rbutt Perpetual Trophy May Change Hands.

mpbell Will Put Up Hard Fight in Denfense.

Within a few days a challenge will issued for another around-the-and motor-boat race. The chal-ging boat will be the Del Rey, ned by R. C. McClay and C. O. ck. In anticipation of the event, Del Rey is being equipped with ew engine of large horse power. With a boat of the size and power the Del Rey in the field, there is a chance that the Garbutt trophy y change hands. With the change engines, the power of the boat has n increased five-fold, the new plant ng rated at 100 horse power. Un-the impulse of such a motor, the Rey should not have any great iculty in wresting the cup from hands of its present holder, Joe lows. The Campbell, Fellows's edster, is equipped with but twen-horse power and is considerably rter than her new rival, her length ng twenty-four-foot. The Del Rey asures thirty feet.

The Del Rey is now out of the wa- undergoing the change of motors. r owners expect that the new six-inder mill will be in running order the last of this week. After that will be simply a matter of getting uned and limbered up.

The length of the Del Rey is the se of a great deal of discussion ong motor-boat fans since the news her new power plant leaked out. ny of those who have watched i participitated in the motor-boat ne for years, shake their heads en the word "easy" is used in con-tion with the separation of Joe lows from the much-prized trophy. y say that, even with the advantage her horse power, the Del Rey will e a big task on her hands when goes up against the Campbell. Those who are skeptical as to the lity of the Del Rey to capture cup admit that she will be faster n the Campbell under ordinary con-ions, but say that a race around alina Island is an entirely different tter. In an ocean race, two other tures beside speed must be taken o consideration, the sea worthiness the boat, and the seamanship of skipper.

FELLOWS HARD TO BEAT.

There are many who aver that the mpbell's lack of speed as compared h the Del Rey is more than made for by Fellows's experience in nau-l matters, and the lines of her l. In substantiation of this it is nted out that the Campbell defeated number of boats in the first race und the island and that, of the ire number, she was the slowest some four miles an hour, the vic-y being due to the seaworthiness the little boat and Fellows's abili-to get the maximum speed from on a sea. In the last race, the mpbell finished twenty-five minutes ead of her challenger, the Ahrens ner's Mary A., despite the fact t the latter's engine is rated at ce that of the Campbell.

n regard to the sea worthiness of Del Rey, it is said that her line oo long for the length of the aver-swell found in the channel. A rt, which is of too great length, a tendency to plough through the ves instead of riding them, which necessary to get the maximum speed h comparatively small power. hen the water line is of greater gth than that of the swells, the t will ride only every third one them.

ACE IS FOR GARBUTT CUP.

The trophy for the capture of which new motor is being installed in Del Rey, is the Garbutt cup. This a perpetual trophy which was pre-ted to the South Coast Yacht Club Frank A. Garbutt, for a challenge o around Catalina Island, and is ued at $500. In the deed of gift ie specified that the race must be d within thirty days of the time the issuing of the challenge, and at it must start from the end of government breakwater in the er harbor, of San Pedro, before .m. There have been three races this trophy, and in each of them Campbell finished well ahead of rivals.

In speaking of the Del Rey, R. C. Clay, one of her two owners, said: "As to what we expect from her the matter of speed, we are not ing much. The new six-cylinder gines, will turn a twenty-two-inch eel of thirty-eight pitch at a speed 950 revolutions a minute. With a peller of that size the Del Rey ould move right along.

"Of late, there has been a lot of se along the water front about ed boats, so we thought that we ld see what we could do in that e. The hull of the Del Rey was ginally built for a larger engine, there is no question about her nding it."

The Speedy Del Rey,

Whose owners will challenge the Campbell, the present holder of the Garbutt trophy, for a race around Catalina Island in its defense.

New Men.

REORGANIZE FOR FIRST BIG GAME.

U. S. C. 'VARSITY PREPARING FOR CALIFORNIA CONTEST.

Influx of Experienced Law School Men Means Changes in Present 'Varsity Line-up While Result of Two Hard Games Before Northern Trip Will Determine Rest of Team.

Yesterday Pat Higgins started the reorganization of the regular 'varsity team, which is to make the trip north to try conclusions with the California first-year men. The U.S.C. freshmen as a team have disbanded, and will play no more games this season, but most of the men are out for the 'varsity and several of them have excellent chances of making good.

There is going to be a hard fight for some of the positions on the first fifteen, as many of the law school men have recently joined the squad and with their experience, are more valuable men than many who have been holding down the regular berths. This is all the more true on account of the short time in which the team has to prepare for the big game, it being only two weeks distant.

With the two or three new men that have appeared recently, the coach has a fine bunch of material most of them having Rugby experience. It remains now to develop team work in the forward division, and intersee combination passing in the back field.

Millikin and Maddox are two good additions from the law department the former returning to practice today, after having been absent a week. Millikin played in the back field with the barristers, and Maddox was one of the forwards.

Monk Pierce, will, without a doubt hold down the full back position and that will relieve Higgins of the trouble to develop a new man in that difficult place. His registration last Friday, brought joy to the whole Methodist camp, as he is one of the best Rugby football players in Southern California, having played five or six years on the Polytechnic team, and also with the Castaways.

Livernash is one of the brand new men who made the old-timers open their eyes, yesterday evening by his brilliant playing. Although playing front rank in the scrum he got away with several dodging runs, and with good passing, scored against the opposition on two occasions.

The forwards, who will make the trip north, will be picked from the following named men who have shown up pretty well in practice thus far: Schwarz, Huntington, Olson, Maddox, Adamson, Kellar, Teuschke, Harold, Henderson, Harriman and Livernash.

The back field men who stand a show of landing the coveted berths are: Manning, Pierce, Foss, Millikin, Elbers, Wright, Wallace, Boyer, Rubio, and Davis.

Two good hard games are yet to be played before the team leaves and it will depend a great deal how the men show up in these contests, whether they will be among the chosen.

The first contest is with Pomona High fifteen next Saturday to be played at Pomona, and on the following Wednesday the fast Polytechnic team will be taken on for a return game.

the section of the agreement failed to answer the purpose for which it was meant, and that it was better to drop it altogether than to have it stand as it is at present.

This action resulted in the reinstatement of Shutt and Seay as far as the conference is concerned, as they both deny having received money, or prizes other than a medal.

However, the eligibility of the men is now up to their respective faculties to do as they see fit. It is not likely that the Pomona faculty will rescind its action of Friday, in declaring Shutt ineligible, as this action was taken without any reference to the conference at all.

Occidental College will play its first game of the season tomorrow afternoon on Baer Field, with Pasadena High School. This will be the first exhibition of the American game seen in the city this season, and it is expected that a good sized crowd will be on hand to see how the new game, as taught by Coach Pipal, stacks up against Rugby, which has been before the public for several weeks already.

While this game will be in every sense of the word a practice game, it will undoubtedly be a great struggle from start to finish as the High School boys have an exceptionally fast and heavy team.

Coach Pipal will try out the new material in an endeavor to get a line on some good substitutes. The Tiger student body will be out in full force to support their team as they are looking forward to a season unmarred by defeat.

It is also quite possible that Santa Ana High will be brought up here for a game Saturday, but it is not known for certain just what arrangements Manager Johnson will be able to make with the Peatlanders.

All to the Merry.

YACHTS GO ON OCEAN CRUISES.

NUMBER OF YACHTING PARTIES HELD SUNDAY.

Fair Breeze and Smooth Sea Encountered by Those in Channel. Sunset Yacht Club's Commodore Takes to Golf—Eisen in Search of "His" Whale.

A fair breeze and a comparatively smooth sea made Sunday's yachting parties unusually successful affairs. A number of owners had parties out for the day although the big cruise of last week and the opening of the duck season served to make things rather quiet.

Commodore Dan Laubersheimer of the South Coast Yacht Club had a party out on the Royal. The yacht sailed to Terminal Island, where the members of the party donned their bathing suits and swam ashore. Later in the afternoon, the Commodore's party paid a visit to the Sunset Yacht Club's anchorage in Long Beach harbor. The return to San Pedro was made at 5 o'clock. Those on the Royal were: Commodore and Mrs. Dan Laubersheimer, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Heselberger, Hazel Wilson, Cleves Harrison, and Harry Chamberlain, who is celebrating his recent admittance to the bar.

Warren Wood's Mischief I returned from Avalon Sunday evening. The yacht had been at the island since last Friday. On account of urgent business Wood was not able to join the party, Wright Hoag acting as skipper in his absence. Those who were on the Michief's cruise were Mr. and Mrs. Wright Hoag, Mrs. Fred W. Wood and Carl Aspe.

Although her skipper had urgent business among the duck ponds, which prevented his being present, Ben Weston's clipper had a party out for the afternoon, two of the crew being in charge. The yacht left her mooring in Wilmington at noon and, after cruising about in the channel for a few hours, returned, making the entire trip under sail. Those on the Clipper were Juanita Wilson, Mildred James, Mrs. Smith, Archie Brown and Newell Logan.

Roy Shaver and a party spent the day in fishing off San Pedro and Long Beach from the Roncador.

Joe Coxe, of the Los Angeles Motor Boat Club, had a party out fishing on the For-Tuna Sunday. Although the fish were not biting as good as some weeks ago, the members of the party say that they had good sport.

Percy Eisen spent Sunday afternoon in cruising about in the channel in search of the whale, which gave him the scare of a few weeks ago. It is probably fortunate that he didn't find it for, after the joshing which he has undergone since the incident, he would have probably tried to run it down just to show that he was not afraid of it. He was accompanied on the Merlin by his brother, E. G. Eisen.

The defeat of Pittsburgh seriously menaced that club's title to third place.

GIANTS TAKE GAME.

PIRATES UP AGAINST IT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—New York appeared in the closing game of the season here today, defeating Pittsburgh 3 to 0. It was a well played contest. The feature was the pitching of Wiltse, who held Pittsburgh batsmen to two singles, one a scratch. Not a Pittsburgh man reached second base and only four got to first. In all, only twenty-eight men faced Wiltse, one of whom received a pass. Fielding on both sides was sharp and brilliant.

Devore scored New York's first run in the fourth. He opened with a grounder to first base, which no one could handle, went to second on Doyle's base on balls, to third on a sacrifice by Snodgrass and home on Murray's out from McCarthy to McKechnie.

The two runs in the sixth were scored by Wiltse and Devore. Wiltse was passed and Devore made his third hit. A sacrifice by Doyle advanced both and they scored on a single by Snodgrass. Score:

Thirty-Two Motor Entries.

SIMPLEX AND REO FOR THE SANTA MONICA ROAD RACE.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

A. J. W. KEATING, who owns the Simplex fifty-seventy-horse-power racer, the car which Ralph de Palma handled in the Indianapolis Speedway contest, stated yesterday that the car will be entered in the free-for-all at Santa Monica. This upsets all the dope already figured. The Simplex is one of the fastest cars on earth and will have either Ralph de Palma or another Simplex factory man at the wheel.

As a matter of fact a Simplex driver from the factory is now in San Francisco awaiting a wire. If De Palma starts he should reach here in plenty of time to practice and then figure in the mighty speed battle. If he cannot come the Bay City man will drive. De Palma knows the course, is one of the greatest drivers now in the game and will start as one of the favorites in the big event.

When A. M. Young heard that a Simplex will be started the chairman of the road race committee said, "Well, that settles everything and makes the Santa Monica road race the biggest event on earth. I am satisfied and ready to finish up all the details. We need have no worry about the outcome of this Vanderbilt of the West. It will be a hum-dinger and we will all be there to see a world record broken."

Young has done yeoman service on the preparations for this contest. Everything has been lined up carefully and the money is in sight for the $10,000 purse. The drivers are coming in every day and the entry list consists of thirty-two of the fastest cars ever started in any road race. This is within ten entries of the Savannah Grand Prize and there remains two weeks before the race is started.

In addition to the Simplex entry a Reo was also entered yesterday and Harris Hanshue, who is to drive the Mercer, will also drive this entry. The Reo is one of the fast factory cars, a 1912 model, and will be shipped here at once by express. It is entered in the light car race.

In addition to this an Inter-State was also entered and this car will figure in the speed battle with a factory driver at the helm. The Lexington is in shape for the race and was stripped yesterday and carefully examined. It was not damaged by the crash into the tree at Redlands and Charles H. Bigelow, who will drive the car, is not hurt at all. He is in first-class shape and ready for a great drive.

The road race committee has examined the course and everything is in first-class shape. It will be ready for practice ten days before the big race. The Nevada-avenue turn will not be banked. The Soldier's Home turn will be in condition for fast work. The Palisades is as smooth as glass. A score board, showing the position of each car in the races, will be erected at once.

DECISION FOR ATTELL; BUT CROWD KICKED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2.—When Referee Stout awarded Monte Attell of San Francisco a decision over Johnny Daly of New York at the end of a ten-round bout here tonight, police stepped into the ring to prevent any possible trouble from the crowd, a majority of which yelled for Daly.

Mr. Wad Holds a Little Rehearsal Before the Portland-Vernon Series.

The fact that two dozen ball players in this town are willing to bounce a three-bagger punch off the nose of any fan who declares that ball games are "thrown" in this burg, should lead no wise one to believe that it is better to have a horn that you can blow in church and wake the fifty-seven kinds of sleepers with than to have the one that you have to get into shape by letting it gently slide through a crack in the floor.

Heroes were fine things back in Juliet's time but these days the Police Judge always fines them too for fighting.

Send Him to Us.

While Tham Langford is willing to bring his sparring partner, Jeannette, out here and fight, it doesn't prove anything but that Tham wants the money.

Send for Jim Flynn, white hope killer. Tham could get it fighting Jim until the police wouldn't stop the battle either. The reason is that every waste of the City Hall and courthouse is running for office again. No gentleman ever tries to be good until after the votes are in.

Don't Know It's Loaded.

If the dear, darling suffrage ladies will tell me how to escape from the income tax collector, the assessor and the Police Court jury I'll run ten miles to 'em to give 'em my vote. I never found that it ever did me any good. It seems to me that every time I vote for sugar trust raises the price of sugar and potatoes go up a dollar a ton. It strikes me that if they knew much about what a vote isn't as they think they do about what they think it is, they'd eat a can of cold spam and expire forever. Still, no one ever knows what he is voting for anyway so I guess they wouldn't be any worse off than we are if they did it.

Gives Him Right.

About the only object I can see in Gotch wrestling Zbyszko again is to get a good strong toe hold on that name and crack it into about two pieces. Still, I don't know that What-Is-It would be able to pronounce either the head piece or the tail piece of himself at that.

However, it's a cinch that he wouldn't have any worse time trying to than I have now. It's just as easy for me to pronounce it backwards as forwards.

Knocker Busy Again.

That pestiferous professor up around Stanford and Berkeley who is handing the State a knock by showing that the University boys are featherweights in their studies, leaves out all about what they are doing in football, baseball and track stuff.

What's the matter with this old gink? Does he think we are going to run out of the scrum in the second half when the score is 2 to 0 or get off first base in the thirteenth inning just to chase over to some old school room and learn how to spell cat and dog and table? Why the most of us college boys can spell good enough to be sign painters now. Does he expect us to invent some new dictionary? Nuts, nuts!

This thirty-horse-power speedster is entered in the medium car race and Jenkins is here ready to burn up the earth with his car. He drove over the Santa Monica road race course yesterday for the first time.

Nervy Speedster.

JENKINS READY WITH FAST COLE.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

JOHNNY JENKINS is here. The man who has driven the Cole "Thirty" to victory oftener than any other three drivers is on the job ready to start in the medium-priced event in the Santa Monica road race. This cheerful, carefree motor sprinter will win your heart when you meet him. He has the nerve.

When Jenkins drove a Cole in the Redlands hill-climb he was in line for a victory in his class. He took a turn, we'll say about thirty-five miles an hour to be conservative, but it was closer to fifty miles, and the car leaped from the road and landed in a cornfield. Well, Jenkins did not win, but he called on me that night and apologized for not taking first place. That was going about the limit. It won my heart.

You will feel the same way when you see him. You will hope that he will win in his class and there is a possibility that he will. If it takes nerve on the turns Johnny will be right there with the nerve. If it takes grit he will have an extra supply on tap. If it takes endurance the square-built stocky driver will have enough and to spare. He is young enough to win and strong enough to take first place by sheer force.

When Jenkins drove here in the twenty-four-hour race he handled his car like a veteran. While he was on the Cole the car was easily the fastest in its class. When other men tried to handle the car the story was different. Jenkins jumped into fame in a peculiar way. He had enough class to take first place easily.

> Jenkins arrived yesterday direct from the Cole factory with a car stripped and ready. He is well known in eastern racing circles and has figured in many of the big motor speed contests. He is a veteran at road work and as strong as an ox. Though he will not have things all his own way by any means Jenkins is doped by many to win the Santa Monica road race.

He is one of the drivers who will bear close watching. He has had experience in road racing and in track work. He appears to be a better road driver than a track racer. This remains to be seen when he is hooked up with some of the fastest motorists on earth.

With a thirty horsepower car under him that can do seventy miles an hour Jenkins is one of the favorites in his class. He has the speed to average about fifty-five miles an hour for this event. That will be fast but Jenkins will make the other drivers hustle to catch him after he gets off the line.

When you meet Jenkins you will find him unassuming. He has no desire to push himself forward. He is diffident. He will apologize for himself but not for his car. He thinks, and he has a right to think, that the Cole is the best thirty horsepower car on the market. Well, he is so convinced of this that he is willing to show people how fast the car can be driven. He will have an opportunity in the Santa Monica road race.

When A. M. Young, the chairman of the road race committee, learned that Jenkins was to drive he was satisfied that the Cole will, at least, be handled right. If the car wins he is certain it will be the fact that a combination of car and driver has been secured.

C. Fred Grundy, owner of the Cole, who handles the entry of the fast thirty horsepower car has something to say about this race and is willing to wager that the Cole will take first place in its class. So confident is he that he will take you up in a minute if you should happen to choose another car.

With a driver like Jenkins, chosen from a bunch of fast men, Grundy has a right to believe that the Cole will grab a first place. The car may win in its class and Jenkins will drive with that spirit which has marked him in every contest in which he has figured to date. He has the advantage that he will drive every foot of the race and will be at the wheel from the start to the finish of the mighty speed battle.

Scotch Sport.

MARQUIS RECOMMENDS CURLING FOR ALL AGES.

BY MARQUIS OF QUEENSBERRY.

(Copyright, 1911, by the Marquis of Queensberry.)

I WAS MOST interested to hear that curling was among the park's curriculum of sports in Chicago, as being a Scot I love the game. I think for middle-aged men and for old men of 50 or over it is an ideal game, and many an old Samsonach has prolonged his days on earth by this most invigorating and exciting of games. The rivalry in Scotland over the various curling teams is inspiring, and such a meet as that held at Dumfriesshire, I have been as many as 5000 people on the ice watching the various foursomes from all over the country.

One old curler from Ruthnell was as old and as keen as the youngest. So keen was he that, attired as a boy in summer, to go to his good sized cottage in the village and play him self bowls in his little dining-room with a "hawbee" a time, just to keep his hands in for the winter, and Mary Ann Elisabeth, and Daisy Muriel Gertrude, and Alexander William Harry, the 5-year-old grandsons and daughters, used to stand on the chairs and "hist" up on to further powers by applauding any clever roll of the small china balls.

WHISKEY AND CAKE IN ORDER.

The old green carpet was quite worn in the center, and the exercise and excitement was so great that it was not long before the whisky and cake was brought around, and there was no such thing as "No" in a Scotch house or cottage and down it had to go. Then the old man would start talking and recount the wondrous performances he had taken part in, and the ejaculations, such as "Eh, mon, but that were a grand shot," and "Sup! Sup! Sup! ye redheader fule, can you no see another 'skip' would be brought the stone right to the tee." The old gentleman always used to wear a bell topper brushed the wrong way, with a funeral band round it, and a frock coat. He removed the coat when playing, but always stuck to the beaver hat. Poor old fellow, he has gone to the Kirkyard, but whenever any one mentions curling I see his grand old Scottish face and I hear his simple, correct, rigid views of life and how a Scotchman should deport himself and how he should always hold his honor more sacred than his life.

I hope to have many a good curl this winter on Ogden lagoon, and shall try and raise a team if possible, and if there are any old men about should like to form a veteran team, all over 50 but.

PLEA FOR FREE RIDES.

Will not some charitable person or corporation, or why not even the city itself, provide free trolley rides to all children to and from the nearest parks from their home? Could not special cars run at stated hours from each of the congested districts, conveying the children to the parks and bringing them back at stated hours in the evening? Call them the children's cars and only allow child passengers.

I suggested this to Mr. Campbell, and he thought the idea good, but that the difficulty was that there ought to be a grownup with each car to keep order and prevent the children getting into mischief or getting hurt. Now is your chance, some of you gilded youths and maidens who don't have to work. Come along and volunteer once a week or once a month to conduct one of these parties, it will do you a lot of good, and the real innocent gratitude and love of the children will amply repay you. It is the most priceless thing on earth, the love of a child.

AID FOR THE "KIDDIES."

If the millionaires or the city corporation don't find the money I wonder if we could not do it by public subscription under a properly organized committee which could likewise "arrange and if necessary pay authorised guides to captain the children out and home. The benefit to the poorer kiddies would be enormous, and 1 per cent. per head paid by each of the Chicago population would be ample to carry all the kids in the city. It is a good investment and if it meets with approval the writer would be quite willing to start the campaign.

FOOTBALL TICKETS FOR REWARD

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Sept. 22.—The Yale Football Association announces that it will distribute among pupils of the public schools of New Haven 6000 free tickets to six football games to be played here this fall as prizes for scholarships. A thousand tickets will be given to each game. The Wesleyan and Princeton games are not included

AT STANFORD AND CALIFORNIA.

An interclass track meet for the championship of the university is to be held at California, October 19. A large number of men are engaging in fall training.

G. Bevies, '11; M. W. Alderman, '12; E. P. Campbell, '13; G. L. Horine, '13; W. J. Dodge, '13, and J. A. Miller, '13, have been selected by Track Captain Coleman to represent Stanford in the P.A.A. track and field championships to be held on California Oval, October 12. Dodge will engage in the five-mile race and will be the first athlete to represent the Cardinal in that event.

"World and His Wife," presented by Sword and Sandals at Stanford Friday night was one of the best plays ever given on the campus. Miss Gertrude Workman, '12; R. H. Seward, '12, and J. B. Beman, '12, of Los Angeles, did professional work in their parts. Seward is the most finished Thespian that has attended Stanford for many years.

Four 'varsity football men at Stanford are nursing injuries and are temporarily out of the game. Al. Frank, Cass Partridge and Reeves are the athletes who have sustained injuries. Reeves may not be able to get into the game again this season, as he has a bad knee.

A coaching committee has been appointed at California to take charge of the crew training for the fall season. Capt. Davidson, Capt. Maynard, D. Hardy and S. Malatesta are included in the committee. The 'varsity and freshman squads have been called out.

Frost, '15, of Redlands, is one of the most promising forwards in the freshman squad at Stanford. He has worked up from the fourth team to the berth of hooker on the first team. He is rather light, but is very aggressive.

All freshman candidates for crew at Stanford are required to make a record of 650 kilograms or better in the strength tests before they are included in the squad.

The Stanford student body has been granted $225 for the expenses of the soccer team during the season. Jack Macready, '12, of Los Angeles; R. C. Hamilton, '12, of Pasadena, and "Red" Reynolds, '13, of Compton, are included in the lineup of the team.

K. L. Dole, '11, of Riverside, ex-captain of the football team at Stanford, has been elected president of the university conference, the student body organization that has been designated "the buffer between the faculty and students."

U.S.C. PREPS WILL START SEASON TODAY.

The U.S.C. preps will play their first practice game this afternoon at Fiesta Park with the L.A. second team. The preps turned out a crackerjack of an American team last year, and should make good in the new sport.

Robert Davis, who played on the first Los Angeles High School Rugby team has been secured to coach the preps, and as he has had good experience here, and also in the North, should turn out some star Rugby players.

Practically everyone who is trying out for the team is a stranger to the new sport, and it is not expected that the team will make a very good showing at the first of the season. Many practice games will be played, however, and the team is bound to improve as the season advances.

COMPTON, 21; SAN PEDRO, 3.

In the first game of the season for the County League the Compton High School rugby team defeated the fifteen from San Pedro on the Compton field yesterday afternoon by the score of 21 to 3. The winners were too much for the harbor lads at all stages of the game, as the lop-sided score would indicate.

Thieves Beware.

TERROR OF PLAY PIRATES HAS COME INVESTIGATING.

Ligon Johnson, Author of the New Copyright Bill, Will Settle With Some Miscreants Who Have Been Stealing Big Dramatic "Hits" and Producing Them on the Sly—Their Methods Explained.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

LIGON JOHNSON, assistant Attorney-General of the United States, is in town for a few days, and the dramatic thieves up and down the Coast are shouting for the rocks and the hills to cover them.

Yet Mr. Johnson is here strictly in the interest of the Department of Justice, and to further a government inquiry into some oil and mining lands.

But it also happens——

That Mr. Johnson is general counsel of the National Association of Producing Managers.

That he is also the author of the stringent new American copyright law.

Also the Canadian copyright law.

And was recently called to England to assist in the council over a new copyright law there.

Altogether, he is the world's foremost authority on dramatic copyright.

He is a reserved, unostentatious, dark-complexioned gentleman of middle height, with a mustache rather retiring than otherwise, and is the possessor of smiling eyes.

Though the folks in the large cities don't know much about the play-pirate, it is a fact that he is a very flourishing institution. His field is the country at large. The grass is longest in cities about the size of San Jose. Here he is obscure enough, as a rule, to "get away with" pilfering for a week. If he puts the piece under another name, he has a fair chance of not being discovered at all.

But if Signor Blackwood or Monsieur Morosco were to try such a thing, here in Los Angeles, the spies and informers of the play-owners—who secretly exist in every city of this size—would be burning up the New York wires before the lithographers had finished ordering their paper.

Eugene Walter's "Paid in Full," long before it was released to Oliver Morosco for a royalty of $1000 a week, was played in Long Beach under the title, "The Defaulter"—for nothing, as far as the owners were concerned.

"Madame X" has gone up and down the interior valleys of this State under the title, "Who Is She?"

And "The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Thief," since September 1, have been boldly and outrageously pirated in this State under their proper titles, and by parties whose means would supposedly make them responsible.

There is in Chicago a big stenographic firm from whom these little outlaw managers can purchase, for three or four dollars, a script of any play under the sun.

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" is New York's biggest comedy hit, but you could buy "Wallingford" in Chicago, just as George Cohan wrote it, for $2.

This Lake City first-aid-to-thieves concern sends to important new plays a battery of stenographers. They sit in obscure corners of the balcony, or, if they have sharp ears, even up in the gallery. Sometimes they take boxes, and do their work behind curtains. The script is, of course, utterly without "business," but the lines are there, and to make sure that they are there this boss thief has them proof-read by another battery of attendant shorthand lightfingers.

You get a script of a new play for the three, it's yours forever, and no questions are asked.

How infinitely easier, sighs the country manager, yielding to his first temptation, than to wait until the traveling troupe has reaped the two-dollar harvest, the play has grown old—and even then to pay hundreds a week for the privilege of reproducing it?

How does Ligon Johnson get these people?

Taking a map, he can today place his finger on almost every spot on the Pacific Coast where the play-pirates are at work. He has behind him, first a rigorous fanaticism for the enforcement of the law he made himself, and second, the untold millions of the National Association of Producing Managers, who represent not "K. & E." not merely the Shuberts, but all of the American theatrical managers of repute combined, and in addition the rich and powerful play agencies and authors themselves.

Johnson's agents keep him informed in advance of play-piracy all over the country. He does not need to do personal gum-shoeing, nor, on the other hand, does the town band usually meet him at the station to escort him to the tavern.

Johnson's methods are so short, sharp, unostentatious, certain and convincing that they are grim.

He is now after three notorious play-pirates within two or three hundred miles of Los Angeles, but since coming West he has:

Made one thief pay an enormous fine in the Federal Court—a fine so large that it "broke" him completely.

Has sent another fleeing into Canada to escape governmental wrath.

And a third, who pfiatantly defied Johnson, his law, Uncle Sam and all the managers from hades to the morning meal, is out under a criminal bond, and Johnson swears that he will make rope for the State before the episode is finished.

HEBERER BACK FROM SOUTH SEA ISLAND TRIP.

Clarence Heberer, a member of the Jonathan Club and prominent in California yachting circles, returned to Long Beach yesterday from a three months' trip to the South Sea Islands in a barkentine and may remain on shore until the end of the year.

Heberer is a restless globe trotter and usually makes his trips to far off portions of the world on some windjammer, where by reason of his jolly and entertaining way he is always welcome.

Watch Out!

CLOSE OF GREATER CONTEST TO BE ANNOUNCED TOMORROW.

Gong Will Clang for the Start of the Last Lap in the Greatest Contest Ever Conducted by a Newspaper—Revised List of September Prize-Winners Shows But One Change.

OFFICE HOURS.

The Contest Manager will be at his desk each day from 10 a.m. to 12 m., and from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Contestants are requested to have their visits conform to these hours, which the Contest Manager desires to devote to them and their interests.

The out-of-town contestants failed to change the list o. prize winners as announced in Sunday's paper, with one exception; and, while the list was not changed, t ere was a switch in places.

Lewis Black of Monrovia scored 26,160 for the ten days, which places him in fourth position, with a $10 prize, instead of fifth place.

G. W. Beck of La Habra thus falls back to fifth place instead of fourth.

The reading matter in Sunday's Contest story noted the fact that Mrs. Carlin and Mrs. Tout were only separated by about 30,000 points. The Contest Bulletin, however, gave Mrs. Carlin only 187,744, when the correct figures should have been 216,744. This was an error in the types, which sometimes will happen in printing offices despite all precautions to the contrary. Mrs. Carlin's score, however, is not affected by the mistake and is printed correctly this morning.

REVISED LIST OF WINNERS.

First prize, $350; John Scott, Jr., 90,550 points.

Second prize, $20; A. S. Burns, 87,175 points.

Third prize, $15; Mrs. Ella C. Carlin, 30,725 points.

Fourth prize, $10; Lewis P. Black, 26,150 points.

Fifth prize, $7.50; G. W. Beck, 24,200 points.

Sixth prize, $5; Lillian Blood, 10,025 points.

Seventh prize, $2.50; L. O. Lieber, 9350 points.

Eighth prize, $2; Alys Sweet, 8250 points.

Ninth prize, $2; F. M. Edgar, 7750 points.

Mrs. Tout and E. Jack Bussell had a tie of 7500 points each for the tenth prize of $2. Under these conditions the prize will be divided between them.

NOW FOR THE END.

TOMORROW MORNING CONTESTANTS IN THE TIMES GREATER CONTEST WILL LEARN IN THESE COLUMNS JUST HOW LONG THEY HAVE YET TO WORK.

The date of closing will be definitely and finally announced and the anxiety of participants, who have labored thus far in uncertainty as to the duration of this Contest, will be relieved.

As the finish approaches it is well for contestants to again compare their standing with the prize list and see to what prize each will be eligible, according to present positions.

Strive for sufficient points to pass the one ahead of you. In the upper part of the prize list the various awards are from $250 to $1000 apart, so that the advance of one position may mean just that much cash gain upon the part of a contestant.

THE PRIZES.

Special attention is directed once more to the list of general prizes from that of $12,000 cash down to $100 or more of lesser value.

Special attention is also directed to the fact which we have frequently and plainly demonstrated that every prize is listed at its real value and for no more than its real value.

The Times' liberal proposition in the Greater Contest to allow the winners of houses to build their own houses has put a new phase upon newspaper contests. It is another evidence of the validity of the valuations published, and the disposition upon the part of this paper to really give the contestants all that they earn, not in paper value, or in printed value, but in real intrinsic worth.

In the long list of prizes there is a great variety and almost any one qualifying as a winner will be able to make a selection in his or her turn that will be satisfactory; and, with our present list of contestants and our present list of prizes, there will be something for everybody competing.

THE REO LIMOUSINE.

Leon T. Shettler always advertises that a live dealer will sell a live car, and the amount of business that he has been doing in the auto trade seems to bear out his statement.

The Reo limousine offered in this contest at $2200 is one of the most attractive cars of its kind, both in looks and quality, that has been placed upon the Los Angeles market.

It is a thirty-horse-power auto, which is enough to take any one anywhere and bring him back again.

The Reo "thirty" engine is built along the accepted lines of standard motor-car engines with one exception: where most engines are designed with very little regard to weight so long as great power is developed, the Reo engine is designed with particular reference to the saving of weight and the conservation of power. The great power developed by the Reo motor is utilized by extreme exactness and refinement of all working parts, by the right material for every part without regard to cost, and by using the most positive and direct means of transmission, by allowing easy adjustment, by perfect lubrication and protection from dirt.

BALBOA ISLAND LOT.

If you fail to be among the first few leaders there is still a number of magnificent awards awaiting you, down the list. Among the $1000 prizes is one of the finest water-front lots on Balboa Island. This resort, within a trolley ride of the city, is rapidly becoming one of the most exclusive and finest of the near-by home centers.

There is a charm about the island as a location for seaside homes that the mainland cannot quite duplicate. There is a double attraction in Balboa Island. It is in a land-locked bay, smooth water all around, with the added convenience of a mainland within a stone's throw. The shores of the Balboa Island tract are lapped by waves that have no breakers, and water-front homes may open their front doors upon private landing for gondolas, canoes and small craft. It is connected by automobile road over a bridge to the mainland, while the trolley connects with a ferry with boats continuously in service.

THE MITCHELL SIX.

This car is one of the leading prizes offered in this contest. It is equipped with magneto, top, five lights, generator and a complete set of tools.

It is a seven-passenger car and is the very last word in auto-making.

The Mitchell six-cylinder car conforms closely in all of its more fundamental features to the constructions that have proven so successful in their four-cylinder cars.

This seven-passenger touring type has a roomy tonneau with wide, luxuriantly-upholstered back and seat for three passengers and two extra large, high-back, adjustable auxiliary seats.

This is the second year for this car, and shortcomings of its performance have been so rare as to demand practically no changes in this year's production, so in continuing this car as a leader of the Mitchell line for the coming season the company does so with the assurance that it is offering a thoroughly well-developed and reliable machine of a type that has been tested under all sorts of conditions and in the hands of all kinds of users.

In speed, while not a racing car, it has made records on both track and road, and even with an ordinary body and fill load it will go much faster than any one ought to go, and faster than most people care to go.

Because of the great power and the even torque of the six-cylinder motor, a car of this type can be run almost all day without gear changing, even though it be heavily laden and the roads traversed anything but level or smooth. That this simplifies and adds comfort to the task of driving, which even with the best of cars may become a very real labor in an arduous day's run, will be denied by no motorist who has had experience with the even rhythm of the six-cylinder motor, which once adopted is not easily given up for a reversion to the simpler and less expensive four-cylinder, except for lighter loads or easier journeying.

The six-cylinder motor will consume very little more gasoline than the four-cylinder.

CONTESTANTS' BULLETIN.

October 3, 1911.

NOTE: Names of contestants having been in the contest sixty days, and not having scored 2000 or more subscription points, are omitted and only those whose names appear at the finish will be eligible to prizes in the Greater Contest.

BERRY DENIES ANGELS LAID DOWN TO VERNON.

Henry Berry left for Chicago last night, but before mounting the train he dropped a few remarks on McCredie in general.

"It's all right for a guy to say we threw games to Vernon, but you will notice that he said it in Portland where he is guarded by the hod carriers' union. I would like to see any man spring anything like that where any of the Angels would hear him. They would have to pack him on ice. This goes for McCredie and anybody else who has any bees in their bonnet."

BOWLERS TO LAUNCH TOURNEY TONIGHT.

A meeting of the Southern California Bowling Association has been called for this evening at 8 o'clock in the banquet room of Levy's Cafe.

Entrance fee, team dues and initiation fees must be paid tonight. All teams must turn in their complete line-up.

GREAT SPORT AT REDONDO.

For the past ten days yellowtail have been running at Redondo and twenty-one were landed on wharf No. 2 Sunday, the largest of which, a thirty-seven pounder, was hooked by W. V. Moon, Jr., and brought to gaff after a forty minute tussle.

Skipjacks also were numerous and afforded much sport for the large crowd of Sunday anglers. Lobsters are plentiful, and unusually large, many being caught from the wharf in small nets.

Fred Pollock of Sawtelle pulled up a whopper which weighed fully fourteen pounds.

INFORMATION
For Newcomers, Inquirers, Subscribers and Advertisers, Agents and the Public About the

Los Angeles Times

FEATURES.

PUBLISHED REGULARLY more pages of news and other reading matter and a larger volume of advertising than any other paper extant.

SCOPE AND AIMS: Independent, uncompromised, unshackled, unpurchasable, unafraid and unincumbered. THE LOS ANGELES TIMES is devoted to the great principles of Liberty under Law, Equal Rights in all fields of lawful human endeavor, Industrial Freedom, and to the upbuilding of Los Angeles, the State of California and the great Southwest.

AS TO LABOR: The Times champions the principle of "equality of opportunity," with all that it means to Independent labor and the average good citizen. It is the unfaltering friend of all honest toilers—of all unshackled law-abiding workers everywhere; and while never denying the right of workmen to organize lawfully, it is the unyielding foe of lawless, prescriptive, monopolistic and exclusive labor organizations, because they are the selfish enemies of their own class and the common industrial weal. Our position is unmistakable and will be maintained. The long record of The Times as a just, liberal, reliable paymaster is unassailable. During the period between August 6, 1890, and September 30, 1910, there was paid to our loyal and well-satisfied non-union workmen, in salaries and wages, the telling aggregate cash sum of $4,022,122.89—mainly to skilled labor.

CONSERVATION: The Times stands for the conservation of human life and character, with all their tremendous potentialities; for the conservation of home and country; of the Flag and its glorious traditions; of national life and national honor, with their pregnant possibilities; of true, old-time, advanced and enlightened moral conditions; for the conservation of a brave, virtuous, patriotic citizenship, without which no nation can be great and good.

sworn CIRCULATION: Daily net average—seven days, Sundays included—for 1904, 18,801; for 1907, 28,126; for 1908, 26,151; for 1909, 28,721; for 1910, 26,738; for 1911, 28,442; for 1902, 20,830; for 1903, 26,346; for 1904, 27,702; for 1905, 42,120; for 1906, 50,201 copies; for 1907, 82,211 copies; for 1908, 82,780 copies; for 1909, 84,804 copies. THE LOS ANGELES TIMES will hereafter be on file for the use of TIMES readers in the office of the American Express Company, as follows: Berlin: 55 Charlotten Strasse, N. W. Paris: 11 Rue Scribe. London: 6 Haymarket.

The Play.

HAJOS, REASON OF SPRING MAID.

SHE'S ESSENCE OF COMEDY, MELODY AND BEAUTY.

Gorgeous Production at Mason Operahouse Attended by Fashionable Throng—Continuance of "The Bird of Paradise"—Vaudeville News of the City.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

As far as "The Spring Maid" is concerned:

Fascination, Mizzi Hajos.
The comedy, all Mizzi Hajos.
Piquancy, Mizzi.
Spirit and verve, Hajos.
Intoxication of youth, this same small Hungarian.
Beauty, once more, all together, Mezzace.

But the well-written music, it must be confessed, is the author's, and the splendid orchestra's and the really brilliant production—the gorgeous uniforms, the lovely fabrics, the glittering swords—these are the furnishings of our right willing producers, Messrs. Werba and Luescher, two ambitious young gentlemen who are thus shying their castor into the western arena.

"The Spring Maid," originally "Die Sprudelfee," is by one Heinrich Reinhardt, with a libretto by a couple of Germans of no concern to us, Anglicised by the Smith Brothers—not the cough drops. Harry B. has been wretchedly guilty of something he never did before—he has Londonized the stuff to the last degree, and frankly speaking, the comedy is awful.

But where the little Hajos is concerned it is delightful.

This delicious little person, diminutive, blonde, with flaxen hair and big white teeth, prettily plump at this the end of her teens and going-to-be more than prettily plump when she's thirty, is thoroughly elfish, saucy, roguish, natural as a five-year-old unspoiled by grandparents, and withal as Teutonic as a pretzel.

No small portion of the success of the lines of Adapter Smith lies in the fact that Mizzi can't quite pronounce the words. You can understand distinctly everything she says, but some of her paprika twists to our familiar terms are quite adorable. She sings very prettily, save when she tries to make her high tones fortissimo soatenuto, and then she is apt—as would be any little girl—to slip off the key.

The music of "The Spring Maid" has been evidently written by a musician, yet the only airs in the work which bear evidence of real originality and inspiration are the "Day Dreams, Visions of Bliss," constantly recurring as a leading motive, and the quite unheard-of and hilarious musical picture of the rabbit in the wood, in the last act.

There is a big and complete orchestra, directed by Theodore Bendix, of a famous musical family. The author's orchestrations, his full, rich harmonies, his apt and familiar use of every instrument, as well as his polyphonic writing for voices, bespeak that sound music fundamental which our writers, with the exception of Victor Herbert, never seem to have attained. Though his music is not soul-stirring, it is artistically satisfying.

"The Spring Maid" has a plot that coheres. One Princess Bozena, daughter of the aristocratic but impoverished Prince Nepomuk, visits Carlsbad. Here also comes the wealthy young Prince Aladar, vowing that he will woo and win—though there is no intention of wedding—the chief spring maid. But the spring maid is sent into the country for honey, and Princess Bozena, in a caprice, takes her place. Upon this familiar situation is built the romance, and after the discovery of her identity, the princess scorafully refuses his hand—until 11 o'clock, when, of course, she must accept.

George Leon Moore, a good-looking, pleasing chap, with a tenor voice of rather sirtuleous quality very willingly used, plays Prince Aladar with fervor and maintains highest enthusiasm to the end. Mizzi Hajos, reason of spring maid, is the delicious ardor of Bozena Hajos.

Nepomuk is well taken care of by Jack Raffael, a dignified-looking man who does not seem to deserve the first appellation.

Leo Stark is called upon to suffer in the really dreadful comedy role of Roland, an English tragedian, and Ralph Newman suffers with him as Epateling, the highly uncomic town sleuth.

Miss Dorothy Maynard, as Annamiri, the real spring maid, shows decided dancing ability and a brilliant little voice, used when her dancing permits vocal expression.

Louis Miller—another tenor, for which species this author seems to have a predilection—plays Baron Rudi, a cousin of Bozena's.

Everything about this production is of the first order. Uniforms, accoutrements, gowns et chapeaux, represent a superb managerial outlay.

Last night they backed the motors to the curb—both sides of the street—and Broadway for half an hour after the theater was filled with flashing starched bosoms and velvet shoulders, the gatling-shoot of naked exhausts and noxious fog of gasoline too rapidly burned.

—o—

Belasco.

With a large audience, Richard Walton Tully's picturesque play, "The Bird of Paradise," entered upon its fourth week last night at the Belasco playhouse. Popularity and prosperity which seems to be constantly on the increase, lead everyone to believe that "The Bird of Paradise" stands well to equal the success of Mr. Tully's "Rose of the Rancho."

—o—

Empress.

Judging by the applause Noodles Fagan, the monologial once-was-newsboy, made the chief hit of the Empress bill yesterday afternoon; but, as a matter of act, it was not Noodles Fagan, but Noodles Fagan's pair of kids. One, a sweet little child in a box, sang a chorus to one of his songs in a plaintive, wavering, childish treble, whereupon he appeared on the stage waving her off, bearing under his arm a conveniently-tucked, thumb-sucking cherub of about wing and grinning contentedly at the house. Fagan is the only man I ever heard who could really "get away" with fun-poking at his auditors. When an actor undertakes to guy those patiently waiting on him in front, he always invites disgust and usually disaster, but Fagan's quips, really good doggerel rattled off on the spur of the moment, are ridiculous, and are delivered so rollickingly that even the most sedate yesterday found it impossible to acquire soreness. Fagan is improving. For the first time—and I have sat in front of his efforts several times—I found him really enjoyable, in his rough but wholesome way.

Kaufmann's "lady" cyclists, a sextette of feminine beauty that is really beautiful, have one of the best wheel acts extant. And wheel acts, as a whole, have fallen into disrepute. In their combination of white and blue—and a pretty plumpness filling out the blue very nicely—they do a perfect cyclone of tricks.

Phina, a white woman who takes mulatto makeup very naturally, presents three pickaninnies in a noisy bit of dance and song a la the rag idea. "Phina," herself, simply shouts herself hoarse.

Miss Bayone Whipple presents a sentimental sketch, more or less funny and more or less tiresome, called "Harmony Discord."

Elda and Serrano, in feats of strength, seem to prove that they are really what the programme states them: "Sensational European gymnasts and equilibrists."

Joseph Shriner and George Wells offer a variety song-and-dance patter. Pictures, and a micriscopic orchestra.

—o—

Pantages.

The Pantages game this week opens pair—of twins—are the Taylor sisters, who look it. Theirs is a roller-skating act. Their skating is better than many similar acts we have seen, and suffers little in comparison with the best. They do their best stunts with a couple of dozen champagnes—empties. Frank La Dent is more notable for comedy than juggling, though it is difficult to decide when La Dent is attempting serious work and when playing for a laugh. His nine-ball juggling is in the latter class. His bumpetty-bump hats are in both divisions. For the most part his work, when he leaves comedy alone, is quick and accurate. Bertie Fowler tells some good stories—new ones—gives a little girl impersonation which also is new, and a realistic presentation of a gentlemanly jag that will hold up the mirror to many of our personal acquaintances. Bertie Fowler has only one apology to make—her intimate acquaintance with the manners and conversation of the spificated clubman. How Miss Fowler learned so much about the effect of mixed liquids placed in storage under a dress shirt would add an interesting story to her monologue. Torcat and Flor D'Alisa, noted for their fractured language and feathered family, have much the same act as when seen before—which is just another way of saying their offering is good. Their pugilists have been re-named since their last visit, but do just as many rounds of feathered comedy and get just as many rounds of human applause as ever. Torcat's mismanagement of the English language is nearly perfect now. The spook minstrel act has nothing so very weird about it after all. The show is given on a screen by the picture mill and the singing and dancing is done out of sight of the audience by a quintette of first rate voices

Most Varied Assortment and Strongest Values We've Ever Been Able to Offer

All of them, before being shown in our salesroom, were thoroughly cleansed with soap and water—a process which not only insures their cleanliness but proves that the dyes are fast, not "doctored."

Cashmere rugs averaging about 4x6 feet and worth $45 to $65 will be sold at $25.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR CATARRH

The mucous membranes of the nose and throat are exposed to the irritating influence of dust, impure air, etc., and for this reason are the places Catarrh usually first manifests itself. But these are simply exciting causes, the inflammation and discharge being really produced by an impure and vitiated condition of the blood. It is well enough to use some local treatment to cleanse these membranes, but any one can readily see that if the inflammatory matter is left in the blood, such treatment cannot possibly have any permanent effect. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and irritating germs and at the same time builds up the system by its fine tonic effects. When S. S. S. has purified the blood, the mucous surfaces are all nourished and made healthy. There can be no inflammation of the membranes then, because the blood is pure, and every tissue receives nourishment instead of irritating matter. Our book on Catarrh will interest every sufferer of this disease, and it will likewise give proper advice as to what is best to use as a local aid while S. S. S. is purifying the blood. This book is free to all, and we will also be glad to give any special advice you may feel you need. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

Mrs. Edmund B. Drake,

Who has been entertaining as guests Mrs. C. D. Miller and Miss Lyda Miller of Sioux City, Iowa.

Details Are Secret.

A dinner party to be given on the evening of October 13 at the Union League Club by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owen of No. 1655 Rockwood street, is in celebration of their silver wedding. Details fo rthis elaborate affair are being kept a profound secret and not one glimpse will the guests have of the attractive table decorations until ushered into the banquet room.

There are to be over so many interesting people present and the affair promises to be one of the largest and most pretentious of its kind ever given in this city. The dinner will be served from 7 to 11 o'clock and many dainty surprises have been planned by the charming hostess, who is noted for her wonderful dinner parties.

Sister Honored.

Mrs. Lucien N. Brunswig gave a delightful reception in honor of her sister, Miss Wogan, on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Brunswig is one of five lovely sisters, of an old French family from New Orleans, and she presides with an infinite charm over her picturesque chateau on West Adams street, a replica of a famous French estate, surrounded by its old Italian terraced gardens.

These gardens are the great and peculiar pride of Mr. and Mrs. Brunswig, who devote infinite attention to the smallest detail that pertains to them. The guests on Sunday afternoon wandered at will through the charmed precincts, and one realised what perfect affairs Mrs. Brunswig's promised garden parties this season will be.

Country Club Luncheon.

Dr. James A. B. Sherer was the host at an epicurean luncheon on Friday at the Annandale Country Club—and there are plenty of men to testify to Dr. Scherer's knowledge of these matters. The very eye he casts upon the chef when ordering stamps him for the connoisseur. His guests were Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, Dr. Norman Bridge, Gen. M. H. Sherman and Dr. Robert J. Burdette. That luncheon was the coolest affair imaginable and it lasted fully as long as a feminine confab on the Fashion show.

Miss Alice Wernlund sang "I Love You Truly," and the bride's sister, Mrs. J. N. Heaston, played the wedding marches.

The maid of honor was Miss Brook Hitte, sister of the groom. She was attired in old rose crepe de chine with Persian trimmings. Her bouquet was of white carnations. The bride was garbed in a handsome creation of white satin trimmed with Chantilly lace and pearls. Over this fell a long tulle veil caught with bride roses which formed the bouquet. Edwin Schaefle was best man and Master Schuyler carried the ring. The home was a bower of beautiful flowers in honor of the occasion. At the conclusion of a wedding trip through Southern California the young people will go to Lancaster to reside.

MILITARY FUNERAL.

Grand Army Honors to Be Given Departed Soldier by Comrades of Civil War Days.

The funeral services of Maj. Edward Russell will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the undertaking parlors of Robert Sharp & Son, No. 1216 South Flower street. Rev. W. A. Knighten and Rev. H. E. Cooper will officiate and former Gov. J. J. Gosper, a member of Maj. Russell's regiment in the Civil War, will deliver the eulogy.

The request of Maj. Russell before his death that he be buried with military and Grand Army honors will be carried out by his comrades of Bartlett-Logan post No. 6, G.A.R. Post-Commander Thomas J. Shea, assisted by members and ladies of the Bartlett-Logan W.R.C., will conduct the services at the grave.

THERE'S MANY A SLIP.

The final coming of Dr. John Grant Lyman, president that was of the defunct Panama Development Company, to Los Angeles is devious and problematical, in the view of the local inspectors of the postoffice. Lyman is still at Klamath Falls, whence he will be taken to Portland for the action of the United States Commissioner. From there he will go to San Francisco, where his hearing has been indefinitely postponed on account of the injuries to his ankle. From San Francisco he will be brought to Los Angeles—always supposing that he does not succeed in making his escape at any point along the way. "We have no fear that there will be any lack of evidence against him," said Inspector Webster, "nor will he get away if we ever get our hands on him down here."

TIME-EATERS AT CONFERENCE.

A Storm of Protest Against "Diluted Literature."

Object to List of Tabooed Amusements.

Reading of Appointments Is Expected by Noon.

Entertaining things always crop out at the closing sessions of the Methodist Episcopal Conference, for the reason that they generally appear in the report of committees to which they have been referred. It was believed on Saturday that the appointments would be read last night, but the injection of warm debates clogged the wheels of progress, and a session is called to meet this morning at 9 o'clock.

The greatest time-eater yesterday was the debate on the question of church literature that is being disseminated in the Sunday-schools of the denomination. The publications referrred to are the Sunday-school Journal, the Adult Bible Class Monthly, and others, which under the authority of the general conference have been edited by John T. McFarland for the past eight years. A memorial to the general conference was sent to the committee, setting forth that "the heresy of childhood religion, which declares the absolute necessity for spirit birth as a condition of spiritual life," and repugnant to the teachings of Methodism, was being exploited in these publications. It was signed by a dozen or more ministers, but referred in bitter terms to the editor of the said publications, without mentioning them, but in accordance with a rule of the general conference that no minister may be tried for heresy on a resolution, the bishop was compelled to rule it out of order. He said:

"If the officers of our Sunday-school board and our Sunday-school publications are guilty of heresy, there is a way of trying them by bringing charges against them, but you have no right to condemn any Methodist Episcopal minister for heresy, by resolution, on the floor of the conference."

The resolution was finally pared down to meet the emergency, and then adopted as a memorial to the general conference, asking an investigation. The first minister to take up the debate in favor of the resolution was Alexander Hardie, who, with his strong and unique expression, raised a storm of protest, as well as a storm of laughter. Among other things he said:

DILUTED LITERATURE.

"We have a lot of diluted stuff in our church literature. I heard talk about diluting our conference with laymen; never mind about that, while we've got this diluted literature."

Dr. A. W. Adkinson and Dr. F. M. Larkin were the leaders of those who attempted to stem the tide of condemnation, the former declaring that he thought there was no such literature being circulated, and the latter that there was no general unrest on the subject.

Chaplain G. W. Wilson of the Soldiers' Home made a strong speech for the resolution, in part as follows:

"I am surprised to hear it said that there is no such literature, when the publishers say there is, and that they propose to change the doctrines of the Methodist Church through the children. This literature is being run in a regular series through all our Sunday-schools, and not to know it is simply not to know what is being disseminated through our church.

"I challenge any man to give me one sentence from any of these books, that refers to the divinity of Christ, or to the doctrines of the Methodist Episcopal Church, or that will receive the indorsement of any orthodox church. The doctrine of this literature is false and unorthodox."

Dr. Harcourt W. Peck, pointing to the seat from which he had just risen, said:

"It lies right there in—I will not say what journal, nor the month."

This raised a laugh, and Bishop Hughes interposed:

"He dare not say the month of September!"

"It has been placed in my hands, and I, as a man, do not propose to have it forced down the throats of my children. The attempt is being made but I will not permit it to be done. I don't believe the literature of our church should be used to exploit theoretical doctrines."

In referring to his experience of six years ago, in his fight against the higher critics, in which Dr. Hardy was one of his colleagues, Dr. Peck mentioned something about an attempt to gag him, and Bishop Hughes felt a little hurt, for he has been eminently fair and impartial, and Dr. Peck quickly disavowed any intention of applying the term to the case under discussion.

Messrs. Knighten, Green, Barnhart, Thomson and others took part in the debate, but the resolution was finally adopted.

A GALLERY PLAYER.

One Rev. L. T. Guild, the same of whom is was once reported that he would be grilled for presiding at Bryan political meetings, in making his report on public morals, made a great gallery play, on the matter of railway passes, when he himself travels on a "half-pass." He condemned the pass in flamboyant terms, and in denouncing the railroads that give him the privilege of traveling on half-fare, he also loudly proclaimed against "the corporation-owned and corrupt public press."

A half-dozen ministers moved to strike that portion of the report out, as well as other sections to which they objected, and on motion of Dr. J. L. Pitner, the report was recommitted to him to be made more presentable

There was another warm debate on the amusement question, the effort being to memorialize the General Conference to change Rule 260, by cutting out the categorial list of condemned amusements and apply a general principle. The debate brought out much spicy talk. Dr. Pitner, in his talk on the question, said, among other things:

"I call upon any pastor to enforce that rule literally, and in twelve months he will be without a congregation. Let us do the manly thing and the broad thing; the thing that says you cannot go any place that you cannot take the Lord Jesus with you. When you say, 'you can't go to the circus, the dance or play cards,' you cover nothing but the circus, the dance and the cards. I am unalterably opposed to all these things, but thank God, I am opposed to a multitude of sins and crimes that are not listed in the category."

It was finally agreed to ask that the rule be made to read in accordance with the original idea of John Wesley on the subject, which was in general terms.

Other changes to be asked for are the elimination entirely from the rolls of the church, as a basis for assessment, all members under 15 years of age; to change the word "probationer" to "preparatory member," because the former term has been adopted by the courts to describe a certain class of criminals; to change the term, "supernumeraries" to "pastors on leave."

A resolution was adopted asking that an Episcopal residence be established at Los Angeles, and a resolution calling for the admission of lay-delegates to the annual conference was voted down almost unanimously.

Andrew J. Park, president-elect of the Lay Association, was introduced to the conference to present the greetings of that body to the ministers, and he performed that duty immediately after the rejection of the resolution in which they asked for recognition as members of the conference.

A session of the conference was held last night to hear the report of the committee on education, and some others, and a business session was called by the bishop for 9 o'clock this morning. It is hoped that the business may be cleaned up by noon, but there are those who think it cannot be. The last act of the bishop will be to read the appointments.

Antidote.

YELLOW FLAG CHECKMATED.

ADOPT CAMPAIGN EMBLEM TO FIGHT AGAINST SUFFRAGE.

Former Denver Woman Who Claims She Ought to Know Asserts That Colorado Leaders Are Politicians Only and Beneficiaries for Themselves, Relatives and Friends.

The anti-suffrage women held a stirring meeting at their headquarters in the Exchange building yesterday. They adopted a campaign emblem. Mrs. Cameron Thom explained that they needed one as a sort of anti-toxin against the yellow of the suffragists since yellow stands for the small-pox flag, and is the sign of the pest house.

The women therefore adopted the best thing in the world, which is the United States flag, and tens of thousands of small flags not more than an inch wide, and two inches long, will be rushed through the presses for the last of the campaign days.

Mrs. Rosemonde Wright, now of Los Angeles, but formerly a Denver woman, gave a speech in which she presented the dark side of suffrage as she has seen it in the suffrage States, and in which she offered many reasons why California should not hurl itself into the same maelstrom of political mistakes and misfortunes.

FACTS ARE KNOWN.

"It is not necessary," he said, "to theorize about suffrage any longer. All one needs to do is to turn to the experience of the States which have tried suffrage for so many years. In Wyoming and Utah, one never hears the subject mentioned. The woman's vote is of no importance, nobody cares about it, counts upon it or pays any attention to it. No one claims it has improved the condition of women as wage earners, raised the standard of morality politically or otherwise. Utah sends a polygamous Mormon to the United States, Senate, and throughout the State openly, and in Salt Lake City surreptitiously polygamy is practiced today.

"What about Colorado? The only women in Colorado who have been benefited by suffrage are a handful of women politicians of Denver, some of whom have been in California recently and some of whom are still here, working for hire in the suffrage campaign. These women politicians have secured fat jobs, not only for themselves, but for their male and female relatives through politics. Of course, they are in favor of suffrage, but the average woman works just as hard, lives no better, dresses no better, has no more spending money, gets no better wages than before the dawn of suffrage.

THEY RESPECT WOMEN.

"The men, who are opposed to suffrage, are not at all against women. They do not disparage them, and do not regard them as inferiors. They regard them as being the equal of men, but different. They honestly think that on the whole, women would be better off without the ballot and they believe that the vast majority, if not egged on by the political women who have made it pay in prominence or place, would readily consent, with entire indifference, to the repeal of the suffrage law in Colorado.

"The citizens of Denver and Colorado will not soon forget the venemous campaign of last year, when the character of the women candidates for State Superintendent of Public Instruction was so grossly assailed. When the organized women of the city and State, women who shine so illustriously in the forums of idealism and progressive reforms, besmirched their names with tactics of the most degenerate nature."

Tag Get Acquainted Society, No. 717¼ East Ninth street, will hear the arguments of the anti-suffragists tonight when they will be addressed by Mrs. Dora Oliphant Coe.

Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the anti-women will storm the citadel of the Soldiers' Home. A number of speakers will go down and tell the veterans why the vast majority of the women of California do not want to vote. They have also arranged a delightful musical programme for the entertainment of their audience. Four good speakers will address the meeting.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN AND MEN

BY OLIVE GRAY

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: In summing up the woman of today, an article in a current magazine puts it thus: "She is the product of the cold bath, physical culture, outdoor sleeping, sane eating, careful mental training, commercial or professional experience and high domestic ideals. The helpless woman has passed and in her place is one who has a perfect physique, including a good digestion and strong lungs, a brain that works, feet large enough to walk and run on, and hands skilled in many ways, from the running of a typewriter, or the handling of a golf stick to the making of a pudding." The "doll," at one time considered "lady," has come out of her wrappings and she will never go back to them. All hail the modern girl and woman, whose beauty is essentially that of health, vigor and vital activity!

Whatever we may say or think about health fads, "isms or osophies," we can but rejoice that the one-time belief that it was "ladylike" to seem delicate and shadowy, to faint at the mention of a mouse and to be unable to engage in any "violent" exercise, and to mince over some trifle of a sweet and call it a meal, in short that the ethereal lady of the old-fashioned novel is as much a creature of the past as is the Megatherium or the Ichthyosaurus.

In her place has come the wholesome, well balanced, progressive girl who can walk miles without fatigue and who can eat whatever foods her brother eats and engage in whatever athletic sports are his.

Moreover she has a broad and liberal notion of what is "fair play." She expects to do her share all around, in play and in work and there are to be no "sedan chairs" for her in which to be carried over the streams that are to be crossed. She asks no alms, and she will not refuse rational assistance which she knows that she can repay in kind. She is a glorious, strong-bodied, whole-souled, keen-brained being—the natural product of the progressive age in which she thrives.

High Life.

In a window of one of the Broadway clothing houses there is a display of fine hats for men. They are beautiful hats and a card says right out in bold type that they are worth the price and unabashed, it tells the price. Then there are other hats—one for sister, at the same price as father's hat, and one for mother at twice that price; and while there are more articles upon either of the feminine hats than upon father's, I really like his best. In gentle irony, a small card, beside a bottle which bears a brand—something or other about "high life" I understand it means—says that sister's and mother's hat will be "new" only for the space of one matinee, or for a single pink tea, while father's hat will be new for perhaps two generations and may then be "handed down;" or at least you may infer all this about father's millinery. Men are running that store, you see—fine men, by the way—so of course we may expect just a trifle of "poetic license" when it comes to comparing men's and women's hats.

And Yet.

And yet when it comes to hats for little people, both girls and boys, I shall be obliged to confess that they know how to buy and what is best. I saw there the most adorable little "tiles" for small boys and girls. They are in the high-crowned, Dutch shape, and are made from fine velours in seal brown, and on one side there is such a saucy little "stick up" of speckled feathers. Really, do you know, I would almost be willing to buy one of these, just to look at, as you would a picture—they seem somehow to so embody childish animation.

Then there are charming little rough or "scratch" felts, in grays and stone colors and in browns—just "littlings" the same as father's or big brother's hats—delicious, they are, too.

And the overcoats, in rough goods, are so very swagger—with big pockets and convertible collars and the cuffs to fasten up tight to keep the wind from whistling up the sleeve, when motoring—these are perfect replicas of those for the big men. I think it clever, the fad for dressing children thus, for it harks back to the happiness that all children feel in dressing up "like grown folks."

Also there are true sailor suits, actually made in England and sent over here. These are so true to life that you can fancy as you look at them that you hear the "Yo, he!" of the sailor and see the "Pinafore" hitch which goes with the hornpipe, as modernly danced.

One could spend a week among those adorable garments for little ones and still have enthusiasm for the last garment seen.

Some of the suits for small boys—very small ones—have silk collars, hand embroidered—in addition to the regulation ones of serge like the suit; but of course larger boys would scorn anything so feminine-looking as that.

A Fad for Men.

What I really went into that store to look for—and nearly forgot to look for or to tell you about, as I saw so much that was interesting—was something new for evening use for men. It is a set consisting of fob, matchcase, cigarette case and cigar case all made very flat for use with evening clothes. They are made from black moire, and each has a monogram in gold, from the metal cut to form the letters. This makes a striking and ornamental article and one whose compactness will make it a great convenience.

Must We Have Legislation?

Every day my attention is called more pointedly to the dangers of long hat pins.

I heard a man in a street car telling of a narrow escape from having his eye penetrated by the point of a hat pin, in an elevator, and I myself sat behind a girl and dodged a long sharp pin all the way downtown, longing to tell her of her "short" coming yet not having the courage. Must we have legislation before this evil is remedied? Let us either throw them away or cork the ends of the murderous instruments, and do so before we are compelled to by legislative measures.

Beautiful Back Yards.

In a recent issue of a magazine devoted to suburban life, there is an article upon the subject of back yards, which is startling in its pictured revelations of the possibility of transforming the ordinary back yard, even in the city. With all the unsightly fences down, and trees, shrubs and flowers intelligently planted, a block of back yards becomes as beautiful as any park. So simple is this that it may be accomplished anywhere, if people will only work together.

Oyster Fricasee.

Now that the oyster season is here, try this recipe for after theater, some cool evening. Put into a strainer placed over a bowl, one cup of oysters, and pour over them one and one-half tablespoonfuls of cold water. Reserve the liquor; heat gradually to the boiling point and strain through a double thickness of cheese cloth. Add the oysters to the liquor and cook until plumb. Then remove with a spoon. Add enough thick cream to the liquor to make two-thirds of a cup. Melt one tablespoon of butter, add one tablespoonful of flour and stir until well blended, then pour on gradually while stirring constantly, the liquor. Add the oysters, season with salt and pepper, add one egg slightly beaten and serve on toasted squares, sprinkling all with finely minced parsley, or serve with celery hearts upon the side.

To Clean Irish Crochet.

The Good Housekeeper has a novel way of cleaning articles of Irish crochet. She puts them in a fruit jar filled with gasoline and after placing the top tightly, she shakes the jar for a few minutes. Allow to stand for a few moments and then shake again. If the article is much soiled, this process may need repeating several times. When it looks clean, take from the fluid, hang out to dry and it will look as good as new.

Fashion Remarks.

Ostrich plumes, paradise, osprey, aigrettes and numerous fancy feather mounts are shown on the latest hat models, in all the latest colors and often combining two or more colors.

An ingenious milliner has evolved some beautiful tassels from discarded willow plumes, and attached to a heavy silk cord, they are the sole trimming of a new high-pointed crown black velour hat.

Big wings of eyelet embroidery are among the season's millinery plumage. They are as fetching on velvet and fabric hats as are the big embroidered collars on fur coats—a fashion soon to be seen.

The most important accessory to new gowns noted recently are sleeves puffed and frilled at the elbow in such a manner that the wearing of ordinary coat sleeves over them would be quite impossible.

White broadcloth, partly covered with one of the heavy laces—Venise, macrame, crochet, yak, etc., and trimmed with ostrich, will be ranked as the dress hat, rivaling those of black velvet and feathers.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

After the long summer vacation, suddenly with the opening of October all clubdom leaps into active life again and you are fairly overwhelmed with the rush of club meetings, club receptions, club breakfasts, club teas and club classes calling insistently for your attention.

Your engagement book, long lain idle, is now bristling with conflicting dates and the difficulty of being in two or three places at one and the same time confronts you. Your desk is littered with cards of invitation here, there and everywhere, and really it requires no little ingenuity to manage it all.

The Woman's City Club, which has held undisputed sway on Mondays almost ever since it was organized, must now divide favors with the Ebell Club. True, the sessions are not simultaneous as to the hour and one can lunch at the Westminster, listen to the address of the speaker afterward, and then hasten at once to Ebell and be in time to enjoy its always interesting programme. If you do this, however, you must "step lively" as the New York street car conductors say, and it makes altogether a busy Monday.

But then, one always feels particularly brisk on Monday, after a Sabbath day's rest—a thing, however, which the strenuous suffragettes do not allow themselves these days—but this will all be over by next week, when the vital question of suffrage will be settled one way or the other and then we may hope for fresher topics to discuss and other things to think of.

Tuesday too—for this week at least—will be a busy day in clubdom. There's the opening date of the Highland Park Ebell, ending with the annual club breakfast at 12 o'clock, and then if you are spry, you can catch that first fall meeting of the Eschscholtzia Chapter of the D.A.R. at Ebell Clubhouse, which promises to be especially attractive, opening with a reception in honor of the State Regent, Mrs. W. W. Stilson, and the delegates to the twentieth Continental Congress, which met in Washington last April. There is to be an address by Judge William J. Hynes and another by the State Regent herself and Miss Ruth Kilton will sing. Other guests of honor will be Mrs. A. T. Parmley, regent of Gaviota Chapter, Long Beach, and Mrs. R. C. Shearman. The programme is in charge of Mrs. Harrison Purdon and Mrs. William H. Fuller will be the hostess of the afternoon. Altogether, it promises to be a brilliant occasion.

Your engagement book for Wednesday is really confusing in its notes. There's the opening meetings of two important clubs at the very same hour. Fate seems rather unkind in placing all these attractive meetings on the same afternoon.

Thursday afternoon the Matinee Musical Club will have its first programme of the year and on Friday the Friday Morning Club holds its opening session.

Sandwiched in between all of these club doings are the numerous Parent-Teacher circles, Y.W.C.A. and W.C.T.U. meetings and the section studies of the various clubs, so that, altogether, there is little danger of succumbing to ennui.

Methodist Women Meet.

The women of Methodism have been quite as busy as their husbands and fathers during these days of the annual session of conference. Yesterday morning the wives of ministers held a meeting all to themselves and decided to take steps toward the ultimate endowment of a room in the proposed new building of the Methodist Hospital. They proposed to raise this year $1000 toward that purpose and, as there are more than 200 ministers' wives in the bounds of the Southern California conference, it was suggested that if each would hold herself responsible for $5, the total would reach the desired amount. This room is to be for the special benefit of the wives of ministers and it is hoped to eventually raise $5000 to endow a room permanently.

Mrs. F. M. Larkin, wife of the superintendent of Los Angeles district, presided over the meeting.

One of the especially delightful functions of the conference sessions was the reception given to the wives of ministers at the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Monnette at No. 911 Western avenue. More than 150 guests were in attendance. Miss Beulah Wright of U.S.C. gave several recitations, Miss Whitesell sang, Miss Mary Brodbeck whistled and Miss Chase played the piano for the entertainment of the company. Among the guests from the North were Mrs. Guth, wife of the president of the University of the Pacific, and Mrs. Briggs, wife of Rev. Arthur Briggs, who was before her marriage the wealthy Miss Iliff, step-daughter of Bishop Warren.

The Monnettes, who so graciously opened their beautiful home for this entertainment, are recent comers here and have already identified themselves prominently with the First Methodist Church.

Why Colorado Suffrage Failed.

Mrs. Andrew Stewart Lobingier, president of the Women's City Club, has returned to town from a long holiday at the seashore. She was present at the club yesterday, but not in her official capacity. She came rather as a speaker—with a message to deliver to the members—at least that is what the newspaper notices sent out from headquarters said.

Her message took the form of a recounting of her experience as a voter in Colorado, where she cast her first ballot seventeen years ago. She undertook to explain why there is political corruption in Colorado—which fact she frankly admitted. She said that it was not woman suffrage that failed, but rather the method of government. The important victory for suffrage, she claims, is wrapped up in direct legislation. "We need the direct primary to make woman suffrage a success," she declared, "and the recent victory in San Francisco is most favorable to our cause. In Colorado they built a house on the ground and now they are trying to put the foundation under."

Mrs. Lobingier is firmly of the opinion that California will never be the same after this campaign. She says the time has passed when it is enough for women to be simply very, very good—they must be smart, and keen and active and up-to-date, as well—which spells suffrage—according to her ideas.

Mrs. Mila Tupper Maynard spoke previously to Mrs. Lobingier and put forward arguments in favor of a socialistic government, citing Milwaukee as a bright and shining light where this application of what she calls the science of civics has been made.

Ebell Club Meets.

The club year of Ebell was ushered in yesterday afternoon when a crowd of club members assembled to listen to the annual address of the president, Mrs. E. C. Bellows, and enjoy the French nursery songs by Miss Ruth ing costume in harmony with her songs.

Mills College Alumnae.

Miss Brooks, for eight years instructor of art history at Mills College, spoke yesterday before the alumnae association of that institution at its first meeting of the year. This organization will make the Y.W.C.A. its headquarters for the coming three months at least, while it is laying plans for its own club home. Miss Brooks, who is now a resident of our own city, spoke on Italian art yesterday and will give a series of informal talks before the club.

EXPOUNDS CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Lecturer from Mother Church Sets Out Arguments Favoring the Faith Declared by Mrs. Eddy.

That Christian Science is constantly coming to be more broadly recognized as a true science is the opinion of Francis J. Fluno, C.S.D., member of the board of lectureship of the mother church in Boston, who lectured Sunday to a large audience at Simpson Auditorium.

The speaker denied that the followers of Mrs. Eddy's doctrines personally worshipped her. Mrs. Eddy, he said, did not create or invent a religion. She merely discovered certain principles of life which have always existed.

Christian Science, according to the lecturer, teaches that there is in reality no such thing as sickness or disease and that there is no reality in sin. He said that God, who made everything, is good and therefore could not have been the creator of sin. All men, he believes, will some day know for themselves that matter does not exist, and then they will know that it never did exist. Since there is to come a time when there will be no death, then there is no death today. Since in God's presence there is no death, then there is no death anywhere, for God is everywhere, always.

Another claim made by the speaker for the textbook of Christian Science, was that it is the most highly-scientific of any book ever written. No other book, he said, ever stated truth so clearly or taught science so purely and no book teaches so fully the divinity of the Nazarene.

PRIEST'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Swimming too far out beyond the Long Beach breakers Sunday, Rev. Father O'Flannigan, special envoy of the Irish Gaelic League, found himself unable to return against the outgoing tide and was obliged to call for help. Though a strong swimmer, the priest was almost exhausted when Lifeguard Molliter reached him and both men required the help of the lifeline in the hands of Lifeguard Scott to reach the shore again. Once in quieter water, however, the churchman returned to his aquatics

WHIRLWIND END, SUFFRAGE FIGHT.

VOTES FOR WOMEN ADVOCATES PLAN ACTIVE WEEK.

Flood of Suffrage Literature Engulfs Auditors at Blanchard Hall. Men and Women Speakers Will Address Open-Air and Indoor Meetings in Many Places.

With a mass meeting taxing the seating capacity of Blanchard Hall, the Votes for Women Club last night plunged headlong into the last week of their campaign. Literally they have one week from today, but next Tuesday all theories will end and figuring will begin.

Mrs. Z. M. Anderson, Frank Tyrell, Congressman Stephens and Rabbi Meyers were the speakers last night and they promised their hearers a victory at the polls. Those who attended were fairly inundated beneath the flood of suffrage literature which the women distributed. Their further programme for the week consists of noon meetings to be addressed by Mark Keppel, Mrs. E. K. Foster, Mrs. Mary E. Kenney, Mrs. W. A. Spalding, Force Parker and Miss Mary E. P. Foy.

The Political Equality League has planned numerous meetings for every day this week. One of the largest will be a public meeting in the old Plaza tonight at 8 o'clock, which will be addressed by Henry C. Dillon, E. B. Chavez and Miss Marie Lopez. The latter will speak in Spanish. Music will be provided by a fife and drum corps.

Another big meeting will be held at Covina at 7:30 o'clock tonight with Mrs. Nann Woods as the speaker and Mrs. Elizabeth Elston in the chair.

Mrs. Eliza Tupper Wilkes will conduct a street meeting from an automobile at Pasadena tonight. In the machine with her will be half a dozen of the city's best women speakers.

Woman suffrage will break out in Watts this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock before the Parent-Teachers' Association, which will meet in the Watts schoolhouse. It was rumored last night that the anti-suffragists will protest against holding a political meeting at this place.

Perhaps the most unique meeting of the week is one which the California Political Equality League has planned to hold Thursday night in a moving picture theater at Forty-fifth street and Moneta avenue, when between the comedy and logic of Rabbi Meyers and the earnest forcefulness of Mrs. Laura G. Cannon, a number of woman suffrage slides will be thrown on the canvas.

The South Pasadena people are going to chance a protest against a meeting Thursday night by holding it on the grounds of the Central school at 8 o'clock. The Hare sisters will sing and among the speakers will be Senator Gates, Reynold E. Bright, Louis Works and Mrs. Leo Longley.

The league has prepared big programmes for next Saturday afternoon at Choral Hall and Saturday night at the chapel of the University of Southern California.

Another Saturday night meeting is to be held at Blanchard Hall, when six women who have won silver medals will compete for a gold medal.

A suffrage meeting was held by the young people in the First Methodist Church at Sixth and Hill streets last night, but it was not all one way, as three ardent advocates of each side spoke from their separate view-points.

FOR THE SUFFRAGETTES.

Specially Worded Marriage Service Is Composed for Women Voters and Who Want to Vote.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Members of the Boston suffragette organization have declared in favor of a new marriage service, as drawn up by Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, leading exponent of votes for women in this city. The service is as follows:

"I take thee to be my wedded husband, to have and to hold, etc., in sickness and in health, to love, honor and cherish, till death us do part.

"I promise to aid and assist my husband (or wife) in every way and to help him (or her) to uphold his (or her) political views and I agree to settle all marital difficulties out of court."

POSTAL STATISTICS.

Enormously Rapid Increase in City's Growth Reflected in Bounding Receipts of the Postoffice.

The postal receipts for September, as compiled by Postmaster Harrison, show an increase of 12.30 per cent. over the corresponding month of last year. The figures for September, 1911, are $127,861.64; for September, 1910, $113,352.10, an increase of $14,509.54; 530,067 pieces of mail reached the local office during the past month that were misdirected or not addressed to street and number. In 66,882 cases correct addresses were found and forwarded to points outside of the city; forwarded and delivered by city letter carriers, 120,006; pieces sent to the general delivery to await call, 343,160; searched through the directories daily, 17,669; daily number of callers for the month, exclusive of Sunday, 161,371; daily average, 6456; changes of address, 24,243; daily average, 808.

The report of the receipts of the Los Angeles postoffice for the last two decades indicates an increase of about 1600 per cent. since 1890, an increase of about 75 per cent. each year. The receipts for 1911 are estimated at $1,600,000, while in 1890 they were about $100,000, and in 1900 only $259,000. The average increase in postal receipts all over the country is not to exceed 9 per cent.

It is estimated that the close of the year will show a total sale of 40,000,000 2-cent stamps, 25,000,000 1-cent stamps, 6,000,000 stamped envelopes, and 5,000,000 postal cards during 1911. Over 3000 tons of unstamped mail matter, such as newspapers, is shipped annually out of Los Angeles through the postoffice.

DESERTION ALLEGED.

Joshua C. Robillard, who was extradited from Oregon on the charge of failing to provide for his wife and three children, living at No. 2004 Miranda street, secured a postponement of his case by Justice Forbes yesterday, and in the meantime Robillard has been sent to jail. Robillard left his family on June 3, it is alleged, going to work as a thresher near Albany, Or., and while he was away his wife gave birth to another child. He has agreed to give his family $10 a week.

SILVER FLOW FOR ORANGES.

Millions of Gallons in This New Reservoir.

Ranchmen Tap Subterranean Lake Near Covina.

Abundance of Water for a Principality.

Three miles southwest of the mouth of the San Gabriel Canyon, over a subterranean lake that is fed through the gravel from the seepage of the river, the Covina Irrigating Company has installed a monster water-lifting plant, and on the starting of the engines Saturday morning 1,000,000 gallons of water poured into the new reservoir in a period of a little over seven hours. With the possible exception of one other, the Covina plant is the largest in Southern California, and will supply 1500 acres of full-bearing oranges with irrigating water twelve times each year.

John H. Coolman, chairman Mills Committee.

Immense Reservoir and Pumping Plant

The cost of the plant and pipe-line is $125,000; capacity of reservoir at plant, 1,500,000 gallons; capacity of storage reservoir, 10,000,000 gallons; length of pipe-line, four miles; lifting power of double-engine battery, 600 horse-power; steady flow of water, 300 California miner's inches.

This plant belongs to tillers of the soil, men who are banded together to irrigate their own lands, amounting to 3000 acres in all, and the huge water-raising apparatus merely augments the flow of gravity water from the canyon that makes possible one of the great assets of Southern California, a principality engaged in raising citrus fruits.

The roar of a stream of water six feet wide falling over the weir into the concrete reservoir, was the first indication that the experts of the company were shrewd guessers, and that the hole they had bored for a depth of 400 feet had tapped the lake that lies in the gravel strata.

NEVER A DROUGHT.

There is something almost epic in this achievement of simple ranchmen, and it speaks more truly of the faith of the farmer in the San Gabriel valley than tons of finely-worded boosting literature. Since the first trickle of water was diverted into canals at the mouth of the San Gabriel, in the days when the valley was a parched plain, the Covina Irrigating Company has been gradually going into the ground here and there, until this plant is veritably the king of wands in the channels of water wizardry. It means that a great valley is insured forever against any possible drought, and that the farmers themselves own the life-blood of the citrus industry, without which the plains would be covered with yellowing grass and dotted by a few grazing cattle.

The water-lifting scheme comprises a pumping plant at what is known as the Orange avenue property, a reservoir and a pipe line leading from this reservoir due east along the San Bernardino road for four miles to the company's main reservoir of 10,000,000 gallons capacity. The water is raised from a well casing 36 inches in diameter, going to a depth of 400 feet, with the water standing at 80 feet from the surface. In this double steel casing is operating a turbine centrifugal pump, of the deepwell make. This pump is operated by a 300-horsepower engine. Four oil burners are installed. The engine lifts the water from the underground supply, and another engine of the same make and size draws this water from the reservoir at the plant, through the long pipe line to the storage reservoir four miles away.

The raise of the water from the plant to the storage reservoir is 250 feet for the entire distance of 21,000 feet, the sharpest raise being the last mile, which has a pitch equal to 85 feet. The pipe line is made of a graded steel, the first 3000 feet being an eighth of an inch thick in order to withstand the pressure. The pipe is 28 inches in diameter, and the boosting engine has a capacity, to send 800 inches of water through this line. The machinery installed cost $40,000, and the reservoir $6000. The reservoir is 242 feet long, 90 feet wide and 10 feet deep.

MAKES WATER CHEAP.

G. G. Swartz, who was also the engineer who installed the big pump for the Irwindale No. 1 plant a few months ago, stated yesterday that the pump installed for the Covina Irrigating Company had proven in its test a capacity to pump 360 inches. According to Superintendent J. R. Elliott of the irrigating company this machinery will furnish water to the groves at a trifle less than one cent per inch for a flow of twelve consecutive hours, which is cheaper pump water than is produced almost anywhere in the State.

Superintendent Elliott has been the supervisor of this work since its start, belonging to the wells committee, of which John H. Coolman is chairman. The other members are Anton Kerckhoff and John O. Houser. These men have made this giant project a possibility.

The plant as it now stands, is considered as the first unit of a project just twice as large. Pumping as it does now over 300 inches of water, it is the plan of the company to install within the next two years a second unit. This second unit will mean the sinking of a second well of the same size, a hundred feet south of the present one. This well, with the introduction of another steam engine, will make the capacity of the plant over 600 California miner's inches. This second unit will cost considerably less than $50,000, as about three-fourths of the cost of the combined units is already incorporated in the plant as it now stands. When this is done it will be the largest pumping plant in this part of the State.

DECISION AFFIRMED.

The District Court yesterday affirmed the decision of the Superior Court of San Luis Obispo county in the action brought by Gaspar O. Marre, against the Union Oil Company. The latter had brought an action to enjoin the defendants from laying a pipe line to carry water across a strip of land. On a final hearing the court vacated the temporary restraining order and this opinion was appealed from. It was shown the oil company, by virtue of a grant made to the Southern Pacific had a right to construct a pipe line for the conveying of oil across the land of the plaintiff, but it was urged that such an arrangement did not allow them to pipe water across the property.

MUSIC AND STAGE.

which materialize in colonial costumes when the time comes for the curtain calls. The act is a novelty. As one watches the interlocutor and the leader on the picture and hears the voices, dancing and orchestra in exact unison, the illusion is almost complete. The song programme is of the popular type, and decidedly well rendered. Georgia DuBois will probably be voted the week's favorite. This pretty girl is a violinist of more than ordinary ability. She combines graceful stage presence, sympathetic temperament, and well-developed technic. Her success at Pantages is not merely a vaudeville triumph. It was her music, as well as her personality, that accounted for the numerous curtain calls. Her selections included Brahms's First Hungarian Dance, Hubay's "Zephyr," with Nevin's "Rosary" and "My Old Kentucky Home" for first and second encores. Miss DuBois appears with piano accompaniment, only.

Following the orders of their union bosses, the Pantages orchestra walked out, and their places yesterday were occupied with a new set of players, under the direction of Prof. Valentine.

LICK 'EM AND STICK 'EM.

Episcopal Church Evolves Novel Scheme for Giving Household Convenience to Help Buy an Organ.

The booster-folk of St. Athanasius Episcopal Church have originated a novel plan for raising money to secure a new church organ. They have conceived the idea of selling ready-adhesive labels for jelly and jam glasses. All the busy housewife has to do is to "lick 'em and stick 'em," and the glasses of preserves are tightly sealed and plainly marked. They propose to sell an assorted package of 250 labels for 15 cents. It is suggested that even Little Willie will find them a convenience, when he goes snooping around in the semi-darkness of the cellar in search of his favorite condiment. They will be offered in many stores, in order to assist the enterprising church people in their novel scheme.

Still They Come.

The closing rush of colonists on the cheap one-way rates that went into effect for thirty days beginning September 15 is now on. The first fifteen days of the movement showed 20,303 colonists on the Southern Pacific alone to the Pacific Coast. The other lines will nearly double this number. The biggest rush of the movement is felt the last few days that the rates are in effect.

Jack the Giant-Killer.

AMID RAIN OF BULLETS LITTLE COP JAILS FOUR.

WITH bullets whizzing in a leaden hail about his head, and cutting his new uniform coat, Patrolman George Berkline, a diminutive member of the Venice police, cowed four husky and belligerent Mexicans and jammed them incontinently into the beach bastile at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, after a battle against odds, which will go down into strand history.

Berkline is five feet seven inches in height and does not weigh above 140 pounds. Each individual one of his opponents is larger than he and their cumulative effect enough to dismay a more ponderous servant of the law than the little policeman.

The four, who are ranch hands, engaged in a loud and terrifying altercation on Sunset avenue, shortly after midnight. So vociferous did they become that the trouble attracted the attention of persons passing on the street car, who notified the police by telephone. Berkline, the only man in the station, was detailed by Night Sergt. Lingo, to bring in the roisterers. protesting, to the station house, three-quarters of a mile away. When it became evident that he would presently have the entire bunch safely behind the bars, the Mexicans became desperate. One of them broke away from Berkline's restraining hand, jerked a revolver from his hip and opened fire at a distance of about six feet.

Though the bullets cut through the front of his coat, pierced the folds under his arms, and sang their death song under his very nose, Berkline was untouched. He did not dodge, but lowered his head and took a still firmer grip on the collars of the nearest captives, all the time impelling them mightily toward the nearing lice station.

Hearing the clamor and shots, Sergt. Lingo, snatched a small sized Colt cannon from a shelf and dashed to the rescue. Holding his weapon by the barrel and using it after the manner of a flail, he waded into the melee and his added weight speedily turned the scale in favor of the law. The Mexicans were thrust into jail and a large brass key turned on them forthwith.

ARNOLD REPORT.

in their loading and unloading operations until the result is three or four crowded cars on a route followed by a number of only partly loaded ones. As a rule the schedule provides for a liberal number of seats, but the Main street difficulties introduce delays which reduces the car supply just at a time when the system should be working at its maximum capacity.

This description is not intended as a criticism of the designers of the arrangement or of the present management as it is apparent that the tracks are taking care of more cars than they were intended to serve at the time the terminal was put in operation—some seven years ago. The present situation is plainly due to the remarkable growth of the city and district which is developing much more traffic than was anticipated.

PERMANENT RELIEF.

The solution which will provide permanent relief from present Main street conditions will be an arrangement which will eliminate the interurban system entirely from the grade of city streets, either by means of a subway, open cut, or elevated structure—as discussed at greater length in another part of this report.

This permanent arrangement, however, will require considerable time, perhaps several years, for designing, financing and building, and therefore, there is need for a temporary expedient which will at once relieve the present transit situation, which is now almost intolerable and which is apidly growing worse.

SAN PEDRO STREET.

Of several streets parallel to Main street which might be used for relief tracks, San Pedro street, with its recently opened extension to Aliso street, is by far the most available and desirable. A study of the map will show how the cars of the northern division of the interurban system could be diverted from Aliso street down San Pedro street to Sixth, and thence to a terminal, using the lower floor of the present Pacific Electric Building.

The difference in levels between the front of this building on Main street and its rear entrance on Los Angeles street fortunately allows for a very convenient rearrangement, continuing the use of the present waiting room, which can be enlarged by opening the restaurant room in the rear.

Seven tracks with a capacity of three cars on each track can be supplied with ample loading and unloading platforms on the lower level and the two tracks on the upper level with their platforms can also be retained. Additional waiting rooms can be secured by using some of the upper level space now devoted to express office of the basement, which is not being used for any purpose at present, into a concourse.

The new arrangement will provide two improvements which will be greatly appreciated. Storage tracks will be possible on which cars can be held in readiness to take the place of delayed cars—in other words, to act as a reservoir which will allow irregularities in the schedule to be removed and the cars run practically on time. The use of more than two terminal tracks will allow the cars on various routes to be loaded slowly and it will be possible for the passengers to wait for the leaving time, seated in the cars, instead of being herded in the standing room before the gates as at present. Speed and comfort, two of the essentials for good transportation, will thus be greatly increased by the proposed changes.

The local Watts and El Molino cars could still continue to run on Main street, as at present, transferring passengers to the through or express cars at Aliso and San Pedro streets, thus maintaining the rights of the Pacific Electric Company, on Main street pending the development of a permanent terminal solution. It may be found that during the non-rush hours the other unlimited cars could also continue to use Main street, but all of the rush hour extras and the flyers during the day, should leave the lower terminal in order to secure the advantage of leaving exactly on time and passing out of the city with but little delay from street traffic and car congestion. It will be found desirable to make a cross-connection between the tracks of the Pacific Electric Company on Main street, and on Sixth street, so that cars can be transferred conveniently, and in addition allow the El Molino cars to be run to the Arcade Depot.

The elimination of a large number of interurban cars from Main street, particularly during the rush hours, would at once remove the fundamental cause of considerable poor service during that time on the local surface system, and it should be impossible for the Los Angeles Railway Company, to re-route some of its cars so as to do away with the many curves at street intersections in the downtown district. The lessening of the noise on Main street, by decreasing the number of heavy interurban cars crossing the special work at each street crossing, will not be the least advantage of the proposed plan.

As the suggested use of San Pedro street is only intended to be temporary, pending the working of a more permanent arrangement, and is apparently the most feasible solution of the present difficulties, some way should be found by the city and the railway companies to bring about this result.

FIRST SECTION CITY ROAD.

The double track on San Pedro street from Aliso to Seventh street may be considered as the first section With a connection to the tracks of the Pacific Electric at Aliso street on one end, and at Sixth street, and at Seventh street, on the other, and a possible connection to the Southern Pacific at Third street, carload freight could be delivered and collected to and from any spur or siding along its length, thus opening up at once a centrally located section nearly a mile in length, particularly adapted for warehouse and factory purposes.

The city should control this important main line in the heart of the industrial district as it has spur track possibilities, which will permit railroad connections throughout a large territory, which is now dependent upon teams and trucks for its freight service. It will be apparent that San Pedro street is in a position to serve both the passenger and freight traffic of the city, the former at once, and the latter more and more as the industrial establishments locate along the lines of the main track and its branches. Eventually, as the passenger business is withdrawn from the surface, the freight use of the tracks will become more pronounced. While the interurban cars are using the tracks the freight should be hauled largely at night. The crossing of this entire industrial district by viaducts for street cars, and vehicle traffic is discussed in another part of this report.

The building of the tracks on San Pedro street, and their temporary use for interurban passenger traffic is an important step toward the development of a comprehensive traction programme, and the consummation of this improvement at this time would be the greatest encouragement toward the working out of a satisfactory permanent plan.

FINANCE AND FRANCHISE.

The possible joint use of the proposed San Pedro street tracks by the interurban electric system and by the municipal railroad, will require some franchise arrangement quite out of the ordinary, and the temporary use of the tracks by the Pacific Electric Company during the period of securing a private right of way makes the situation unique, and without precedent.

There are apparently two financial and franchise plans by means of which these proposed tracks on San Pedro street could be built.

One plan, which might be called "The immediate municipal ownership plan," would be for the city to construct the tracks with its own funds as a part of the proposed municipal railroad and enter into an arrangement with the Pacific Electric Company for the use of these tracks on a rental basis.

The other plan, which may be termed "the ultimate municipal ownership plan," would be for the Pacific Electric Co., to build tracks under an agreement that the city is to have the right to purchase the tracks at any time at actual cost, and that can be provided by means of a vated or sub-surface structure, company will withdraw its interu cars from the street surface. latter plan would practically b indeterminate franchise, whi sometimes called a "tenure d good behavior," and is a form of mit for public utilities which is idly growing in favor, as it bines the advantages of both the term franchise and the long franchise without their objection features.

It is not the intention of this liminary technical report to discu length the comparative merits of two plans. With proper precau either form of agreement will ac plish the result desired, and that relieve the Main street congestio allowing the use of San Pedro for the interurban cars as a tempo expedient pending the development a permanent and independent ter for the Pacific Electric system. any agreement would not be a manent one, it would seem that result to be accomplished is of gr importance than the method ado to secure the improvement.

If any further arguments as to "public necessity and demand" such an arrangement are needed append herewith several photogra showing the daily congestion of upon Main street. In my study the transportation system of the rious cities in the country, I found nothing worse, or a situ which apparently can be corre any more readily.
